INTRODUCTION TO THE CRIMINAL STATISTICS FOR 1913.

The total number of persons tried for indictable offences in 1913 was 63,269, as against 67,530 in the previous year, and an annual average of 66,301 during the five years period from 1908 to 1912. With the exception of the year 1911, the figures for 1913 are the lowest since 1907, but during the period of seven years there have been considerable fluctuations, and the total for 1913 is still higher than the total for any year prior to 1908.

The number of persons dealt with for non-indictable offences has risen from 663,139 in 1912 to 680,290 in 1913, the annual average for the five years, 1908 to 1912, being 653,698. The increase in 1913 was mainly under the headings of offences in relation to motor cars and bicycles, drunkenness, police regulations, Sunday trading, and gaming.

STATISTICS OF CRIMINAL COURTS IN 1913.

Assizes and Quarter Sessions.—The results of the proceedings in Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions may be briefly stated as follows:—Of the 12,511 persons who were brought up for trial, 227 were not actually tried—in 4 cases the prosecution was not proceeded with, in 194 the Grand Jury returned “no bill” and the proceedings thereupon came to an end, and in 29 cases the jury found that the accused was insane and unfit to plead. There remain 12,284 persons actually tried, of whom 2,089 were acquitted, and 10,165 convicted, while 30 persons were found “guilty but insane” and were ordered to be detained during His Majesty’s pleasure.

Court of Criminal Appeal.—There were 608 applications for leave to appeal: leave was granted in 111 cases. In addition there were 33 appeals on grounds involving questions of law, seven with the certificate of the Judge at Trial, and six appeals against sentences of preventive detention, making a total of 157 appeals for hearing as against 114 in the preceding year. In 73 cases the conviction or sentence was affirmed, in 79 cases the conviction or sentence was quashed (including one case in which conviction for another offence was substituted, and 47 cases in which sentences were reduced), and five appeals were abandoned.

Courts of Summary Jurisdiction.—The number of persons tried by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction in 1913 was 731,048, of whom 50,758 were charged with indictable offences and 680,290 with non-indictable offences.

The number of persons who were discharged was 75,291, while 85,810 were dealt with without conviction after the charge was proved, and 569,947 were convicted.

The 85,810 cases where the charges were proved, but in which orders were made without conviction, consisted of 58,439 cases in which the charge was dismissed; 14,165 in which recognizances were ordered with or without sureties under Section 1 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907; 10,377 cases in which, in addition, probation orders were made under Section 2 of the same Act; 2,821 in which children under 14 were committed to industrial schools; and 8 in which children were committed to the custody of relatives, &c.

The 569,947 persons convicted were dealt with as follows:—

Sentenced to:—

Imprisonment	...	...	...	58,198
Detention in Place of Detention	...	...	...	32
Detention in Inebriate Reformatory	...	...	...	270
Detention in Reformatory School	...	...	...	1,143

Otherwise disposed of	...	...	...	1,942

As regards proceedings not strictly criminal in character, Courts of Summary Jurisdiction made 15,853 orders for sureties to keep the peace or to be of good behaviour, 6,914 orders for the maintenance of illegitimate children, 7,959 orders for the maintenance of wives, 2,884 orders for the maintenance of children in reformatory and industrial schools, &c., and 4,465 orders under the Poor Law Acts for the maintenance of families, relatives, &c. Orders were made for the payment of wages in 3,186 cases, for dealing with nuisances under the Public Health Acts, &c. in 3,173 cases, and for possession of small tenements in 18,179 cases.

The number of appeals against convictions by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction was 127. In 70 cases the conviction was affirmed (with modification of sentence in 24 cases); in 54 cases the conviction was quashed, and in the remaining 3 cases the appeal was abandoned.

Juvenile Courts.—The total number of persons brought before Juvenile Courts in 1913 was 37,520, viz., 19,969 children, 14,693 young persons, and 2,858 persons aged above 16. Deducting the latter persons and adding 756 children and 2,923 young persons who were dealt with by ordinary Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, either because they were charged jointly with adults or because they were supposed to be above 16, we get a total of 38,341 juvenile offenders (20,725 children and 17,616 young persons). This total is little more than 5 per cent. of the whole number of persons proceeded against for criminal offences.

Of the 37,220 persons brought before Juvenile Courts (omitting 300 who were not tried summarily), 4,358 (or 12 per cent.) were acquitted, orders without conviction were made against 17,648 persons (or 47 per cent.), and only 15,214 persons (or 41 per cent.) were convicted. The corresponding figures for ordinary Courts of Summary Jurisdiction were :—Total number of defendants 693,828, acquitted 70,933 (or 10 per cent.), orders without conviction 68,162 (or 10 per cent.), and convicted 554,733 (or 80 per cent.).

Of the 17,648 defendants who were proved guilty but not "convicted," 9,529 were discharged (in some cases being ordered to pay damages or costs), 2,447 were ordered to enter into recognizances, 4,465 were placed under the supervision of probation officers, 1,200 were sent to industrial schools, and 7 were placed in the care of relatives, &c.

There were 52 persons sentenced to imprisonment, but they consisted almost wholly of adults who were dealt with in Juvenile Courts because they were charged jointly with youthful offenders,* and only 32 youthful offenders were sentenced to confinement in places of detention; 1,082 were committed to reformatory schools, 2,072 males charged with indictable offences were ordered to be whipped, and 11,805 (or 78 per cent. of the number convicted) were sentenced to pay fines. In 1,957 cases the fine was ordered to be paid by the parent or guardian of the defendant.

Probation Orders.—During the year 1913 probation orders were made in respect of 678 persons convicted on indictment, 7,543 persons tried summarily for indictable offences, and 2,836 persons charged with non-indictable offences, making a total of 11,057, as against 11,193 in 1912.

Only 603 persons, equivalent to 5 per cent. of the persons against whom probation orders were made in 1913, were called up for sentence during the year. Of this number 115 were discharged, 150 were dealt with for fresh offences, and 338 were sentenced or otherwise disposed of (including 168 sentenced to imprisonment) in connection with their original offence.

The sexes and ages of the offenders put on probation and the percentage of males at each period of age were :—

Age.	Number.			Percentage of Males.
	Total.	Males.	Female.
Under 12 years	1,121	1,042	79	93
12 to 14	1,512	1,356	156	90

EXTRADITION AND FUGITIVE OFFENDERS.

During the year 1913 there were 66 applications for extradition received from foreign Governments, including 22 applications from Germany and 13 from France. In 46 cases the accused person was extradited. The offences included 24 cases of larceny and embezzle-

* Children under 14 may not be sentenced to imprisonment nor committed to prison in default of payment of fines, damages, or costs. Nor may young persons aged 14 to 16 years be so dealt with, unless the Court certifies that the young person is of so unruly a character that he cannot be detained in a place of detention, or that he is of so depraved a character that he is not a fit person to be so detained. (Children Act, 1908, sec. 102.)

ment, 15 cases of fraud or false pretences, and 19 cases of forgery. The applications by the British Government for extradition to the United Kingdom numbered 18, of which 12 were successful.

Under the Fugitive Offenders Act, 6 persons were sent back from this country for trial in the British Colonies, and 7 fugitives from justice were brought back to England.

PUBLIC PROSECUTIONS.

The number of prosecutions undertaken by the Director of Public Prosecutions was 486. There were 108 capital cases, 198 prosecutions for Government Departments, and 136 prosecutions at the instances of judges, magistrates, police, &c. The number of persons prosecuted was 623, of whom 552 were charged with indictable offences, including 117 persons prosecuted for murder, 52 for incest, 61 for other offences against the person, 88 for frauds of various descriptions, 32 for bankruptcy offences, 64 for other offences against property, 107 for offences in connection with the currency, and 31 for other felonies and misdemeanours. The remaining 71 persons were prosecuted for various non-indictable offences. Of the 623 persons prosecuted 446 were convicted, and 19 were found "guilty but insane."

POLICE STATISTICS.

Indictable Offences.—The number of indictable offences reported to the police or otherwise coming within their cognizance was 97,933. For these offences 60,633 persons were arrested, while 8,632 were dealt with by way of summons.

Of the 69,265 persons prosecuted, 10,755 were discharged, including 5,051 who were tried summarily and acquitted; orders were made without conviction in respect of 18,587 persons against whom the charges were proved; 27,120 were tried summarily and convicted; 12,557 were sent for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions; and 246 were otherwise disposed of, being for the most part bound over to come up for further examination if required, or the proceedings were adjourned sine die.

Bail was allowed in the case of 3,166 or 25 per cent. of the 12,557 persons committed for trial.

Non-Indictable Offences.—Of the 687,600 persons charged with non-indictable offences, 297,567 were apprehended and 390,033 proceeded against by summons.

Persons under Police Supervision.—The number of persons who were under the supervision of the police during the year 1913, either as part of a sentence imposed on conviction, or as holders of licences under the Penal Servitude Acts, was 3,113, or, allowing for persons who have resided during the year in two police districts, about 1,984.

Habitual Criminals and Houses of Bad Character.—The police estimate that on the first Tuesday in April, 1913, there were 3,589 habitual criminals at large, including 2,988 thieves, 431 receivers of stolen property, and 170 other criminals. These figures include some, but not all, of the supervisees. The number of houses of bad character was estimated at 1,093, of which 349 were houses of receivers of stolen goods, and 744 were houses frequented by thieves.

CORONERS' INQUESTS.

Out of the total number of 36,801 deaths investigated by Coroners' juries, 14,226 were found to be due to natural causes, including old age, 15,213 were accidental, 245 were still-births, and in 2,137 cases open verdicts were returned. There were 3,475 verdicts of suicide, as against 3,605 in the previous year.

Verdicts of wilful murder were returned in 194 cases as against 192 in 1912. In 50 of these cases the inquests were held upon the bodies of newly-born children. In 39 cases the persons against whom verdicts of wilful murder were returned committed suicide at the time of the murder. In addition to the 194 cases of wilful murder there were 99 verdicts of manslaughter, making altogether a total of 293 culpable homicides.

A Supplementary Table—XXXI (A)—has been inserted to show the results of an inquiry concerning deaths from burns caused by the ignition of flannellette clothing or otherwise.

The total number of such deaths was 1,431 (483 males and 948 females), and 619 of the deceased persons were under five years of age. The number of deaths attributed to the ignition of flannellette clothing, or flannellette with other clothing, was 548. The ignition of clothing other than flannellette caused 615 deaths, and 268 deaths were due to other causes.

PENAL STATISTICS.

Prison Returns.—The returns from the prisons show that the total number of convicted prisoners received into prison during the year 1913 was 139,060, exclusive of 292 prisoners convicted by Courts-Martial. Of this number, 8,104 came from Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions, and 130,956 from Courts of Summary Jurisdiction. There were 28 persons received under sentence of death, and 815 sentences of penal servitude, nearly all the remainder being sentences of imprisonment. The number of convicted prisoners received under sentence of imprisonment without the option of a fine was 61,975, while 75,152 (or more than half the total number of convicted prisoners received) were imprisoned in default of payment of fines, and 341 in default of finding sureties. 90,188 prisoners were sentenced to hard labour, and 47,280 to imprisonment without hard labour. The proportion of persons sentenced to pay fines who were imprisoned in default of payment was 14·95 per cent. The percentages for the years 1909, 1910, 1911, and 1912 were 20·15, 19·40, 18·15, and 17·12 respectively.

The Court, on passing sentence of imprisonment without hard labour, may direct a convicted prisoner to be treated either as an offender of the first division or as an offender of the second division. If no direction is given he is to be treated as an offender of the third division. Thirty-one were ordered to be placed in the first division, and 1,609 in the second.

Thirty-four per cent. of the sentences of imprisonment were for one week and under, and nearly 25 per cent. were for more than one week and not more than two, while less than 1 per cent. were for periods longer than one year.

No less than 52,149 persons out of a total of 139,060 admitted to prison were convicted of drunkenness, 15,364 of simple larceny, 8,505 of other indictable offences, 8,622 were convicted summarily of assaults, 15,871 of begging and sleeping out, 8,627 of offences against police regulations, 8,063 of prostitution, and 2,082 of misbehaviour as paupers.

The criminal prisoners received in prison during the year included about 16,600 persons received on remand or committal for trial who were afterwards discharged or acquitted.

There were also 14,805 non-criminal prisoners received, including 779 surety prisoners and 13,934 debtor prisoners. County Court debtors numbered 5,759, and 8,133 were committed by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, including 2,379 for non-payment of rates and 5,247 for non-payment of maintenance.

Borstal Institutions.—Five hundred and nineteen persons (471 males and 48 females)—512 sentenced by Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions and 7 sentenced under Section 2 of the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, by Summary Courts to Borstal Detention—were admitted, on conviction, into Borstal Institutions. As compared with 1912 there was a decrease of 10 males and 2 females. One hundred and seventy-five were convicted of burglary and similar offences, and 306 of larceny and fraud. The periods of detention ordered were one year 14, more than one year and not more than two 272, more than two years and not more than three 233. The total included 424 persons who had been previously convicted.

Reformatory Schools.—In 1913 there were 1,224 youthful offenders admitted, on conviction, to reformatory schools, of whom 14 were sent by Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions, and 1,210 by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction.

Industrial Schools.—The total number of children admitted to ordinary industrial schools was 2,933. Of this number, 820 were charged with crime; the remainder were mainly children found begging or wandering without a home, or not under parental control, or not attending elementary schools.

In addition to the above figures, which relate only to ordinary industrial schools for long terms of detention, 903 boys were sent to be detained for briefer periods to "short term" schools, and 485 boys and 292 girls, most of whom were truants, were admitted to day industrial schools.

Places of Detention.—The following table gives the figures for receptions into Places of Detention:—

Criminal Lunatics.—The number of criminal lunatics received into asylums during 1913 was 218, of whom 59 were found insane by verdict of jury, 14 were certified insane while under detention on remand or awaiting trial, and 145 were certified insane while serving sentence in prison. One hundred and two of the criminal lunatics were received into Broadmoor, Parkhurst, and Rampton Criminal Lunatic Asylums; the remainder, mostly persons serving short sentences who would soon become pauper lunatics, were received into County and Borough Asylums.

The total number of criminal lunatics under detention at the end of the year was 1,164, of whom no less than 487 had been charged with murder; 457 persons had been detained upwards of 10 years.

Habitual Drunkards.—Three hundred and ten persons were received into inebriate reformatories, of whom 217 were women. Twenty-one persons were convicted of indictable offences with habitual drunkenness (in 15 cases the offence was cruelty to children), and the remainder were convicted of habitual drunkenness only. The maximum term of detention of three years was imposed in 224 cases. Only one of the persons was under 21 years of age. Three hundred and seventy-six persons were discharged from inebriate reformatories during the year, of whom 40 were released on licence.

THE PREROGATIVE OF MERCY.

Out of 28 sentences of death, 12 were commuted to penal servitude for life.

Six free pardons were granted; six sentences of penal servitude and imprisonment were commuted to less severe punishments; remission of various terms of imprisonment and other punishments were granted to 185 persons; while 25 convicts were released on licence in special cases at earlier dates than those allowed by the ordinary regulations. The requirement of reporting to the police was remitted in respect of 95 persons liable to police supervision.

Excluding the last class, the total number of cases in which the prerogative of mercy was exercised was 245. In 91 cases the remission was granted on medical grounds, and in 110 cases on such grounds for mitigation as youth or provocation. Seven persons were released on grounds affecting the original conviction.

NOTES TO THE COMPARATIVE TABLES.

These Tables have been compiled from the annual Tables in the previous volumes of Judicial Statistics from 1894 to 1912, and from the Tables for 1913 in the present volume.

The figures are taken from the following Tables :—

Table AB, Numbers of all Persons tried for indictable offences, obtained by adding the figures of Tables A and B.

Table C, Numbers tried for non-indictable offences by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, from Section B of Table XI, column 2.

In each Table the headings for offences for which there were no figures are omitted.

Table E shows the average figures, both actual and in proportion to population, (a) of prosecutions for all crimes and offences since the establishment of the Judicial Statistics in 1857, and (b) of the crimes (indictable offences) reported to the police during the same period. The non-indictable offences are in this Table grouped in two divisions—those that are definitely criminal in character, and those which may be regarded as “non-criminal.” The division of non-indictable offences into “criminal” and “non-criminal” is discussed at page 22 of the Criminal Statistics for 1898.

In Table E the proportions are calculated on the population for the middle year of each period of years, e.g., those for 1909 to 1913 on the estimated population for 1911, those for 1904 to 1908 on the estimated population for 1906.

NOTES ON CRIMINAL COURTS AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

In England the chief Courts for the trial of criminal cases are the Assizes (including the Central Criminal Court) and the Courts of Quarter Sessions.

The King's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice has also power to try criminal cases. The number so tried is very small, and there were only two cases in 1913.

In certain exceptional cases a Court held under Special Commission tries cases in the same way as a Court of Assize. No instances of this have occurred for several years.

Peers charged with treason or felony have the right to be tried by the House of Lords. One case was so tried in 1901.

ASSIZES.

The Assizes are the Courts held by His Majesty's Judges, when they go under Royal Commissions on Circuit for the administration of justice. They are held three times a year for each county, in certain cases four times. The Central Criminal Court is a court with similar powers sitting in London, and usually holding twelve sessions in the year. In law the term "Assizes" includes the sessions of the Central Criminal Court (Interpretation Act, 1889, section 13 (5)); and it is so used in these Statistics.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

A Court of Quarter Sessions exists in each County, and in those Boroughs to which a separate Court has been granted by the Crown. A list of these Courts will be found in Table VII. The Court consists in Counties of the Justices for the County assembled in Quarter Session, in Boroughs of the Recorder of the Borough, a legal officer of high standing. Its sessions are held at least four times a year, sometimes more frequently, e.g., in London there were 24 sittings in the year 1913. The Court has powers co-ordinate with the Assizes, but less extensive; all cases which can be tried at Quarter Sessions can be tried also at Assizes, but certain offences, such as treason, murder, perjury, libel, can be tried only at Assizes.*

All cases tried at Assizes and Quarter Sessions are tried on an indictment† presented by a Grand Jury, and the trial in every case without exception is by Jury.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEAL.‡

Under the provisions of the Criminal Appeal Act, 1907, persons convicted on indictment may (subject to the restrictions and regulations imposed by the Act), appeal against the conviction or sentence to the Court of Criminal Appeal. Statistics of the appeals decided in 1913 are given in Table X.

COURTS OF SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

The inferior Criminal Courts for the trial of minor cases are the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction or Police Courts. In these trial is without Jury, and the Magistrates decide both as to law and to facts; their decisions are subject in most cases to appeal, though in practice, appeals are rare (Table XV).

A Court of Summary Jurisdiction consists ordinarily of the Justices of a Division of the County or of a Borough sitting in Petty Sessions. In most cases the presence of two Justices at least is necessary for the exercise of the powers of the Court; but in London and large towns there are Stipendiary Magistrates, who sit alone and have all the powers of two Justices. In certain other cases a Court of Summary Jurisdiction may consist of one Justice only, but its powers are then extremely limited.

In addition to hearing and determining all minor Criminal cases, the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction conduct the preliminary investigation in those cases which are afterwards tried at Assizes and Quarter Sessions. If they find there is a prima facie case they commit the accused to prison to await his trial, or bind him over in recognizances (usually with sureties) to appear at the Assizes or Sessions.

Courts of Summary Jurisdiction have also civil jurisdiction in certain matters. They also exercise certain powers in matters not strictly criminal, but closely allied to their criminal jurisdiction, of which particulars are given in Table XIV (Quasi-Criminal Proceedings).

* The Liberty of Peterborough has Commissions of Oyer and Terminer and General Gaol Delivery as well as the usual Commission of the Peace, and the Justices can therefore try offences not within the ordinary jurisdiction of Quarter Sessions.

† An inquisition of a Coroner's Jury is equivalent to an indictment, but cases tried on an inquisition are very rare.

‡ All jurisdiction and authority under the Crown Cases Act, 1848, in relation to questions of law, is now vested in the Court of Criminal Appeal (Criminal Appeal Act, 1907, sec. 20 (4)).

INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

As in Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions the procedure is by indictment, the offences tried by these courts are called "indictable offences." All the ancient Common Law Offences are indictable, and so are all statutory offences unless the statute expressly provides some other mode of trial.

NON-INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

In distinction from these indictable offences, offences originally within the jurisdiction of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction are in these Tables designated "non-indictable." These are all, like the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction themselves, created by statute; and in every case they are expressly declared by the statute to be triable summarily.

INDICTABLE OFFENCES TRIED SUMMARILY.

In certain cases offences which originally were tried on indictment only may now be tried summarily. This is done under sections 10, 11, 12, and 13 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879,* which superseded some earlier and more restricted enactments on the same subject. These offences appear in the Tables of the Proceedings of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction in a special section headed "Indictable Offences tried Summarily." In the Police Tables of indictable offences the cases heard summarily are shown in separate columns.

NON-INDICTABLE OFFENCES TRIED AS IF INDICTABLE.

On the other hand certain offences ordinarily tried summarily may in exceptional cases be sent for trial at Assizes or Quarter Sessions "as if they were indictable." This class includes Assault (Offences against the Person Act, 1861, sec. 46), all offences, other than assaults, punishable with more than 3 months' imprisonment (Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, sec. 17), and some offences created by recent Acts, such as the Conspiracy, and Protection of Property Act, 1875, the Merchandise Marks Act, 1887, the Witnesses (Public Enquiries) Protection Act, 1892, the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1906, &c. These offences being ordinarily tried summarily are not separated from the other non-indictable offences in the Tables of the Proceedings of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, and in the Tables of Non-indictable Offences; but such cases as are actually sent for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions appear under appropriate heads (chiefly Assault, Intimidation, and Cruelty to Children) in the Assize and Quarter Sessions Tables, and in the Police Tables of Indictable Offences.

PROCEEDINGS AT ASSIZES AND QUARTER SESSIONS.

The following are points which may be useful as explaining the headings of the columns in Tables I to V and VII.

At Assizes and Quarter Sessions the proceedings are commenced by the preferring of a bill of indictment or draft indictment before the Grand Jury. If the Grand Jury think that there is no prima facie case against the person accused they return the draft indictment marked "no true bill," and the case is at an end. Otherwise they find the indictment or formal accusation on which the prisoner is tried. The prisoner is then arraigned or formally accused before the petty jury; and at this stage the question of the prisoner's sanity at the time of arraignment may be investigated by a jury. If found insane and unfit to plead he is not tried but is ordered to be detained during His Majesty's pleasure. Otherwise he is tried by the Jury.

On trial by Jury three verdicts are possible in ordinary cases: acquittal, conviction, or a special verdict to the effect that the prisoner was guilty of the act charged, but was insane at the time of committing it. If the latter is given, he is ordered to be detained during His Majesty's pleasure. On conviction, the Judge passes sentence, which may be death,† penal servitude, imprisonment, detention in a Borstal Institution (for offenders between 16 and 21 years of age), detention in an Inebriate Reformatory, detention in a Reformatory School (for offenders between 12 and 16 years of age), fine, whipping, or custody in a place of detention (for offenders under 16 years of age); or the Court may order the prisoner to enter into recognizances to come up for judgment when so required, and, in addition, may place the offender under the supervision of a probation officer—an order to this effect being termed a probation order. The Court may also order children under 14 years of age to be detained in an Industrial School.

* Libel may also in certain cases be tried summarily (44 & 45 Vict. c. 60, s. 5). The powers of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction for the trial of indictable offences have been further extended by the Inebriates Act, 1898, the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1899, and the Children Act, 1908.

† The offences for which judgment of death may be pronounced by civil courts are murder, treason, piracy with violence, and arson of His Majesty's ships, arsenals, dockyards, &c. For the two last-named offences the Court may order the judgment of death to be entered of record, which has the same effect as if the judgment had been duly pronounced and the offender reprieved by the Court.

ASSIZES AND QUARTER SESSIONS.

NOTES.

(a.) The titles of offences (Column 1) are much condensed. The fuller titles, and the offences comprised under each head, will be found in Appendix A on page 163.

In Tables III and IV offences not triable at Quarter Sessions are omitted, but the numbering of the heads is the same as in Tables I, II, and V.

(b.) The Tables show the numbers of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where therefore any person is prosecuted at the same Assizes or Sessions for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation: and the rule followed is to select that for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage—to trial if there were several indictments, to conviction and sentence if prisoner was tried on several charges. If there are several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence (as measured by the maximum penalty allowed by the law) appears in the Tables.

(c.) Where, in addition to the offence thus selected for detailed tabulation, the same person is prosecuted for other offences of a distinct character and charged in separate indictments, the number of these additional charges is given in Columns 26 to 28 of Tables I, III, and V; Column 26 giving the total number of such charges, Column 27 the number resulting in convictions, and Column 28 the number for which separate sentences (not concurrent with those in Columns 10 to 20) are passed. Only distinct offences charged in separate indictments are included in these columns: additional indictments merely varying the form of the charge, and additional charges appearing as counts in the same indictment, are excluded.

An exception is made, however, in a case of a charge under Part II of the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, or Section 1 of the Inebriates Act, 1898. In the former case, if there is no conviction on the count of being an habitual criminal, or no sentence is passed therefor, no record appears in these statistics; but if the prisoner is convicted and sentenced on the charge, the sentence of preventive detention appears in Column 21 as an additional order made on his conviction of the specific offence which has led to his indictment as an habitual criminal.

In the case of a person convicted and sentenced as an habitual drunkard under Section 1 of the Inebriates Act, 1898, the sentence of detention in an Inebriate Reformatory is given in Column 15, whether it is in substitution for or in addition to a sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment. In the latter case the sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment does not appear in these Tables, but particulars are given in Table L.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted for another (e.g., committed for murder, and convicted of manslaughter) the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) All the Tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only cases finally determined within the year. Cases not entirely disposed of within the year (e.g., tried, but sentence postponed) are held over for the next year's Tables.

When, however, the Epiphany Quarter Sessions commence before the end of the year, any cases disposed of on or before 31st December are included in the Return for the following year, so as to give four quarters uniformly in each year.

Tables I, III, and V.

(f.) Columns 2, 3, and 4 ("Numbers for Trial") include only such cases as actually come before the Assizes or Quarter Sessions. Persons who die, escape from prison, abscond while on bail, or are removed to an asylum before trial are not included.

(g.) Column 13 ("Imprisonment") does not include the sentences of imprisonment which sometimes precede sentences of detention in an Inebriate Reformatory, nor does it include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine or in default of finding securities.

(h.) Columns 17 and 23 ("Fine") include all cases where payment of a fine is imposed as the sentence or part of the sentence whether the fine is actually paid or not.

(i.) Columns 18, 19, and 25 ("Recognizances") include cases where recognizances are required whether with or without sureties, and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(j.) Columns 21 to 25 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a young person convicted of larceny is sentenced to be imprisoned and whipped, the imprisonment appears in Column 13, the whipping in Column 24.

(k.) Columns 26 to 28. See note (c) above.

Table VI.

(l.) The counties in this Table are, as regards their area and boundaries, the administrative counties; but Lincoln, Northampton, Cambridge, Suffolk, Sussex, and Southampton are each treated as one county, and county boroughs are included in the counties in which they are situated geographically. York is included wholly in the North Riding of Yorkshire, and Stockport in Cheshire.

Table VII.

(m.) Where several persons are charged with the same offence, this is entered as one case in Column 2, but as several persons in Column 3.

(n.) Where there are several charges against the same person, this is entered as one case in Column 2. In selecting the offences for tabulation and giving the results of proceedings, the same rules are followed as in Tables I, III, and V.

Table VIII.

(o.) In this Table the titles of offences which do not occur during the year are omitted, but the numbering is the same as in the preceding Tables. This note applies to Table IX also.

(p.) Children who have not completed their fourteenth year are regarded as under 14, and are entered in Column 5. Column 6 includes all persons who have completed 14 years, but not completed 16 years, and similarly with the other columns.

^a Hertfordshire has only one Commission of the Peace, but separate Courts of Quarter Sessions are held for the two divisions of the County (37 & 38 Vict. c. 45).

^b The jurisdiction of the Dover and Sandwich Quarter Sessions extends to such members of these two Cinque Ports as have no separate Courts of Quarter Sessions.

^c Lancashire was divided for Assize purposes by an Order in Council, dated 4th May, 1884. The Northern Division comprises the Hundreds of Lonsdale, Amounderness, Leyland and Blackburn, Salford Division comprises Salford Hundred, and West Derby Division comprises West Derby Hundred.

^d Each of the three Parts of Lincolnshire has a separate Commission of the Peace.^e The Central Criminal Court having concurrent jurisdiction with the Court of Quarter Sessions, all criminal cases arising within the City are, as a matter of convenience, tried at the former Court.^f This Court is still held, but no prisoners are tried, and the proceedings are purely formal.^g The Soke or Liberty of Peterborough has had a separate Court of Quarter Sessions since the reign of Edward III, and in addition to the usual Commission of the Peace there are Commissions of Oyer and Terminer and of General Gaol Delivery.

COURTS OF SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

NOTES.

Tables XI, XII, and XIII.

(a.) These Tables include only offences tried summarily. All Indictable Offences where the Court does not actually assume the power to determine the case summarily are excluded. Further, these Tables include only cases where the proceedings are criminal—that is, lead if successful to a conviction. There are a large number of cases which are quasi-criminal in character, but where the procedure is by complaint, leading, not to a conviction, but to the making of an order. These are provided for in a separate Table—No. XIV.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where therefore any person is prosecuted at the same time for several offences one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in Tables I to V. (See note (b) page 24.)

(c.) The offences included under each of the titles of offences in Column 1 are stated in Appendix B on page 170.

Table XI.

(d.) Table XI corresponds to Tables I, III, and V, and (as regards length of sentences) to Tables II and IV.

(e.) Columns 4 to 6 include all persons dealt with under Sections 1 and 2 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907, the entries being made as follows :—

Column 4.—Cases in which, although the charge is proved, the Court, without proceeding to conviction, makes an order dismissing the information or charge (Section 1 (1) (i) of Act).

Column 5.—Similar cases, in which an order is made discharging the offender conditionally on his entering into a recognizance with or without sureties, to be of good behaviour, and to appear for conviction and sentence when called upon (Section 1 (1) (ii) of Act), but where no probation order is made.

Column 6.—Cases in which a probation order is made, i.e., in which the order for recognizances contains a condition placing the offender under supervision (Section 2 of Act).

(f.) Column 7, "Committal to Industrial School," includes only those committals to Industrial Schools where an offence is charged—i.e., committals under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908, Section 12 of the Elementary Education Act, 1876, Section 5 (3) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903, and Articles 8 and 9 of the Order in Council of the 2nd April, 1909, relating to Day Industrial Schools. Other committals to Industrial Schools where the proceedings are not criminal appear in Table XIV and also in Table XLV.

(g.) Column 8 includes committals to custody of relatives or other persons, made under Section 58 (7) of the Children Act, 1908, in the cases of children charged with offences punishable with imprisonment, i.e., cases in which a committal to an Industrial School could be made under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.

(h.) Columns 10 to 16, "Imprisonment," do not include the preliminary imprisonment in Inebriate Reformatory cases, nor terms of imprisonment in default of paying fine or of finding sureties.

(i.) Column 18, "Reformatory School," contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a Reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received in Reformatories are given in Table XLIV.

(j.) Columns 20 and 24, "Fine," include all cases where a fine is imposed whether the fine is paid or not. The number of persons imprisoned in default of payment of fines is given in Table XXXV.

(k.) Column 21, "Recognizances," includes all cases where the defendant is ordered to find sureties upon conviction whether the sureties are found or not. Cases where a person is required to find sureties upon complaint or upon the dismissal of a criminal charge, are included in Table XIV.

Table XII.

Table XIII.

(m.) This Table corresponds to Table VIII. The rule as to ages is the same. The first part gives the ages of all persons convicted summarily of indictable offences, and is exactly on the same basis as Table VIII. The second part, however, contains only persons apprehended and convicted: persons convicted on summons have to be excluded on account of the difficulty of ascertaining their ages.

PROBATION ORDERS.

XVII.—PROBATION ORDERS.—Offences of Persons released under Probation Orders, Sex and Age, and Number subsequently Sentenced.

XVIII.—PROBATION ORDERS.—Number of Persons released under Probation Orders in each Court or Police District, Sex and Age, and Number subsequently Sentenced.

(These Tables include all Probation Orders—those made by Assizes and Quarter Sessions and those made by Courts of Summary Jurisdiction.)

POLICE RETURNS.

NOTES.

Table XXII.

- (a.) Column 1, "Offences."—The titles of the offences are the same as in Tables I to V.
- (b.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes known to Police."—This column includes all crimes reported to the police or otherwise coming to their knowledge within the year whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension takes place within the year or not.
- (c.) If there is a committal or conviction within the year, the table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Failing this, the charge which is named in the summons or warrant or on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.
- (d.) In Columns 3 to 18 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in Tables I to V—the charge resulting in conviction or committal for trial has preference to the others; and subject to this the more serious offence is selected. If there are two or more convictions, that for which the heavier sentence is inflicted is regarded as the more serious. These columns include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's table.
- (e.) Columns 4 and 12, "Discharged," contain cases where the magistrate does not assume power to try the case summarily, but discharges the accused under Section 25 of the Indictable Offences Act, 1848.
- (f.) Columns 5 and 13, "Tried Summarily and Acquitted," contain cases where, after the magistrate has decided to deal summarily with the case, the charge is dismissed or withdrawn.
- (g.) The entries in columns 6 and 14 include the following cases :—
- (i) All cases dealt with under sections 1 and 2 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907, i.e., cases where the charge is held to be proved, but the Court, without convicting, made an order dismissing the charge, or an order for the offender to enter into recognizances, or a probation order.
 - (ii) Children under 14 charged with indictable offences committed to industrial schools under section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.
 - (iii) Committals to custody of relatives and others made under section 58 (7) of the Children Act, 1908, in the case of children charged with indictable offences, i.e., cases in which a committal to an industrial school could be made under section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.
- (h.) Columns 8 and 16, "Committed for Trial and Detained," include all persons committed to prison and places of detention to await trial, whether they are subsequently released on bail or not.
- (i.) Column 19 includes offences excluded from columns 3 to 18 by the rule set forth in note (d.) above, and also offences for which no proceedings were taken because they were taken into account by a Court in passing sentence for another offence.

Table XXIII.

- (j.) The titles of the offences are the same as in Table XI (B), and, as in that Table, only criminal proceedings are included.
- (k.) Notes (c.) and (d.) above apply to this table.
- (l.) Note (g.) above applies to entries in columns 4 and 9 of this table, with the substitution of non-indictable offences for indictable offences.

Tables XXVI and XXVII.

(m.) Table XXVI gives the number of crimes in each Police District, i.e., the number of crimes of the nature of Indictable Offences reported within the year to the Police as committed within the Police District. Table XXVII is the corresponding Table for Non-Indictable Offences: but as in this case no figures of the number of offences committed or reported to the police can be given, the table gives the number of persons proceeded against. In other words Table XXVI gives the distribution in Police Districts of the figures in Column 2 of Table XXII, and Table XXVII the distribution in Police Districts of the figures in Columns 2 and 7 of Table XXIII.

RETURNS FROM THE SEVERAL POLICE DISTRICTS.

TABLE XXIX.—Habitual Criminals at Large and Houses of Bad Character in each District.

The enumeration for the purposes of these Tables was made on the first Tuesday in April, 1913.

Columns 2 to 5, "Number of Habitual Criminals at Large," include persons who are known to engage habitually in crime as their means, or part of their means, of livelihood. Persons previously convicted, but not habitual criminals, are not included. Crime is understood in the sense given to it by the definition in Section 20 of the Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871, viz., any felony and the following misdemeanours:—uttering or possessing counterfeit coin, false pretences, conspiracy to defraud, and possession of house-breaking implements, or any offence under Section 58 of the Larceny Act, 1861.

Column 7, "Houses of Receivers of Stolen Goods," includes houses reasonably suspected of being used for the receipt of stolen goods, whether there is an actual conviction against the occupier or not.

Columns 8, 9, and 10 include all houses where thieves and other habitual criminals regularly resort and meet, whether or not the occupiers of the houses are suspected of wilfully harbouring them, or of complicity in their crimes.

NOTES TO CORONERS' TABLES.

Table XXX.

(a.) Inquests held on several bodies simultaneously (e.g., where several persons have been killed at the same time by a railway accident or a colliery explosion) are in this Table and Table XXXI reckoned, not as one inquest, but as separate inquests on each person.

(b.) Columns 3 and 5 include the inquests on the bodies of children who at the time of death had not completed one year; columns 4 and 6 the inquests on those who had completed one year, but not completed seven years, and similarly in the other columns. Where the actual age is not known, the age is estimated as nearly as possible.

Table XXXI.

(c.) Column 8 ("Disease Aggravated by Neglect by Others") and column 11 ("Want of Attention at Birth") include those cases of neglect which fall short of manslaughter.

(d.) Column 9 ("Want, Exposure, &c.") includes verdicts of death by disease aggravated by want, exposure, or by self-neglect, and column 10 ("Excessive Drinking") includes verdicts of death by disease aggravated by excessive drinking.

(e.) Column 13 ("Death from Natural Causes") includes verdicts of death by disease or death from old age.

(f.) Columns 19 and 20 include inquests on the bodies of children who have died shortly after birth, or who, so far as is known or can be judged, have not lived longer than 24 hours. The cases shown in columns 19 and 20 are also entered according to the cause of death in columns 2 to 18.

TABLE XXXII.—PRISONERS.—Receptions of Prisoners in each Prison.

(a). CRIMINAL PRISONERS.

Note.—This table gives the numbers of each class of criminal prisoners received in each prison during the year. In the case of prisoners committed for trial it is necessary to distinguish those who were and those who were not previously in prison on remand; otherwise in making up the total the same person would, in many cases, count twice—as a remand prisoner and as a prisoner committed for trial. Similarly convicted prisoners have to be divided into those who were and those who were not in detention before trial. The figures of the cases which thus appear a second or a third time are printed in italics, columns 3, 5 and 7. The total of criminal prisoners, column 10, is obtained by adding the figures in the other columns 2, 4, 6, 8 and 9.

The table gives only the first receptions of prisoners on remand, committal for trial, &c. When prisoners are transferred from one prison to another they appear only in the return from the prison in which they are first received, not in that from the prison to which they are removed. Hence no receptions into convict prisons are shown, as all convicts undergo some detention in local prisons before transfer to convict prisons.

The term of detention is reckoned from the date on which the prisoner was committed for trial to the date on which his trial commenced, both these days being included. Where a prisoner after committal to prison was released on bail, the detention is reckoned to the date of release on bail. The number acquitted includes cases in which the Grand Jury returned no bill; in these cases the detention is reckoned to the date of the decision of the Grand Jury.

TABLE XLII.—PREVENTIVE DETENTION.—Particulars of Persons sentenced to Preventive Detention.

Note.—Under the provisions of the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, if a person convicted upon indictment of a crime and sentenced to penal servitude is an habitual criminal, the court, if of opinion that by reason of the offender's criminal habits and mode of life it is expedient for the protection of the public that he should be kept in detention for a lengthened period of years, may order that upon the determination of the sentence of penal servitude he undergo a period of preventive detention not exceeding ten years nor less than five years.

Persons undergoing preventive detention are subject to prison rules modified in the direction of less rigorous treatment and are confined in prisons set apart for the purpose. They are subjected to such disciplinary and reformatory influences and are employed on such work as may be best fitted to make them able and willing to earn an honest livelihood on discharge.

PLACES OF DETENTION.

XLVI.—PLACES OF DETENTION.—Receptions of Children and Young Persons.

BORSTAL INSTITUTIONS.

Borstal Institutions are places in which young offenders, aged upon conviction not less than sixteen nor more than twenty-one years, may be given such industrial training and other instruction, and be subjected to such disciplinary and moral influences as will conduce to their reformation and the prevention of crime.

Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions may sentence persons within the limits of age, who are convicted of offences punishable with penal servitude or imprisonment, to Borstal Detention for not less than one year nor more than three years.

Borstal Institutions have been established at Borstal, Canterbury, and Feltham for males, and at Aylesbury for females.

Table XLIII supplements the information given in Tables I, III, and V with regard to persons sentenced to Borstal Detention, and shows also in what manner the persons who left the Institutions during the year were disposed of. Other information concerning the inmates and management of Borstal Institutions is given in the Annual Report of the Commissioners of Prisons [Cd. 7,601].

REFORMATORY AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Reformatory Schools are institutions to which youthful offenders between the ages of twelve and sixteen years are committed for industrial training. Industrial Schools receive for the same purpose children under the age of fourteen years who are charged with offences, or whose circumstances and surroundings are such as to make it probable that they will fall into criminal habits or modes of life or become the victims of criminal or immoral influences.

On the 31st December, 1913, there were in existence 36 reformatory schools (27 for male offenders and 9 for females), 130 residential industrial schools (80 for boys and 50 for girls), and 10 day industrial schools in which children of both sexes are received. The boys' residential industrial schools include 9 "short-term" schools, mainly devoted to offenders against the Education Acts, whom it is the practice to release on licence after a comparatively brief period of detention.

Tables XLIV and XLV supply information additional to the particulars given in Tables I, III, V, XI, XIV, and XVI, concerning the children and young persons committed by the courts to reformatory and industrial schools during the year, and also show in what manner those who left the institutions in the same period were disposed of. Particulars concerning the inmates and management of the institutions, including statistics of all children and young persons under orders of detention, are given in the Annual Report of the Chief Inspector of Reformatory and Industrial Schools.

PLACES OF DETENTION.

Places of detention are provided by police authorities for the temporary detention of children and young persons under sixteen years of age charged with offences, when the circumstances do not admit of release upon recognizances and it would otherwise be necessary to confine the child or young person in a police station or prison.

Children or young persons convicted of offences punishable in the case of adults by penal servitude or imprisonment, may be committed to places of detention for terms not exceeding one month.

Places of detention consist of—

- (1) Institutions used for the purpose by arrangement, and
- (2) (in a few large cities), premises specially established for the purpose.

The former classes of premises include reformatory schools (for convicted cases only), industrial schools, boys' and girls' refuges and homes, workhouses, and similar institutions.

NOTES TO TABLE LI.

(a.)—The classification of the grounds on which pardons, &c., are granted requires some further explanation :—

Column 3, "On grounds affecting the original Conviction," includes pardons or remissions of sentence granted on account of fresh evidence establishing the prisoner's innocence, or showing reasonable doubt as to guilt, or altering the view taken as to the legal character of the offence.

Column 5, "On medical grounds," includes persons discharged solely on medical grounds, e.g., persons whose lives were endangered by imprisonment, and women near their confinement, who, if longer detained, would not have been fit for discharge at the expiration of their sentence. Where the medical condition of the persons formed only a part of the grounds for the exercise of the prerogative, the cases are tabulated under other heads.

Column 7, "In simple mitigation of Sentence," in distinction from column 3, comprises all cases where the mitigation granted does not imply any alteration of the view taken by the Court as to the prisoner's guilt or as to the legal character of his offence, but where weight is given with or without a recommendation from the judge or magistrate, to such extenuating circumstances as youth, provocation, mental disturbance, &c.; also cases where remission is granted for reasons not cognizable to the Court, as where a short remission enables a prisoner to avail himself of some special opportunity of making a new start in life.

Column 8, "Other Cases." Seven of the persons in this column were soldiers convicted of comparatively slight offences who were released in order that they might be sent on foreign service, and six were alien prisoners ordered to be deported, who were released a few days before the expiration of their sentence to facilitate arrangements for deportation.

(b.)—"Remanet."—When a convict is released on licence he is liable, if again convicted, to undergo a term of penal servitude equal to the portion of his original sentence unexpired at the time of his release. This is known as a "remanet."

* Including proceedings in Bankruptcy and Companies Winding up.

† The figures for Lancaster Chancery Court may include proceedings in Companies Winding up in the Durham Chancery Court.

‡ Including appellate proceedings in the Court of Arches and in the Chancery Court of the Province of York.

In the proceedings begun in all Courts there was a slight decrease (1,355,152 against 1,368,423). There was also a decrease as compared with population (3,671 per 100,000 as compared with 3,745). In proceedings heard, on the other hand, there was a slight increase (429,718 as against 426,867). The volume of business has declined somewhat during the last ten years as appears from the following statement of the proceedings begun and heard and the number per 100,000 of population.

Year.	Proceedings Begun.	Number per 100,000 of Population.	Actions Heard and Determined.	Number per 100,000 of Population.

Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.—As to the Judicial Committee, the chief results to be noted are these:—There was an increase in appeals entered (141 against 100 in 1912). On the other hand, fewer appeals were disposed of (107 against 153 in 1912).

The large number of appeals from Canada is to be noted. There were no fewer than 15 appeals from the Supreme Court of the Dominion; the total number from Dominion Courts being 37, and the number from all Colonial Courts being 73. The growth of Canadian appeals to the King in Council is shown by the following figures:—

Year.	Dominion Supreme Court.	Provincial Courts.	Total.
1912	6	21	27
1911	3	17	20

1908	4	21	25

1905	3	13	16
Annual Average, 1904–1908.	5·4	13·8	19·2

Appeals lie from the Provincial Courts either to the Judicial Committee or to the Supreme Court of the Dominions. Subject to certain reservations, the judgment of the latter Court is final. (See Supreme Court of Canada Act, cap. 139, para. 59). The number of appeals in 1913 from the Supreme Court was exceptionally large, but the increase in the annual total is mainly due to the growth of the appeals from the Provincial Courts to the King in Council.

A large and an increasing proportion of appeals comes from India.

1904	45	47	1	93

An increase in the applications for special leave to appeal is observable. Out of 64 petitions for special leave no fewer than 36 were granted. One appeal (from Seychelles) was in a criminal case, and resulted in the quashing of the judgment and sentence appealed from, their Lordships holding that justice had gravely and injuriously miscarried.

The number of cases in the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council have of late far exceeded that to the House of Lords. In two recent years, however, (1908 and 1909) the appeals in the House of Lords exceeded the appeals to the Judicial Committee.

House of Lords.—There was a decline in the petitions to the House of Lords (71 against 91).

Five peerage claims were pending at the end of the year. One of these claims was presented in 1906 the other 4 being part of 7 presented in 1911. There were only 3 other claims during the past 10 years, viz.: 1 in 1908, 1 in 1907, and 1 in 1904.

In the business of both Courts of Final Appeal there was a slight increase (212 appeals against 191 in 1912).

Court of Appeal.—In the Court of Appeal there was a great increase (637 final appeals against 587 in 1912, and 228 interlocutory appeals against 188; in all, 865 appeals entered against 775).

It may be of interest to show the actual condition of the lists in the Court of Appeal on the week before the beginning of the Long Vacation, 1914. The following statement shows with regard to the appeals disposed of during the period from the 24th to the 31st July, 1914, the intervals which had elapsed since the appeal was set down for hearing:—

Chancery Division.—There has been again a decline in the business begun in the Chancery Division (5,344 proceedings begun against 5,566). In actions heard, there was a slight increase (412 against 393). In this Division there has been a continuous decline since 1904,—the following statement shows the proceedings begun, &c., in each year since 1904 :—

King's Bench Division.—In the King's Bench Division there was a slight decline in writs (60,511 against 60,789).

There was also a decrease in summonses before Masters and District Registrars (31,398 against 32,791).

As figures are now available for the months of August, September, and October of the year 1914 it is interesting to note the effect in 1914 upon the business of the Court of the Moratorium Proclamations, the first of which was dated the 2nd August, and the last of which was dated the 30th September, 1914. The Courts (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914, restricting the right to issue executions, came into force on the 31st August.

The following statements show the figures for the Long Vacations in 1913 and 1914 :—

The decline in 1914, owing to the Proclamations and the Courts (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914, will be noted.

This also appears from a comparison of the number of summonses, &c., issued during the Long Vacation, 1914, while the Moratorium Proclamations were in force, with the corresponding figures for the 1913 Vacation :—

The numbers of summonses and notices issued during the Vacation under the Courts (Emergency Powers) Act, 1914, were :—

Originating Summonses	66
Ordinary Summonses where action pending	133

The following figures show the immediate result of the expiration of the Moratorium on the 4th November, 1914 :—

	1912.	1913.	1914.

Nearly four times as many writs were issued on the first day of Michaelmas Sittings, 1914, as on the corresponding day of the year before.

Libel and Slander actions.—In the Introductions to earlier issues of the Civil Judicial Statistics some figures were given as to actions for libel and slander which form a large part of the business of the King's Bench Division, and some further figures with respect to such actions are here added.

Of the 4,115 actions for trial in 1913 no fewer than 383, or over 9 per cent., were for libel and slander. This proportion is, by the way, much the same as that given in the Irish Judicial Statistics for 1913, which show that out of 204 actions tried in Dublin, 15, or over 7 per cent., were for libel and slander, and that out of 133 actions for trial on Circuit, 19, or more than 14 per cent., were for such causes of action.

In the following tables are compared the total amounts recovered in all actions with the figures for actions for libel and slander:—

It is often alleged that the damages awarded by juries against plaintiffs tend of late to increase, and that this is particularly observable in actions both for libel and slander. The above figures do not bear out this allegation so far as concerns all actions. No doubt the averages are disturbed by a few large verdicts.

But it appears from the above statement that the average amount recovered in actions tried in the King's Bench Division is diminishing. The average amount per action recovered by default of appearance was about £127, and by Order XIV. about £266.

Only a small part of the sums recovered in the King's Bench Division is by trial, either by judge or judge with jury. Out of a total of £4,400,402 only £353,141 were recovered in the former manner, only £232,488 in the latter; while the amounts recovered by default of appearance and under Order XIV were £2,231,021 and £1,368,063 respectively.

It is significant that the average amount recovered in libel actions is about five times as much as that recovered in slander cases. The written word counts in the view of juries far more than the spoken.

The figures for the last ten years point rather to a decline. The same is true of verdicts in actions for libel, though in some years one or two exceptional verdicts alter the tendency. Thus in 1911 there was one verdict for £10,000; but the average for 1909–1913 was only £285 as against £489 in 1904–1908.

Of the actions for libel for trial no fewer than 73 per cent. were in London and Middlesex, i.e., about three times the number of such actions entered for trial on Circuit. Of the total actions tried on circuit, 19 per cent. were for libel and slander; the equivalent percentage in London and Middlesex being 9.

In the following statement the figures for libel and slander actions in London and Middlesex and on Circuit during 1913, are compared:—

In actions for libel in London and Middlesex, the average amount recovered was £289. On Circuit, the corresponding amount was £162.

In the five years 1909–1913, £7,331 was recovered in 89 actions for slander in London and Middlesex, giving an average of £82 per case. On the other hand, on Circuit, £9,719 was recovered in 223 cases, giving a proportion of £44 per case.

The following tables show the distribution of the amount recovered.

It will be noted that juries in London and Middlesex give verdicts for sums of £500 and over in libel and slander actions much oftener than juries on Circuit.

Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division (Divorce).—There was again an increase in the number of petitions for dissolution of marriage (998 against 920); of these, 548 were filed by husbands and 450 by wives.

There was also an increase in petitions both for judicial separation (91 against 77) and restitution of conjugal rights (135 against 125).

As usual, the verdicts or judgments for the respondent were few (36 as against 1,040 for petitioner). In one case the respondent was granted a decree nisi by the Court. Reviewing the proceedings begun in this Court for the last decade, and comparing them with the growth of population, the figures show an increase in the institution of proceedings, particularly during the last three years. The increase has chiefly occurred in petitions by wives, as is shown by the following figures:—

Year	Petitions for Dissolution of Marriage.		Petitions for Restitution of Conjugal Rights.
	Husbands' Petitions.	Wives' Petitions.

The suits for restitution of conjugal rights are usually brought by wives as preliminary steps towards obtaining decrees for dissolution of marriage. Concurrently with the increase of proceedings of this nature, there is a falling off in the suits to obtain judicial separation. Somewhat remarkable also is the increase in the past two years in suits tried by a Judge without a jury. From 1904 to 1911, with the exception of the years 1908 and 1909, the cases so tried did not exceed 700 annually. In 1912 the figures rose to 833, and in 1913 the number was 1,043. There is no corresponding increase in suits tried before a jury.

It is noticeable that while trials by jury in the King's Bench Division tend, on the whole, to increase, the tendency in the Divorce Court is the reverse.

Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division (Admiralty).—The Admiralty business of the Probate, Divorce and Admiralty Division tends, on the whole, to increase. The actions commenced during each of the last 10 years, and the quinquennial averages were :—

Year.	Actions Commenced.	Actions for Damage by Collision.

Increase per cent. of 1913 } over 1904.	0·74	16·56

It will be seen that the majority of the actions were claims for damages caused by collision. In three-fourths of the cases judgment was given by consent, and the figures do not disclose which party was successful in these cases; probably they were in effect judgments for the plaintiff.

The total amount of accounts reported due in matters submitted to the Registrars was £438,310.

The total amount of costs brought in for taxation in 1913 was £57,835, and the amount allowed was £38,533, the average amounts per bill taxed being £209 and £139 respectively. In the proceedings in the King's Bench Division, the average amounts were £97 and £72 respectively.

District Registries of the High Court.—The business of the District Registries remains stationary, with a tendency to decrease. The proceedings begun for the last 10 years were :—

In recent years, about one-third of the proceedings begun in the High Court originated in the District Registries.

Local Courts.—In all the Inferior Courts other than the County Courts there was a decline in the proceedings begun and heard and determined. In the Mayor's Court, London, the proceedings fell from 9,180 in 1912 to 8,646 in 1913. The figures of proceedings begun in this Court show a continuous decline since the year 1905. One peculiarity of the Mayor's Court may be noted—out of 259 actions tried or otherwise disposed of in Court, no fewer than 250 were by Judge and jury; the reason being probably a belief that a jury suitable for the trial of mercantile cases is generally available.

Sheriff Courts.—The figures as to jurors summoned by Sheriffs to serve at Assizes, Quarter Sessions, High Court of Justice, Sheriff Courts, &c., are very large—in all 73,149, of whom 15,992 were grand jurors. The special jurors were about one-third of the common jurors, 14,836 against 42,321. To the above number must be added 11,192 grand jurors and 18,040 petty jurors summoned by Clerks of the Peace for Boroughs, making a grand total of no fewer than 102,381.

The returns (Table LXXXII (a)) contain information as to the work of the Sheriff's Court—Courts, once of supreme importance, but now, owing to legislation and the large jurisdiction conferred upon County Courts and other Courts, in a state of atrophy.

Only 113 writs of enquiry were lodged, and the Courts sat for only 91 days, of which 29 were in respect of the County of London Sheriff's Court.

Bankruptcy.—There was a slight increase in bankruptcy notices, 5,810 against 5,794, with a slight decrease in petitions filed, 4,843 against 5,011. The net total of receiving orders was 3,326 against 3,546. The following statement shows the petitions and receiving orders, &c., for the last 10 years :—

The number of petitions and receiving orders was the smallest since 1884.

There was an increase in the petitions presented for the winding up of companies (315 against 297). The net number of deeds of arrangement in 1913 was 2,411 against 2,770.

County Courts.—The decline in the business begun in the County Courts, which became evident in 1910, still continues. The proceedings begun in 1913 were 1,257,011 against 1,267,507 in 1912. The total actions determined fell from 808,608 to 803,215; and the aggregate amount recovered by plaintiffs from £1,984,011 to £1,946,973, while the fees fell from £534,405 to £528,367.

There was a slight diminution in the debtors imprisoned (5,743 against 5,840).

An endeavour has been made in this Introduction and in that for 1912 to ascertain the causes of the chief fluctuations in the number of plaintiffs. In certain Courts the explanations which the Registrars have been good enough to give are very instructive as to changes in the volume of litigation. The increase of plaintiffs in certain towns or districts, it is clear, was due to the coal strike the year before, which led to many debts being incurred by the workpeople affected. The coal strike during several months of 1912 produced a crop of debts which tradesmen sought to recover in 1913. Such is one of the explanations given of the increase in Atherton, Bury, Gateshead, Mansfield, Merthyr Tydfil, Pontypridd, Ystradyfodwg and Porth, Stockton-on-Tees, Stokesley, and Tredegar.

For example, the Registrar of the Bury County Court writes :—

“The increase of 13 per cent. over 1912 to which you refer was, I think, due to the coal strike which prevailed in the early part of 1912 having adversely affected the plaintiffs.”

Somewhat similar is the explanation given by the Registrars of Stockton-on-Tees and Stokesley :—

“The national coal strike considerably decreased the number of plaintiffs entered at the beginning of 1912, and during 1913 there were fewer local trade disputes than usual in the shipbuilding and iron trades, the staple industries in this district.”

“The only explanation I can suggest with regard to the increase of plaintiffs in this court in 1913 as compared with the year 1912 is that owing to the coal strike which occurred in the latter year, this district was affected considerably and in consequence the decrease in plaintiffs was nearly 24 per cent. as against 1911 which happened to be an abnormal year.”

The Registrar of Tredegar writes to the following effect :—

“Such fluctuations have been and always will be relevant to local circumstances, and these are entirely dependent upon and relevant to the troubles involved in strikes, and no doubt to some extent the alteration of the pays to the miners and others weekly (instead of as hence-to-fore).”

On the other hand, the causes which in one district may increase plaintiffs may in another district decrease them. The reduction of the plaintiffs in Walsall is attributable, it is said, to the prolonged strike in the iron trade in 1913. Sometimes the cause of an increase of plaintiffs has been brisker trade as explained by the Registrars of Glossop, Sheffield and West Hartlepool.

The Registrar of Glossop remarks :—

“The industries of this district are almost entirely connected with cotton; and trade has been very good for two or three years past up to the date of the commencement of the war. When the people are all working and in receipt of regular wages, creditors see a better chance of getting their money, and enter more cases in court.”

The Registrar of Southport explains a decrease as follows :—

“The chief reason was undoubtedly the commercial prosperity of the district. There was very little unemployment and the wages were generally good.”

The Registrars of Sheffield and West Hartlepool, on the other hand assign the same cause for an increase :—

“The reason for the increase in the number of plaintiffs in 1913, as compared with 1912, I consider, is attributable to the much improved state of trade in 1913 in this district.”

“The only reason I can suggest for the increase of 32 per cent. in the number of plaintiffs entered in this court in 1913 (as compared with 1912), is improvement in trade.”

The considerable decrease in Rochester and Frome is ascribed to the depression in the principal trade in the district (in the case of the former the cement and barge industries), while in Southport a similar decrease is attributed to the general prosperity.

The Registrar of Frome writes:—

“I can only suggest the state of trade, as Frome was passing through very bad times then (1913) and most of the factories were short of work. Therefore tradesmen did not make any effort to collect outstanding accounts.”

Thus in some districts a good state of business tends to increase the complaints, in others to diminish them.

It is clear from several of the replies that the disinclination of the judge to make commitment orders may have the effect of greatly reducing the number of complaints; some judges requiring much more evidence than others as to debtors' means of paying before making committal orders. “Creditors,” writes one Registrar, “naturally decline to enter complaints against the class of debtors who will not pay until they are made, knowing that in very many cases they would only get a barren judgment.”

The Registrar of Colne makes an interesting comment upon the decrease of complaints in that district.

“In my opinion the heavy decrease of complaints to which you refer is due to more than one cause.

“In the first place, there are times and seasons, and I think 1913 was one, when the rent and debt collectors of the County Court district have pretty well exhausted their list of cases suitable for Court proceedings. . . . Thirdly, the custom of purchasing goods on the hire system only is greatly on the increase amongst the working class population of this district, which is largely an industrial one. Here, the Plaintiff, in the absence of any system of compulsory registration of such agreements, comes into Court in the full belief that the well furnished cottage of the Defendant will, under execution levied, be available to satisfy the judgment presently obtained; but great is his surprise and disappointing his experience to find that, unless all instalments under the hiring agreement are discharged, the property in such furniture is still the hirer's, who thus remains largely the master of the situation.

“Finally, I am inclined to the view that with the spread of education a less litigious spirit is abroad and that more claims are settled privately, there being a growing aversion to the publicity of Court proceedings in view of the ever increasing army of newspaper reporters.

“A tradesman who comes into Court as Plaintiff is looked upon as hasty or litigious by a certain number of his customers, and he suffers accordingly.”

The proceedings under the Workmen's Compensation Acts show a slight reduction. The number of arbitrations fell from 8,003 to 7,576, and the memoranda registered from 22,010 to 19,162. The total compensation awarded in lump sums also fell (£716,847 against £878,260). The number of cases under the Employers' Liability Act was the smallest yet recorded (148 against 162 in 1912). The proceedings under this Act appear to be steadily diminishing; the average number of cases disposed of in the five years ended 1913 was 169.2 against 441.6 in the preceding quinquennium.

Only a very small proportion of the claims under the Workmen's Compensation Acts become the subject of litigation. In the annual volume of Workmen's Compensation Statistics* for the year 1913, it is stated that in that year the total amount of compensation paid under the Act of 1906 in the United Kingdom in the seven groups of industries for which returns are obtained in pursuance of section 12, amounted to no less than £3,361,650. The total charge borne by these industries (viz., mines, quarries, railways, factories, harbours and docks, constructional works (excluding construction of buildings), and shipping) is computed to be not less than £5,000,000.

The chief facts as to the business of the Courts during the year may be thus summarized:—

(1) There was a decrease in the total number of proceedings begun, with a slight increase in proceedings heard and determined in all Courts.

(2) There was an increase in proceedings begun in the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the Court of Appeal, the Divisional Courts, the Divorce Court and the Railway and Canal Commission.

(3) An increased number of cases, &c., were heard in the House of Lords, the Divisional Courts of the King's Bench Division of the High Court, the High Court, the Durham Chancery Court and the County Courts.

(4) The proceedings begun in the following Courts fell off:—the House of Lords, the various divisions of the High Court, in Lunacy, the Lancaster and Durham Chancery Courts, the County Courts, the Mayor's Court, London, and other Local Courts.

(5) Fewer cases were heard before the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, the Court of Appeal, in Lunacy, the Railway and Canal Commission, the Lancaster Chancery Court, the Mayor's Court, and Local Courts.

(6) The diminution in the business begun in the County Courts since 1910 was continued.

(7) There were fewer writs, fewer receiving orders, and fewer bills of sale registered.

Notes to the Comparative Tables.

NOTES TO TABLES A TO F.

(1.) These tables are compiled from the previous volumes of Judicial Statistics, supplemented by particulars obtained from the annual returns presented to Parliament relative to County Courts, Bankruptcy, Companies Winding Up, &c., and occasional returns as to Divorce and other matters.

(2.) With a few exceptions the figures for the High Court prior to 1894 are for years ended 31st October, and the figures for other courts, &c., are for calendar years.

(3.) Percentages are expressed to the nearest decimal figure, and amounts are stated to the nearest £. In cases in which the figures for the whole of a quinquennial period are not obtainable, the annual average for the number of years for which figures are available is inserted.

(4.) The nature of the proceedings included under the condensed headings of the comparative tables can in many instances be ascertained by referring to the corresponding annual table.

NOTES TO TABLE A.

(5.) The King's Bench figures for 1896 to 1913 include certain originating proceedings not previously furnished.

(6.) For years previous to 1895 all proceedings begun in District Registries, except Chancery proceedings at Liverpool and Manchester, are included in the figures for the King's Bench Division. Since 1895 information as to the Chancery, King's Bench, and Admiralty proceedings has been furnished separately for all District Registries.

NOTES TO TABLE B.

(7.) Central Office and District Registries.—The Central Office was established as from 28th October, 1879, by Section 4 of the Judicature Act, 1879. The statistics of proceedings commenced in the Central Office include petitions presented at the office of the Chancery Registrars. District Registries were instituted in 1876 by Section 60 of the Judicature Act, 1873, but proceedings relating to the Chancery Division were not separately distinguished in the returns furnished by the District Registrars prior to 1895, and the figures for originating proceedings in District Registries shown in the table from 1889 to 1894 consist only of proceedings commenced in the Liverpool and Manchester District Registries. The figures under certain other headings for the period from 1889 to 1894 include a small proportion of proceedings in the Liverpool and Manchester District Registries. Since 1894 proceedings in all District Registries are included.

(8.) Complete information as to Writs of Execution has been furnished only since 1894.

(9.) Suitors' Funds Accounts.—The funds for all divisions of the Supreme Court were transferred to the Paymaster-General, for and on behalf of the Supreme Court, by the Act 46 & 47 Vict. c. 29, s. 2.

NOTES TO TABLE C.

(10.) The figures for years previous to 1895 include a small proportion of cases belonging to other Divisions of the High Court.

(11.) Previous to 1894 the statistics relating to Official Referees include references of all descriptions. (See Table LVI (a).) From 1894 the figures include only references of the whole cause or matter. (Table LVI (a) Col. 8.)

(12.) Actions tried or otherwise disposed of.—The results shown in the annual tables have been classified as follows :—

“Verdict or judgment for plaintiff” includes verdict for plaintiff, verdict for plaintiff subject to special case, and verdict by consent with reference.

“Verdict or judgment for defendant” includes verdict for defendant, and judgment dismissing action.

“Otherwise disposed of” (London and Middlesex) includes referred, jury discharged without verdict, juror withdrawn, judgment on non-suit, referred to official referee, and otherwise disposed of.

(On Circuit) includes in years previous to 1894 the remainder of the actions excluding remanets and cases in which the venue was changed: the actions disposed of otherwise than in court not being separately distinguished.

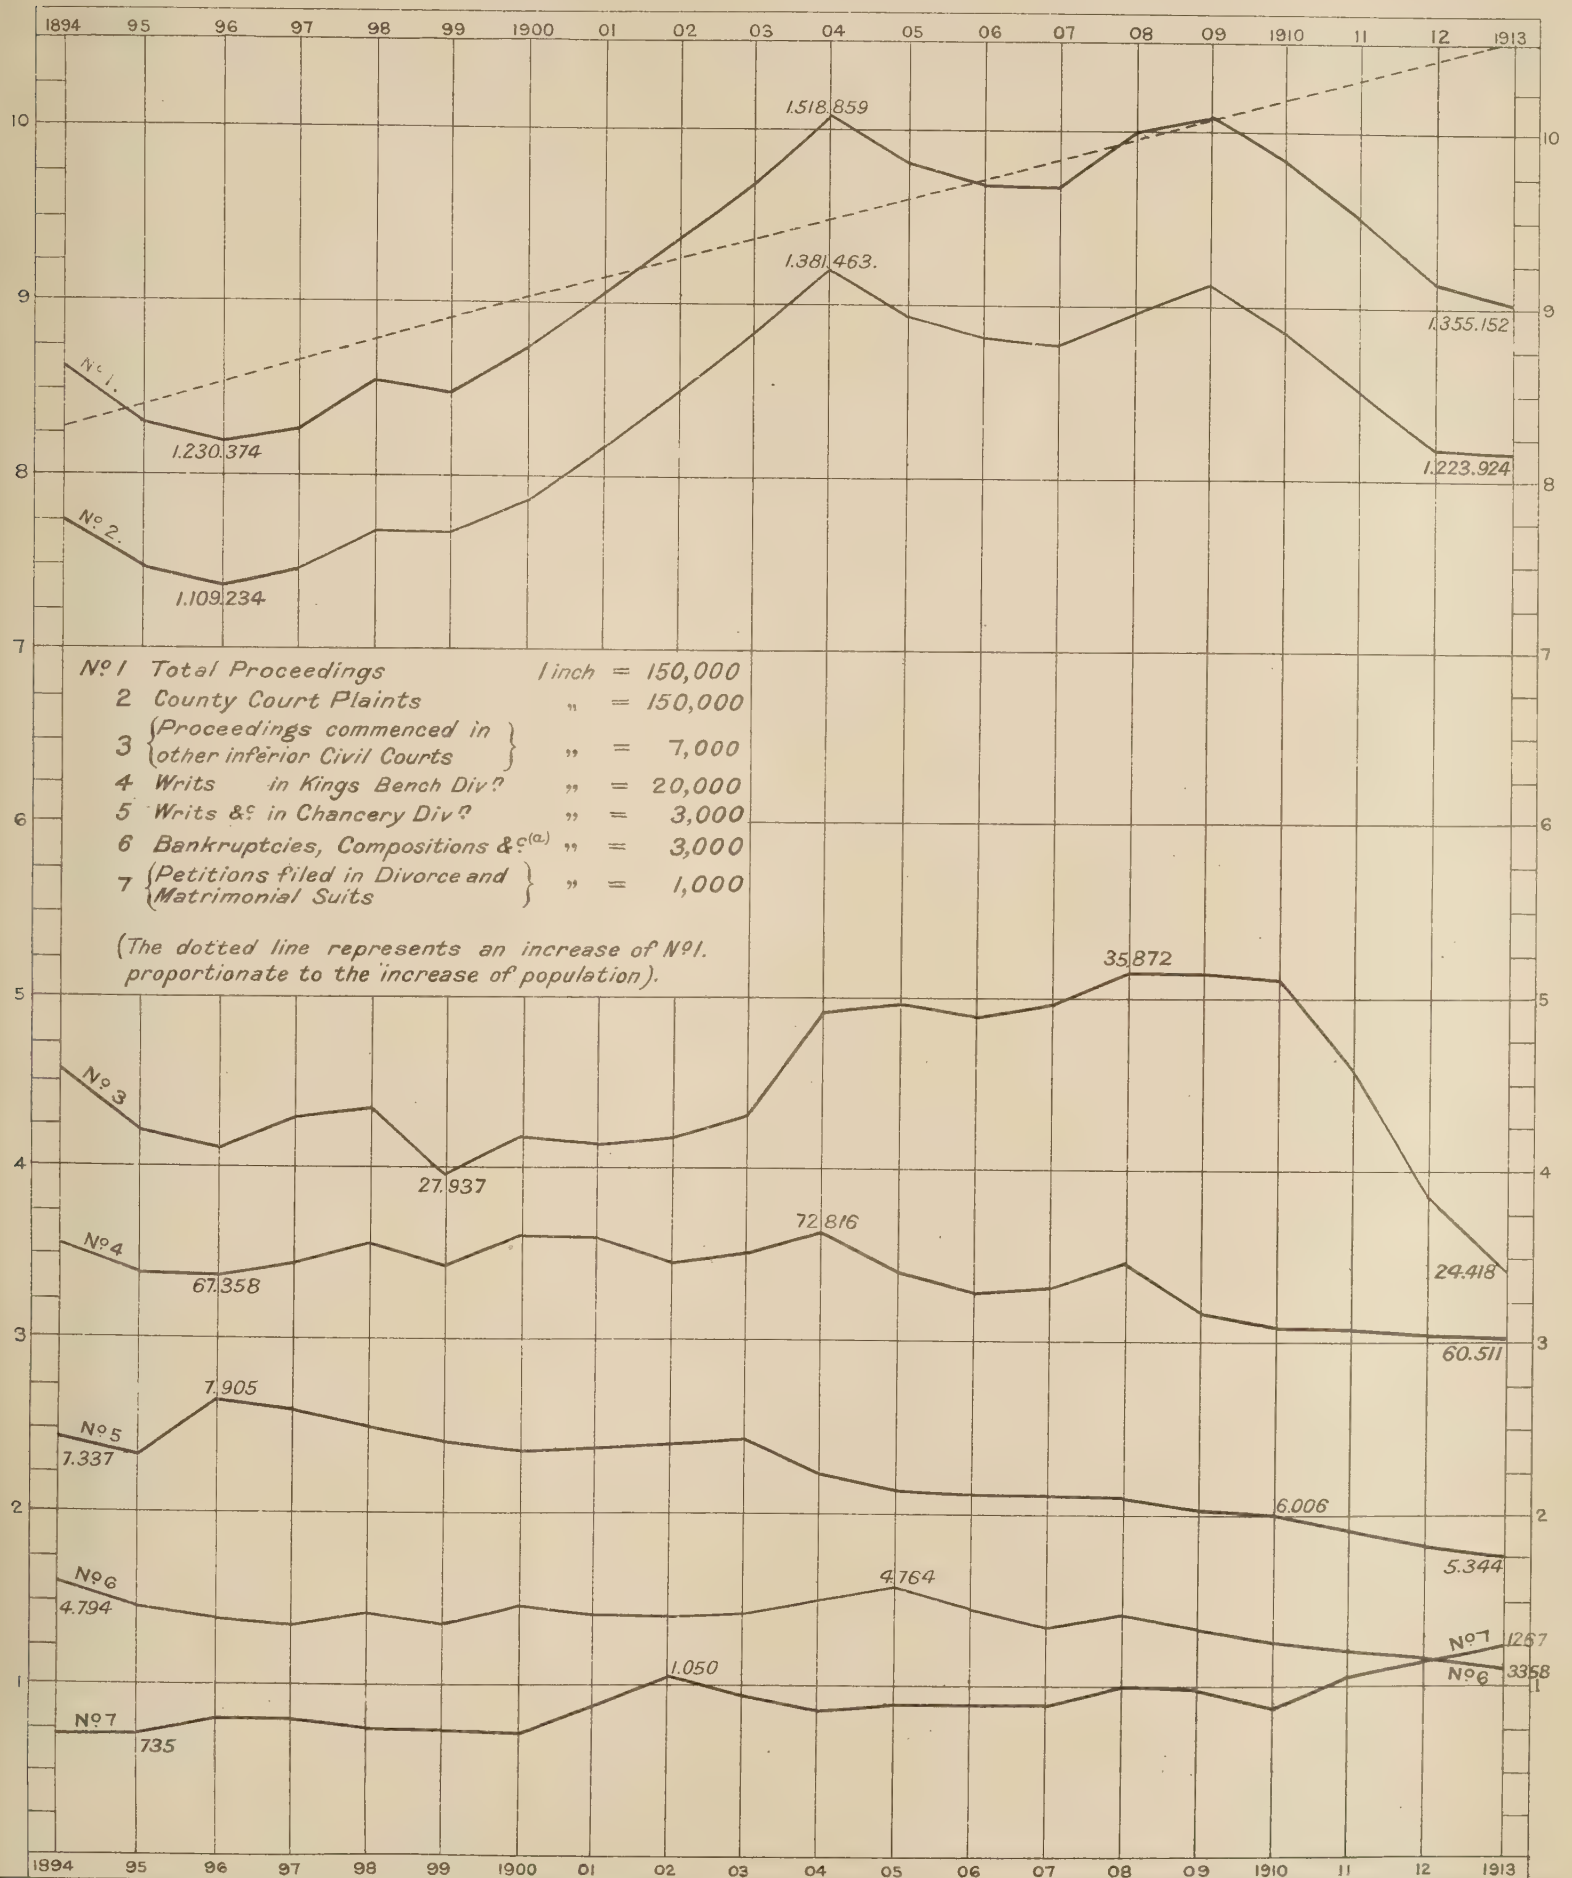

(Before Official Referees) includes in years previous to 1894 the remainder of the actions disposed of.

(13.) Complete information as to “Other Writs” has been furnished only since 1895.

NOTE TO TABLE D.

(14.) The first part of this table, to “Fees—Amount received” inclusive, contains a summary of proceedings in the Divorce Court compiled from returns furnished by the Divorce Registry for insertion in the annual volumes of Judicial Statistics, and shows the number of decrees and other proceedings in each year irrespective of the years in which the petitions were presented. The figures are for the calendar year, with this exception, the figures from 1889 to 1893 are for the year ended on 31st October. The second part of the table for years previous to 1895 was mainly compiled from two Parliamentary Returns [House of Commons 1894 (67), and 1896 (378)], and shows the results of the petitions presented in each year ended 31st December for dissolution of marriage or for judicial separation whether the cause is terminated in the same year or not. The columns for 1895 to 1913 show the number of decrees, &c., made in those years without regard to the year in which the petitions were presented. Besides the variations in years previous to 1895 between the figures of the two portions of the table, due to the different principles upon which the returns were compiled, there are some discrepancies in the number of petitions, &c., which cannot now be explained.

NOTE TO TABLE XXI.

(a) Orders in Chambers.—A large proportion of the orders made in chambers are never drawn up, and consequently, as to these, no returns can be given. From this cause there would naturally appear a large difference between the total numbers of summonses and orders, were it not for the orders made on ex parte applications, as to which no summonses are issued.

Orders “varied” and “reversed” are nearly always drawn up. On the other hand a large proportion of the orders “affirmed” are not drawn up. This greatly affects the figures as to the “results of appeals.”

NOTE TO TABLES XXII, XXV (c) AND XXVI (c).

(b) Actions undefended.—This includes cases in which the defendant does not appear and in which judgment is given against him in consequence, but not cases in which judgment or verdict is given by consent after the case has been opened in court, nor cases in which the defendant appears but not the plaintiff.

NOTES TO TABLES XXIII, XXIV, XXV (a) and (b), XXVI (a) and (b), LVI (a), (b), (c), and (d) AND LXX (b).

(c) Nature of Action.—An action in which two or more causes of action are joined is counted as a single action. The entry is made against the cause of action in respect of which the proceedings reach the furthest stage, or, if there is no difference in this respect, against the most important of the causes of action.

(d) Referred to Official or Special Referee.—This includes only references of the whole cause or action, not references for report to the judge. Cases referred for report, and cases adjourned for further consideration, are entered according to the final result of the case, if known.

NOTES TO TABLES XXIV, XXV (b), XXVI (b) and (d) AND LVI (c) and (d).

(e) Amount recovered.—The amount recovered includes counterclaims. In cases in which money is recovered on both claim and counterclaim, and in cases of account, the balance only is inserted. The amount recovered is no certain criterion of the importance of the actions tried, inasmuch as in many of the most important actions, such as trespass to land, rights of way, &c., and also test actions involving the disposal of very large sums, only nominal damages are recovered.

(f) Judgments, &c., for Possession, Costs, &c.—This column includes cases in which the plaintiff recovers costs only, and also judgments for plaintiff in cases in which the judgment is not for a specified sum.

(g) Commission days.—Column 17 excludes Commission days on which actions or prisoners were tried at the same or some other assize town. Under ordinary circumstances the Commission Day is occupied by travelling and preparatory business, the Commission being opened on the day following, but very frequently Commission days are utilised for the completion of the business at the preceding or some other assize town. At Oakham and Beaumaris, on account of the small amount of business to be transacted, the Commission is opened and actions and prisoners tried on the Commission Day.

(h) Number of days Judges sat.—If two or more courts are sitting on the same day, each sitting is entered as a separate day. Days on which both civil and criminal causes are tried are counted as two separate days in columns 18 and 19, but as only one day in column 20.

^b "Many of the items which are necessary for the preparation of the brief, such as taking statement of witnesses and drawing the proof, and which are charged seriatim, are subsequently included in the general charge for instruction for brief and drawing same—the items being all stated with particularity in order to show what work was done. The difference between the amount of the bill as presented for taxation and the amount allowed does not in many cases represent a difference which is paid by the client." b The investment of cash is provided for, in most cases, by Rules and Special Orders, and consequently certificates from the Masters for that purpose are now rarely required.

c The amounts of cash directed to be paid, &c., under Orders do not include balances paid in by committees, payments by debtors, purchasers, &c., payments out of dividends to committees, nor payments of costs. The amounts in these cases are not specified in the Orders but have to be subsequently ascertained by certificate or verified by affidavit.

d The numbers and amounts of committees' and receivers' accounts are exclusive of cases in which the Masters have been satisfied, without the production of accounts and affidavits, of the due application of the lunatics' incomes.

TABLE LXII.—RAILWAY AND CANAL COMMISSION—Applications and other Proceedings.

Note.—The Railway and Canal Commission is a special tribunal established to hear and determine complaints that reasonable facilities for traffic are withheld, or that undue preferences are shown, by railway and canal companies, and to deal with various other questions and differences in relation to the powers and obligations of railway and canal companies.

The Commission is also empowered to decide certain disputes arising in connection with the postal and telegraph services, and the supply of water to the Metropolis.

The jurisdiction of the Commission extends to Scotland and Ireland and sittings may be held in any part of the Kingdom.

The Commission consists of two appointed and three ex-officio Commissioners. One appointed Commissioner must have experience in railway business. The ex-officio Commissioners are judges of the superior courts of England, Scotland, and Ireland respectively.

A Court is formed of the two appointed Commissioners and the ex-officio Commissioner nominated for the part of the Kingdom in which the sitting is held. The ex-officio Commissioner presides. For certain matters the Court may be held by the two appointed Commissioners only.

The Commission is a Court of Record. Its decisions on matters of fact are final: in matters of law an appeal lies to the superior Courts. The Orders of the Commissioners are enforceable either in accordance with special statutory provisions or as orders of the High Court. Damages may be awarded, but power to award costs is restricted.

(a) NATURE AND RESULTS OF APPLICATIONS.

^a There is no record of claims for compensation for non-fatal cases under the Workmen's Compensation Acts settled by agreement or by informal arbitration, except where one or other of the parties or the Arbitrator registers in the County Court a memorandum of the agreement or decision. This is provided for in Schedule II (8) of the Act of 1897 and in Schedule II (9) of the Act of 1906, but it is not compulsory in all cases. The statistics of agreements and of informal arbitrations are therefore incomplete; they represent, indeed, only a very small fraction of the cases so dealt with.

^b Including 47 cases in which 1*l.* per week was awarded.

^c Including only the costs (including Court fees) of successful parties, whether taxed, or allowed by the Judge at a fixed sum or agreed amounts specified in the award or judgment.

^d Including 27 cases in which the amount was 1*l.* per week.

^e Including 11 cases stated to have been dealt with under Section 1 (4) of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

TABLE LXXXVI.—PROCEEDINGS IN THE LAND REGISTRY.

Registration of Titles.—The Land Registry was first established by the Land Registry Act of 1862. It was re-established under the Land Transfer Act, 1875, and its work was greatly extended by the Land Transfer Act, 1897. The object of these Acts is to simplify title and to facilitate the transfer of land. At the end of 1913 there were 172,761 properties on the Register. Of these all but 1,805 were under the Land Transfer Acts, 1875 and 1897. The great majority of the registered titles are in London, where, under the 1897 Act, registration has been compulsory since 1899 on sales and on grants of leases of over forty years. A certain number of estates are also voluntarily registered every year in various parts of the country.

Under the Land Transfer Acts freehold land or leaseholds of more than twenty-one years, or with two or more lives to fall in, may be registered, as the circumstances may permit, with

- (a) An absolute title.
- (b) A qualified title (i.e., subject to a reservation).
- (c) A good leasehold title (which amounts to a guarantee of the leaseholders title to the lease, but does not guarantee validity of the lease itself); or
- (d) A possessory title (which clears the title for the future, but is no bar to possible adverse claims dating from a time prior to its first entry on the register).

New registrations in the original register ceased in 1875, but a number of estates still remain upon that register.

The Act of 1897 provided for making registration compulsory upon sale in any county or part of a county to which the said provision might be applied. Registration has accordingly been made compulsory in the administrative County of London (including the City).

Land purchased by county councils for the purpose of small holdings must also be registered.

Registration of Charges on Land.—Under the provisions of the Land Charges Registration and Charges Act, 1888, as amended by the Land Charges Act, 1900, all writs, orders, judgments, or recognizances affecting land, and all other charges upon land, must be registered at the Land Registry. The effect of the registration (with a few exceptions, such as bankruptcy and charges under the Public Health Acts and similar local Acts) is to give information as to charges on land which an ordinary abstract of the title might fail to disclose. Unless so registered, the writs and other charges are void as against a purchaser for value of the land concerned.

Middlesex Deeds Registry.—The Middlesex Registry was established in 1709 (7 Anne c. 20) for the purpose of preventing fraud by the suppression of deeds. Since March, 1892, the registry has been amalgamated with the Land Registry under the Land Registry (Middlesex Deeds) Act, 1892. All deeds affecting lands situated within the boundaries of the ancient county of Middlesex must be registered, but this provision ceases to apply while the lands are registered under the Land Transfer Acts.

NOTES ON CRIMINAL COURTS AND CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

In England the chief Courts for the trial of criminal cases are the Assizes (including the Central Criminal Court) and the Courts of Quarter Sessions.

The King's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice has also power to try criminal cases. The number so tried is very small, and there were only two cases in 1914.

In certain exceptional cases a Court held under Special Commission tries cases in the same way as a Court of Assize. No instances of this have occurred for several years.

Peers charged with treason or felony have the right to be tried by the House of Lords. One case was so tried in 1901.

ASSIZES.

The Assizes are the Courts held by His Majesty's Judges, when they go under Royal Commissions on Circuit for the administration of justice. They are held three times a year for each county, in certain cases four times. The Central Criminal Court is a court with similar powers sitting in London, and usually holding twelve sessions in the year. In law the term "Assizes" includes the sessions of the Central Criminal Court (Interpretation Act, 1889, section 13 (5)); and it is so used in these Statistics.

QUARTER SESSIONS.

A Court of Quarter Sessions exists in each County, and in those Boroughs to which a separate Court has been granted by the Crown. The Court consists in Counties of the Justices for the County assembled in Quarter Session, in Boroughs of the Recorder of the Borough, a legal officer of high standing. Its sessions are held at least four times a year, sometimes more frequently, e.g., in London there were 24 sittings in the year 1914. The Court has powers co-ordinate with the Assizes, but less extensive; all cases which can be tried at Quarter Sessions can be tried also at Assizes, but certain offences, such as treason, murder, perjury, libel, can be tried only at Assizes.*

All cases tried at Assizes and Quarter Sessions are tried on an indictment† presented by a Grand Jury, and the trial in every case without exception is by Jury.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEAL.‡

Under the provisions of the Criminal Appeal Act, 1907, persons convicted on indictment may (subject to the restrictions and regulations imposed by the Act), appeal against the conviction or sentence to the Court of Criminal Appeal. Statistics of the appeals decided in 1914 are given in Table X.

COURTS OF SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

The inferior Criminal Courts for the trial of minor cases are the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction or Police Courts. In these trial is without Jury, and the Magistrates decide both as to law and to facts; their decisions are subject in most cases to appeal, though in practice, appeals are rare (Table XV).

A Court of Summary Jurisdiction consists ordinarily of the Justices of a Division of the County or of a Borough sitting in Petty Sessions. In most cases the presence of two Justices at least is necessary for the exercise of the powers of the Court; but in London and large towns there are Stipendiary Magistrates, who sit alone and have all the powers of two Justices. In certain other cases a Court of Summary Jurisdiction may consist of one Justice only, but its powers are then extremely limited.

In addition to hearing and determining all minor Criminal cases, the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction conduct the preliminary investigation in those cases which are afterwards tried at Assizes and Quarter Sessions. If they find there is a prima facie case they commit the accused to prison to await his trial, or bind him over in recognizances (usually with sureties) to appear at the Assizes or Sessions.

Courts of Summary Jurisdiction have also civil jurisdiction in certain matters. They also exercise certain powers in matters not strictly criminal, but closely allied to their criminal jurisdiction, but particulars are not given for 1914.

* The Liberty of Peterborough has Commissions of Oyer and Terminer and General Gaol Delivery as well as the usual Commission of the Peace, and the Justices can therefore try offences not within the ordinary jurisdiction of Quarter Sessions.

† An inquisition of a Coroner's Jury is equivalent to an indictment, but cases tried on an inquisition are very rare.

‡ All jurisdiction and authority under the Crown Cases Act, 1848, in relation to questions of law, is now vested in the Court of Criminal Appeal (Criminal Appeal Act, 1907, sec. 20 (4)).

INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

As in Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions the procedure is by indictment, the offences tried by these courts are called "indictable offences." All the ancient Common Law Offences are indictable, and so are all statutory offences unless the statute expressly provides some other mode of trial.

NON-INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

In distinction from these indictable offences, offences originally within the jurisdiction of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction are in these Tables designated "non-indictable." These are all, like the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction themselves, created by statute; and in every case they are expressly declared by the statute to be triable summarily.

INDICTABLE OFFENCES TRIED SUMMARILY.

In certain cases offences which originally were tried on indictment only may now be tried summarily. This is done under sections 10, 11, 12, and 13 of the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879,* which superseded some earlier and more restricted enactments on the same subject. These offences appear in the Tables of the Proceedings of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction in a special section headed "Indictable Offences tried Summarily." In the Police Tables of indictable offences the cases heard summarily are shown in separate columns.

NON-INDICTABLE OFFENCES TRIED AS IF INDICTABLE.

On the other hand certain offences ordinarily tried summarily may in exceptional cases be sent for trial at Assizes or Quarter Sessions "as if they were indictable." This class includes Assault (Offences against the Person Act, 1861, sec. 46), all offences, other than assaults, punishable with more than 3 months' imprisonment (Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1879, sec. 17), and some offences created by recent Acts, such as the Conspiracy, and Protection of Property Act, 1875, the Merchandise Marks Act, 1887, the Witnesses (Public Enquiries) Protection Act, 1892, the Merchant Shipping Act, 1894, the Prevention of Corruption Act, 1906, &c. These offences being ordinarily tried summarily are not separated from the other non-indictable offences in the Tables of the Proceedings of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, and in the Tables of Non-indictable Offences; but such cases as are actually sent for trial at Assizes and Quarter Sessions appear under appropriate heads (chiefly Assault, Intimidation, and Cruelty to Children) in the Assize and Quarter Sessions Tables, and in the Police Tables of Indictable Offences.

PROCEEDINGS AT ASSIZES AND QUARTER SESSIONS.

The following are points which may be useful as explaining the headings of the columns in Tables I to V.

At Assizes and Quarter Sessions the proceedings are commenced by the preferring of a bill of indictment or draft indictment before the Grand Jury. If the Grand Jury think that there is no prima facie case against the person accused they return the draft indictment marked "no true bill," and the case is at an end. Otherwise they find the indictment or formal accusation on which the prisoner is tried. The prisoner is then arraigned or formally accused before the Petty Jury; and at this stage the question of the prisoner's sanity at the time of arraignment may be investigated by a jury. If found insane and unfit to plead he is not tried but is ordered to be detained during His Majesty's pleasure. Otherwise he is tried by the Jury.

On trial by Jury three verdicts are possible in ordinary cases: acquittal, conviction, or a special verdict to the effect that the prisoner was guilty of the act charged, but was insane at the time of committing it. If the latter is given, he is ordered to be detained during His Majesty's pleasure. On conviction, the Judge passes sentence, which may be death,† penal servitude, imprisonment, detention in a Borstal Institution (for offenders between 16 and 21 years of age), detention in an Inebriate Reformatory, detention in an Institution for Mental Defectives, detention in a Reformatory School (for offenders between 12 and 16 years of age), fine, whipping, or custody in a place of detention (for offenders under 16 years of age); or the Court may order the prisoner to enter into recognizances to come up for judgment when so required, and, in addition, may place the offender under the supervision of a probation officer—an order to this effect being termed a probation order. The Court may also order children under 14 years of age to be detained in an Industrial School.

* Libel may also in certain cases be tried summarily (44 & 45 Vict. c. 60, s. 5). The powers of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction for the trial of indictable offences have been further extended by the Inebriates Act, 1898, the Summary Jurisdiction Act, 1899, and the Children Act, 1908.

† The offences for which judgment of death may be pronounced by civil courts are murder, treason, piracy with violence, and arson of His Majesty's ships, arsenals, dockyards, &c. For the two last-named offences the Court may order the judgment of death to be entered of record, which has the same effect as if the judgment had been duly pronounced and the offender reprieved by the Court.

ASSIZES AND QUARTER SESSIONS.

NOTES.

(a.) The titles of offences (Column 1) are much condensed. The fuller titles, and the offences comprised under each head, will be found in Appendix A on page 85.

In Tables III and IV offences not triable at Quarter Sessions are omitted, but the numbering of the heads is the same as in Tables I, II, and V.

(b.) The Tables show the numbers of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where therefore any person is prosecuted at the same Assizes or Sessions for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation: and the rule followed is to select that for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage—to trial if there were several indictments, to conviction and sentence if prisoner was tried on several charges. If there are several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence (as measured by the maximum penalty allowed by the law) appears in the Tables.

(c.) Where, in addition to the offence thus selected for detailed tabulation, the same person is prosecuted for other offences of a distinct character and charged in separate indictments, the number of these additional charges is given in Columns 26 to 28 of Tables I, III, and V; Column 26 giving the total number of such charges, Column 27 the number resulting in convictions, and Column 28 the number for which separate sentences (not concurrent with those in Columns 10 to 20) are passed. Only distinct offences charged in separate indictments are included in these columns: additional indictments merely varying the form of the charge, and additional charges appearing as counts in the same indictment, are excluded.

An exception is made, however, in a case of a charge under Part II of the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, or Section 1 of the Inebriates Act, 1898. In the former case, if there is no conviction on the count of being an habitual criminal, or no sentence is passed therefor, no record appears in these statistics; but if the prisoner is convicted and sentenced on the charge, the sentence of preventive detention appears in Column 21 as an additional order made on his conviction of the specific offence which has led to his indictment as an habitual criminal.

In the case of a person convicted and sentenced as an habitual drunkard under Section 1 of the Inebriates Act, 1898, the sentence of detention in an Inebriate Reformatory is given in Column 15, whether it is in substitution for or in addition to a sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment. In the latter case the sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment does not appear in these Tables.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted for another (e.g., committed for murder, and convicted of manslaughter) the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) All the Tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only cases finally determined within the year. Cases not entirely disposed of within the year (e.g., tried, but sentence postponed) are held over for the next year's Tables.

When, however, the Epiphany Quarter Sessions commence before the end of the year, any cases disposed of on or before 31st December are included in the Return for the following year, so as to give four quarters uniformly in each year.

Tables I, III, and V.

(f.) Columns 2, 3, and 4 ("Numbers for Trial") include only such cases as actually come before the Assizes or Quarter Sessions. Persons who die, escape from prison, abscond while on bail, or are removed to an asylum before trial are not included.

(g.) Column 13 ("Imprisonment") does not include the sentences of imprisonment which sometimes precede sentences of detention in an Inebriate Reformatory, nor does it include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine or in default of finding securities.

(h.) Columns 17 and 23 ("Fine") include all cases where payment of a fine is imposed as the sentence or part of the sentence whether the fine is actually paid or not.

(i.) Columns 18, 19, and 25 ("Recognizances") include cases where recognizances are required whether with or without sureties, and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(j.) Columns 21 to 25 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a young person convicted of larceny is sentenced to be imprisoned and whipped, the imprisonment appears in Column 13, the whipping in Column 24.

(k.) Columns 26 to 28. See note (c) above.

Table VI.

(l.) The counties in this Table are, as regards their area and boundaries, the administrative counties; but Lincoln, Northampton, Cambridge, Suffolk, Sussex, and Southampton are each treated as one county, and county boroughs are included in the counties in which they are situated geographically. York is included wholly in the North Riding of Yorkshire, and Stockport in Cheshire.

In addition to the persons included in this Table 734 children and 2,541 young persons were dealt with by ordinary Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, because they were charged jointly with adults, or were supposed to be aged above 16.

COURTS OF SUMMARY JURISDICTION.

NOTES.

Tables XI and XII.

(a.) These Tables include only offences tried summarily. All Indictable Offences where the Court does not actually assume the power to determine the case summarily are excluded. Further, these Tables include only cases where the proceedings are criminal—that is, lead if successful to a conviction. There are a large number of cases which are quasi-criminal in character, but where the procedure is by complaint, leading, not to a conviction, but to the making of an order. These are not included.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where therefore any person is prosecuted at the same time for several offences one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in Tables I to V. (See note (b) page 10.)

(c.) The offences included under each of the titles of offences in Column 1 are stated in Appendix B on page 92.

Table XI.

(d.) Table XI corresponds to Tables I, III, and V, and (as regards length of sentences) to Tables II and IV.

(e.) Columns 4 to 6 include all persons dealt with under Sections 1 and 2 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907, the entries being made as follows:—

Column 4.—Cases in which, although the charge is proved, the Court, without proceeding to conviction, makes an order dismissing the information or charge (Section 1 (1) (i) of Act).

Column 5.—Similar cases, in which an order is made discharging the offender conditionally on his entering into a recognizance, with or without sureties, to be of good behaviour and to appear for conviction and sentence when called upon (Section 1 (1) (ii) of Act), but where no probation order is made.

Column 6.—Cases in which a probation order is made, i.e., in which the order for recognizances contains a condition placing the offender under supervision (Section 2 of Act).

(f.) Column 7, "Committal to Industrial School," includes only those committals to Industrial Schools where an offence is charged—i.e., committals under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908, Section 12 of the Elementary Education Act, 1876, Section 5 (3) of the Employment of Children Act, 1903, and Articles 8 and 9 of the Order in Council of the 2nd April, 1909, relating to Day Industrial Schools. Other committals to Industrial Schools where the proceedings are not criminal appear in Table XLV.

(g.) Column 8 includes committals to custody of relatives or other persons, made under Section 58 (7) of the Children Act, 1908, in the cases of children charged with offences punishable with imprisonment, i.e., cases in which a committal to an Industrial School could be made under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.

(h.) Column 9 includes persons sent to Institutions for defectives or placed under guardianship under Section 8 (1) (b) of the Mental Deficiency Act, 1913, in cases where the Court finds the charge proved but does not proceed to a conviction.

(i.) Columns 11 to 17, "Imprisonment," do not include the preliminary imprisonment in Inebriate Reformatory cases, nor terms of imprisonment in default of paying a fine or of finding sureties.

(j.) Column 19, "Reformatory School," contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a Reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received in Reformatories are given in Table XLIV.

(k.) Columns 21 and 25, "Fine," include all cases where a fine is imposed whether the fine is paid or not.

(l.) Columns 22 and 26, "Recognizances," include all cases where the defendant is ordered to find sureties upon conviction whether the sureties are found or not. Cases where a person is required to find sureties upon complaint or upon the dismissal of a criminal charge, are not included.

Table XII.

(m.) This Table corresponds to Table VI, and the list of Counties is the same.

- XXI.—PUBLIC PROSECUTIONS.—Number of Prosecutions undertaken by the Director of Public Prosecutions and Results.

TABLE XXI.—PUBLIC PROSECUTIONS.—Number of Prosecutions undertaken by the Director of Public Prosecutions, and Results.

(a.) "Offences."—The titles of the indictable offences are the same as in Tables I to V; of non-indictable offences as in Table XI. The table includes all prosecutions completed within the year; cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in next year's tables.

(b.) In Columns 2 to 6, "number of prosecutions undertaken," each case appears as one only, though several persons may be involved or several charges brought. In Columns 7 to 16 (number of persons prosecuted, &c.) the number of persons is given. Where the same person is prosecuted for several offences, one offence is selected for tabulation by the same rule as is followed in Tables I to V. In such cases, the number of charges not included in Columns 2 to 16 is given in Column 17.

RETURNS FROM THE SEVERAL POLICE DISTRICTS.

TABLE XXIX.—Habitual Criminals at Large and Houses of Bad Character in each District.

The enumeration for the purposes of these Tables was made on the first Tuesday in April, 1914.

Columns 2 to 5, "Number of Habitual Criminals at Large," include persons who are known to engage habitually in crime as their means, or part of their means, of livelihood. Persons previously convicted, but not habitual criminals, are not included. Crime is understood in the sense given to it by the definition in Section 20 of the Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871, viz., any felony and the following misdemeanours:—uttering or possessing counterfeit coin, false pretences, conspiracy to defraud, and possession of house-breaking implements, or any offence under Section 58 of the Larceny Act, 1861.

Column 7, "Houses of Receivers of Stolen Goods," includes houses reasonably suspected of being used for the receipt of stolen goods, whether there is an actual conviction against the occupier or not.

Columns 8, 9, and 10 include all houses where thieves and other habitual criminals regularly resort and meet, whether or not the occupiers of the houses are suspected of wilfully harbouring them, or of complicity in their crimes.

POLICE RETURNS.

NOTES.

Table XXII.

(a.) Column 1, "Offences."—The titles of the offences are the same as in Tables I to V.

(b.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes known to Police."—This column includes all crimes reported to the police or otherwise coming to their knowledge within the year whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension takes place within the year or not.

(c.) If there is a committal or conviction within the year, the table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Failing this, the charge which is named in the summons or warrant or on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.

(d.) In Columns 3 to 18 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in Tables I to V—the charge resulting in conviction or committal for trial has preference to the others; and subject to this the more serious offence is selected. If there are two or more convictions, that for which the heavier sentence is inflicted is regarded as the more serious. These columns include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's table.

(e.) Columns 4 and 12, "Discharged," contain cases where the magistrate does not assume power to try the case summarily, but discharges the accused under Section 25 of the Indictable Offences Act, 1848.

(f.) Columns 5 and 13, "Tried Summarily and Acquitted," contain cases where, after the magistrate has decided to deal summarily with the case, the charge is dismissed or withdrawn.

(g.) The entries in columns 6 and 14 include the following cases:—

(i) All cases dealt with under Sections 1 and 2 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907, i.e., cases where the charge is held to be proved, but the Court, without convicting, made an order dismissing the charge, or an order for the offender to enter into recognizances, or a probation order.

(ii) Children under 14 charged with indictable offences committed to industrial schools under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.

(iii) Committals to custody of relatives and others made under Section 58 (7) of the Children Act, 1908, in the case of children charged with indictable offences, i.e., cases in which a committal to an industrial school could be made under Section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908.

(iv) Persons sent to Institutions for defectives or placed under guardianship under Section 8 (1) (b) of the Mental Deficiency Act, 1913, in cases where the Court finds the charge proved, but does not proceed to a conviction.

(h.) Columns 8 and 16, "Committed for Trial and Detained," include all persons committed to prison and places of detention to await trial, whether they are subsequently released on bail or not.

(i.) Column 19 includes offences excluded from columns 3 to 18 by the rule set forth in note (d.) above, and also offences for which no proceedings were taken because they were taken into account by a Court in passing sentence for another offence.

Table XXIII.

(j.) The titles of the offences are the same as in Table XI (B), and, as in that Table, only criminal proceedings are included.

(k.) Notes (c.) and (d.) above apply to this table.

TABLE XXXII.—PRISONERS.—Receptions of Prisoners in each Prison.

(a). CRIMINAL PRISONERS.

Note.—This table gives the numbers of each class of criminal prisoners received in each prison during the year. In the case of prisoners committed for trial it is necessary to distinguish those who were and those who were not previously in prison on remand; otherwise in making up the total the same person would, in many cases, count twice—as a remand prisoner and as a prisoner committed for trial. Similarly convicted prisoners have to be divided into those who were and those who were not in detention before trial. The figures of the cases which thus appear a second or a third time are printed in italics, columns 3, 5 and 7. The total of criminal prisoners, column 10, is obtained by adding the figures in the other columns 2, 4, 6, 8 and 9. The table gives only the first receptions of prisoners on remand, committal for trial, &c. When prisoners are transferred from one prison to another they appear only in the return from the prison in which they are first received, not in that from the prison to which they are removed. Hence no receptions into convict prisons are shown, as all convicts undergo some detention in local prisons before transfer to convict prisons.

TABLE XLII.—PREVENTIVE DETENTION.—Particulars of Persons sentenced to Preventive Detention.

Note.—Under the provisions of the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, if a person convicted upon indictment of a crime and sentenced to penal servitude is an habitual criminal, the court, if of opinion that by reason of the offender's criminal habits and mode of life it is expedient for the protection of the public that he should be kept in detention for a lengthened period of years, may order that upon the determination of the sentence of penal servitude he undergo a period of preventive detention not exceeding ten years nor less than five years.

Persons undergoing preventive detention are subject to prison rules modified in the direction of less rigorous treatment and are confined in prisons set apart for the purpose. They are subjected to such disciplinary and reformatory influences and are employed on such work as may be best fitted to make them able and willing to earn an honest livelihood on discharge.

The cases of persons undergoing preventive detention are periodically reviewed with a view to discharge upon licence if there is a reasonable probability that the convict will abstain from crime and lead a useful and industrious life, or if he is no longer capable of engaging in crime, or if for any other reason it is desirable to release him from confinement in prison.

BORSTAL INSTITUTIONS.

Borstal Institutions are places in which young offenders, aged upon conviction not less than sixteen nor more than twenty-one years, may be given such industrial training and other instruction, and be subjected to such disciplinary and moral influences as will conduce to their reformation and the prevention of crime.

Courts of Assize and Quarter Sessions may sentence persons within the limits of age, who are convicted of offences punishable with penal servitude or imprisonment, to Borstal Detention for not less than one year nor more than three years.

Borstal Institutions have been established at Borstal, Canterbury, and Feltham for males, and at Aylesbury for females.

Table XLIII supplements the information given in Tables I, III, and V with regard to persons sentenced to Borstal Detention, and shows also in what manner the persons who left the Institutions during the year were disposed of. Other information concerning the inmates and management of Borstal Institutions is given in the Annual Report of the Commissioners of Prisons [Cd. 7837].

REFORMATORY AND INDUSTRIAL SCHOOLS.

Reformatory Schools are institutions to which youthful offenders between the ages of twelve and sixteen years are committed for industrial training. Industrial Schools receive for the same purpose children under the age of fourteen years who are charged with offences, or whose circumstances and surroundings are such as to make it probable that they will fall into criminal habits or modes of life or become the victims of criminal or immoral influences.

On the 31st December, 1914, there were in existence 37 reformatory schools (27 for male offenders and 10 for females), 134 residential industrial schools (83 for boys and 51 for girls), and 9 day industrial schools in which children of both sexes are received. The boys' residential industrial schools include 9 "short-term" schools, mainly devoted to offenders against the Education Acts, whom it is the practice to release on licence after a comparatively brief period of detention.

Tables XLIV and XLV supply information additional to the particulars given in Tables I, III, V, XI, and XVI, concerning the children and young persons committed by the courts to reformatory and industrial schools during the year, and also show in what manner those who left the institutions in the same period were disposed of. Particulars concerning the inmates and management of the institutions, including statistics of all children and young persons under orders of detention, are given in the Annual Report of the Chief Inspector of Reformatory and Industrial Schools [Cd. 8091].

(a.)—The classification of the grounds on which pardons, &c., are granted requires some further explanation:—

Column 3, "On grounds affecting the original Conviction," includes pardons or remissions of sentence granted on account of fresh evidence establishing the prisoner's innocence, or showing reasonable doubt as to guilt, or altering the view taken as to the legal character of the offence.

Column 5, "On medical grounds," includes persons discharged solely on medical grounds, e.g., persons whose lives were endangered by imprisonment, and women near their confinement, who, if longer detained, would not have been fit for discharge at the expiration of their sentence. Where the medical condition of the persons formed only a part of the grounds for the exercise of the prerogative, the cases are tabulated under other heads.

Column 7, "In simple mitigation of Sentence," in distinction from column 3, comprises all cases where the mitigation granted does not imply any alteration of the view taken by the Court as to the prisoner's guilt or as to the legal character of his offence, but where weight is given with or without a recommendation from the judge or magistrate, to such extenuating circumstances as youth, provocation, mental disturbance, &c.; also cases where remission is granted for reasons not cognizable to the Court, as where a short remission enables a prisoner to avail himself of some special opportunity of making a new start in life. This column also includes 381 special remissions to enable persons to rejoin or enlist in the Navy or Army. In some cases they were soldiers and naval seamen serving short sentences, but the majority were persons whose youth or previous good character justified the hope that they would avail themselves of this opportunity of retrieving their character.

Column 8, "Other Cases." Alien prisoners ordered to be deported, who were released a few days before the expiration of their sentence to facilitate arrangements for deportation.

(b.)—"Remanet."—When a convict is released on licence he is liable, if again convicted, to undergo a term of penal servitude equal to the portion of his original sentence unexpired at the time of his release. This is known as a "remanet."

JUDICIAL STATISTICS OF IRELAND FOR THE YEAR 1914.

PART I.—CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

REPORT

HIS EXCELLENCY IVOR CHURCHILL BARON WIMBORNE,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

I.—INTRODUCTORY REMARKS.

1.—Intro-
Remarks.

I have the honour of submitting to Your Excellency, my Report, derived from the Detailed Tables which are appended, relating to the number and nature of the Criminal Offences committed in Ireland during the year 1914.

The offences are divided into two classes, namely:—indictable and non-indictable, the indictable offences being dealt with in six classes as follows:—

Classifica-
offences.

Class I.—Offences against the person.

„ II.—Offences against property with violence.

„ III.—Offences against property without violence.

„ IV.—Malicious injuries to property.

„ V.—Forgery and offences against the currency.

„ VI.—Other offences not included in the above classes.

As far as possible the non-indictable offences are grouped, according to their character or in reference to the Statutes under which proceedings are taken. The figures relating to them are shown in the tables relating to the criminal business in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, in which the cases summarily disposed of are classified under two heads, viz.:—

A.—Indictable offences disposed of summarily.

B.—Other offences disposed of summarily.

Many of the minor cases in Section B, although classed as “offences,” partake more of a civil than of a criminal character.

In addition to the cases so disposed of, the proceedings in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction include a large number of quasi-criminal cases which are not contained in the tables relating to criminal offences, but are set forth separately in Table 17.

NOTE.—Three Schedules, showing in detail alterations in classification introduced in the year 1895, will be found on pages 33-55 of the Criminal Statistics for that year.

III.—
Crimes.*

III.—NATURE OF CRIMES.

With regard to each of the undermentioned six classes of crime, the figures quoted are taken from the returns of cases reported to the police.

The heads under which they are grouped are as follow:—

Classifica-
Table 19
and Com-
Table C.

CLASS I.—OFFENCES AGAINST THE PERSON.

CLASS II.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITH VIOLENCE.

CLASS III.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

CLASS IV.—MALICIOUS INJURIES TO PROPERTY.

CLASS V.—FORGERY AND OFFENCES AGAINST THE CURRENCY.

CLASS VI.—OTHER OFFENCES NOT INCLUDED IN THE ABOVE CLASSES.

The total number of such crimes (indictable offences) in 1914 was 8,504 (or 1 per 1,000 of the population), being 737 below the number for the preceding year and 1,427 below the number for the year 1912.

CLASS I.—OFFENCES AGAINST THE PERSON.

Offences

Indictable offences against the person, as known to the police, numbered 526 in the year 1907, and in the year 1908 rose to 627. In the year 1909 the number fell to 523, and rose in the year 1910 to 574, and again to 580 in 1911. There was a decline to 544 in the year 1912, an increase to 672 in 1913, and in the year under review the number decreased to 587.

There were 32 charges of murder in 1914; of these 22 were for murder of persons aged above one year, and 10 were for murder of infants aged one year or under, the total number of charges being 5 above the number for the preceding year, and above the average for the years 1909-13. Twenty attempts to murder were reported, as compared with 15 for the preceding year, 12 for the year 1912, 15 in the year 1911, and an average of 12 for the five years ending with 1913. The reported cases of manslaughter numbered 30, being 19 under the number for the year 1913, and 17 under the average for the five years 1909-1913. Altogether the cases coming under these three headings were 82 in number, being 9 under the number for 1913.

CLASS II.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITH VIOLENCE.

Offences
against

Offences against property with violence reported to the police, which were 800 in the year 1913, were 709 in the year under review, being 122 under the number for 1913, 251 under the number in 1912, and 152 under the average for the five years 1909-1913. The principal crimes in this class are house and shop breaking numbering 496, burglary 110, and robbery and assaults with intent to rob 51.

CLASS III.—OFFENCES AGAINST PROPERTY WITHOUT VIOLENCE.

Offences
against
violence.

The total offences in this class, numbering 6,067, include 5,818 cases of larceny as against 6,285 in the year 1913, and form over 71 per cent. of all indictable offences known to the police. The total number of offences was 6,525 in 1913, being 671 under the number in the year 1912.

CLASS IV.—MALICIOUS INJURIES TO PROPERTY.

III.—
Crimes.
Malicious
property.

The offences known to the police under this heading show a decrease of 55, from 651 in 1913 to 596 in 1914, and were in the latter year 163 under the average for the five years 1909-1913, but 42 over the average for the five years 1904-1908, and 86 under the average for the five years 1899-1903. These offences in 1914 included 241 cases of arson, 44 of setting fire to crops, plantations, &c., and 58 of killing and maiming cattle. There were 241 cases of other malicious injuries to property, as against 316 in the year 1913, and 349 in the year 1912.

CLASS V.—FORGERY AND OFFENCES AGAINST THE CURRENCY.

Offences against the Currency.

There were 57 offences in Class V. known in the year 1914, as against 44 in 1913, the average for the five years 1909-1913 being 50; the cases of coining and uttering counterfeit coin numbered 27 in 1914, as compared with 15 in 1913.

CLASS VI.—OTHER INDICTABLE OFFENCES.

Other
offences.

There was a decrease in the total of this group from 518 in 1913 to 488 in 1914. For the five years 1909-1913 the average number of such offences was 542. Among the offences in 1914 there were 209 cases of intimidation by Threatening Letters, notices, or otherwise (showing an increase of 5, as compared with the corresponding number for the preceding year). There were 45 (an increase of one, as compared with the preceding year) assaults by firing shots into dwelling-houses. The attempts to commit suicide numbered 116, as against 90 in the year 1913. Eighteen cases of habitual drunkenness were reported to the police, the number in 1913 being 22.

OFFENCES DISPOSED OF SUMMARILY.

Offences

In table 15 the proceedings in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction for each County and County of City for the year 1914 are shown. In this table the offences are grouped in two divisions (A) and (B) respectively. In section (A) some of the indictable offences, which have been discussed in the above remarks dealing with the police returns of crimes reported, will be found, namely—those in which the charges were disposed of in Courts of Summary Jurisdiction. This number in 1914 was 3,860, or 45.4 per cent. of the total number of indictable offences, and of these 3,860 offences, 3,465 were cases of simple larceny and offences punishable in such, as against 3,777 in 1913.

Section (B) includes all the non-indictable offences. Persons tried for such offences in 1914 numbered 163,041,* or 37.2 per 1,000 of the estimated population. The rate represented by offences of this class in 1912 was 44.5 per 1,000, and in 1913 it was 40.7 per 1,000. The cases in this Section include a large number partaking of a civil rather than of a criminal character, such as offences against Education Acts, offences in relation to Highway Acts, some of the offences against the Police Regulations, Dogs, Stage and Hackney Carriage Regulations, Sanitary Laws, Labour Laws, &c.

The number of cases of drunkenness (including drunkenness and disorderly conduct) has decreased for the whole of Ireland; such cases, including also cases of assaults, constituted 38.6 per cent. of the total offences committed in the year 1914, equal to the percentage of such offences in the year 1913. The number of assaults (including aggravated assaults, assaults on constables, and common assaults), in 1914 was 11,461, or 6.7 per cent. of all offences committed; in the year preceding the number was 12,869, or 6.9 per cent. of all offences committed.

Drunkenness and assaults.
Tables 15
and 16.

* See Note (†) on page viii.

III.—
Crimes.

The number of cases of drunkenness amounted to 54,715, being 31.9 per cent. of all offences committed, and 32.8 per cent of all cases disposed of summarily. Cases of assault decreased from 12,869 in 1913 to 11,461 in 1914; the charges of drunkenness show a decrease of 4,804—from 59,519 in 1913 to 54,715 in 1914.

The following tabular statement shows the cases of assault disposed of summarily, and the cases of drunkenness (including drunkenness and disorderly conduct) in 1914, compared with each of the ten years preceding, and also the annual average for these 10 years:—

	1904.	1905.	1906.	1907.	1908.	1909.	1910.	1911.	1912.	1913.	Average Annual Number 1904- 1913.	1914.
Assaults, Drunkenness & Drunk and Disorderly.	16,666	16,463	16,055	14,624	14,150	14,207	13,085	13,927	13,151	12,869	14,520	11,461
	81,775	79,968	77,262	76,860	74,267	68,748	64,322	62,819	63,623	59,519	70,916	54,715

It appears from the above statement that, both for assaults and drunkenness (including drunkenness and disorderly conduct), the numbers declined from the year 1904 to the year under notice—drunkenness from 81,775 cases in 1904 to 54,715 in 1914, and assaults from 16,666 in 1904 to 11,461 in 1914.

Amongst other offences which were disposed of summarily there were 21,809 by owners and drivers of carts, 11,638 cases of nuisances and obstructions, 2,492 cases of cruelty to animals, 761 cases of cruelty to children, 424 offences against the Game Laws, 1,433 cases of malicious damage, and 137 offences against the Vaccination Acts. Compared with the figures for the preceding year, offences by owners and drivers of carts show a decrease of 1,473, and cases of nuisances and obstructions a decrease of 2,771; there was a decrease of 178 in cases of cruelty to animals, and a decrease of 344 in cases of cruelty to children; the offences against the Game Laws decreased by 58 in 1914 as compared with 1913, and in cases of malicious damage there was a decrease of 48.

Quasi-CRIMINAL OFFENCES.

Table 17.

Table 17 gives the details of the business in the Courts of Summary Jurisdiction respecting quasi-criminal matters. From this table it appears that the total of applications for orders in such cases in 1914 amounted to 22,305. Of the total there were 7,619 cases relating to children, including 6,342 applications for school attendance orders, 1,264* for industrial School orders, and 5 for Probation Orders under the Children Act, 1908 [sec. 58 (4) and (60)]. Among other quasi-criminal offences are 3,622 applications for orders to find sureties to keep the peace or for good behaviour, and there were 3,201 applications under Sanitary Law, an increase of 236 as compared with 1913. The number of applications as to orders relating to dogs was 5,964 as compared with 7,854 in 1913.

The statement on the following page has been prepared for the purpose of studying the distribution of crime for the years 1913 and 1914 throughout the County and City Districts into which Ireland is divided for criminal jurisdiction and police purposes, showing the increase or decrease of criminal offences of all kinds in each district in the latter year:—

IV.—
Geographical Distribution of Crime in 1913 and 1914.

Offences in each county
and 23.

Taking the indictable offences committed as the standard for the estimation of the prevalence of crime, it appears for the county and city districts of Ireland such offences that there was an increase in 14 districts, and a decrease in 25, district, Londonderry City, showing no change.

The increase in indictable offences ranged from one in each of Waterford City, Monaghan, to 18 in Armagh County. Between these extremes the increases were Leitrim, 4 in Longford, 6 in King's County and Waterford County, 7 in Roscommon, 9 in Sligo, 10 in Cork, W.R., 12 in Belfast City, 15 in Antrim and Donegal, and Mayo.

The counties or cities in which a decrease of indictable crime is shown are:—the Dublin Metropolitan Police District there is a decrease of 233, in Dublin 59, Kildare 58, in Clare 48, in Cork, E.R., 43, in Limerick 35, in Queen's County 31, Cavan 29, in Kerry 28, in Cork City, Tipperary, N.R., and Tyrone 27, in Westmeath 25, in Kilkenny and Limerick City 23, in Meath and Galway 22, in Carlow 21, Londonderry 19, in Wexford 17, in Fermanagh 15, in Wicklow 12, in Tipperary, S.R., 9, in Louth 5, and in Down 3.

In 6 districts an increase and in 34 a decrease for non-indictable offences has taken place.

The numbers of all forms of offences, taken collectively, show an increase in 35 districts and a decrease in 34 districts.

The various districts are arranged from the lowest to the highest rate per 100 inhabitants (according to the Census of 1911), for each group, and for the total of all kinds of crime in the year 1914, in the following lists:—

According to the table which follows, it appears that (1) the aggregate rate for offences of all kinds, (2) the rate for all indictable offences, and (3) for all non-indictable offences in the large town districts of Ireland (viz., those which in 1911 had a population of 20,000 inhabitants or upwards) exceed the corresponding rates for all other places. For cases of drunkenness, however (which are included also in the non-indictable offences), the rate for the large town districts (11.0 per 1,000) is below that for the other parts of Ireland, the rate for the other parts being 12.9 per 1,000 of the Census population, 1911. Both these rates compare favourably with the corresponding rates for the year 1904, when the rate for drunkenness in the large town districts was 17.2 per 1,000, and the rate for all other parts of Ireland 3.6 per 1,000.

The rates for indictable offences per 1,000 of the population according to the Census of 1911 in the large town districts decreased in Dublin from 7.2 in 1913 to 6.6 in 1914; in Cork the rate decreased from 2.5 to 2.1; in Limerick from 2.7 to 2.1; in Belfast the rate increased from 4.5 to 4.6, and in Waterford and Londonderry the rates remained 2.7 and 3.0 respectively.

Of the total offences of all kinds reported in Ireland in 1914, numbering 171,545, there were 57,768, or 34 per cent., committed in the towns referred to in the foregoing statement, although the total population of these towns constituted only 22.5 per cent. of the population of Ireland in the year 1911. The total offences in the towns represented a ratio of 5,859 per 100,000 of the population, against 3,343 in the remainder of Ireland. The cases of drunkenness for the whole of Ireland having decreased by 4,804 in comparison with 1913, (as compared with a decrease of 104 in 1913 on the year 1912), form nearly a third of the total number of offences committed.

IV.—
Geographical Distribution of Crime.

Distribution of crimes in counties. Comparative Table E, Parts I. and II.

The average rates per 100,000 for the principal crimes (indictable offences) or groups of crimes are shown by counties for the 5 years, 1910–1914, in Table E, Part II. In Table E, Part I., the counties are arranged in order for each class of crime from that in which there was the least to that in which there was the greatest prevalence of crime, and in columns 2–6 inclusive the counties are grouped under certain degrees of criminality. From the first column in this Part, which shows for the five years 1910–1914 the average annual number of indictable offences per 100,000 of the population, it will be observed that the rates range from 66.37 per 100,000 in Leitrim to 679.01 in Dublin.* In 8 counties and ridings the rate was under 100; in 23 it ranged between 100 and 200; and in 3—Kildare (244.35), Antrim † (354.68), and, as above stated, Dublin (679.01)—it exceeded 200. The rates for “Crimes against Property,” “Crimes of Violence,” “Crimes against Morals,” and “Suicides” are given in columns 2, 3, 4, and 6 respectively.

A comparison of the average rates represented by cases of drunkenness for the quinquennial period 1910–1914 shows that in the counties of Mayo, Dublin (county and city), and Meath the lowest rates were recorded, and that the highest rates were for Limerick (county and city), Kerry, and Clare.

V.—PROCEDURE FOR THE PUNISHMENT OF CRIME.

V.—Procedure for the Punishment of Crime.

For the most part the initiation of proceedings in connection with the prosecution for serious offences committed in Ireland rests with the police, who act as public prosecutors. The duties of the offices of the Crown Solicitor and the Sessional Crown Solicitor are now amalgamated and performed by a Crown Solicitor in the following Counties:—Carlow, Cavan, Clare, Down, Dublin, Galway, Kerry, Kildare, Kilkenny, Leitrim, Limerick, Londonderry, Longford, Louth, Mayo, Meath, Monaghan, Queen's County, Roscommon, Sligo, Tipperary, Waterford, Westmeath, Wexford, and Wicklow. During the year 1905 the office of Sessional Crown Solicitor for Antrim and Belfast was added to the duties performed by the Crown Solicitor, and in Cork (County and City) a change was also made, the Crown Solicitorship being divided into two appointments, one for the East Riding and one for the West Riding. No change of offices has as yet taken place in the remaining Counties, Crown business at Assizes or Quarter Sessions being discharged by Crown or Sessional Crown Solicitors, respectively.

Districts Proclaimed. Tables 10, 11.

No district in Ireland was under proclamation under the provisions of the Criminal Law and Procedure (Ireland) Act, 1887, on the 31st December, 1914. In Table 11 it may be seen that on the 27th August, 1907, the following Counties were proclaimed under 6 Wm. IV., cap. 13, sec. 13:—Clare and Galway, and remained proclaimed on the 31st December, 1914.

Information regarding the criminal proceedings at Assizes and Quarter Sessions is furnished in Tables 1–7.

V.—Procedure for the Punishment of Crime.

In Table 8 a return is made by the Crown Solicitors and County and City Financial Officers of the costs of Criminal Proceedings for the year ended 31st March, 1914; it appears that the total amount for Assizes was £32,184, and for Quarter Sessions, £5,432, as compared with £34,358 and £5,709, respectively, for the year ended 31st March, 1913.

Comparative Table B exhibits a review for twenty years (1895-1914) of the number of persons tried summarily*; a list of the special offences for each year during the period, with the quinquennial averages, is also contained therein. Notes are supplied with Tables 14 and 15 explanatory of these Tables, and consequently of Comparative Table B. In connection with the subject of Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, attention may be again called to the Table (17) of Quasi-criminal cases dealt with already at page xii.

APPEALS TO QUARTER SESSIONS.

Information as to the appeals to Quarter Sessions from convictions by Magistrates, and the result of such appeals, are given for the year 1914 in Table 18. From Table A it will be seen that the appeals numbered 301, as against 358 in the year 1913. Of the total in 1914, 121 were affirmed, 87 were reversed, 49 were varied, and 44 were otherwise disposed of.

HABITUAL CRIMINALS AT LARGE.

Table 25 gives information by counties as to the number of habitual criminals at large in 1914. From this it will be seen that the total number is 146, comprising 109 thieves, 17 receivers, and 20 persons otherwise habitually engaged in crime.

PERSONS IN CONFINEMENT.

The admissions to places of detention of persons committed in the year 1914 under the various methods of procedure for the punishment or the prevention of crime are shown as follows:—

ADMISSIONS TO PLACES OF DETENTION.	Men and Boys.	Women and Girls.	Total.
Total in all Ireland,	17,615	9,289	26,904

Into Lunatic Asylums (criminal and dangerous lunatics), .	1,494	927	2,421
Into Industrial Schools,	614	586	1,200

The above statement shows that there were 26,904 persons admitted to places of confinement during the year 1914, and that of these 9,289, or more than one-third, were females, and 17,615 were males. The total (26,904) includes 2,421 lunatics admitted into asylums, and 1,200 children admitted into industrial schools; so that 3,621, or more than 13 per cent. of the total admissions to places of detention were of persons who cannot be considered as criminals. In addition to these exceptions there were 33 inebriates sent to reformatories and 49 youthful offenders sentenced to detention in a Borstal institution. See Tables 43 and 44.

During the year 1914 the receptions of prisoners numbered 23,137, being 2,098 under the number for 1913, and 6,131 below that for 1912. Compared with 1913, the admissions of criminal and dangerous lunatics to Lunatic Asylums show an increase of 121. The number of children admitted to Industrial Schools in 1913 was 1,343, the number in 1914 being 1,200; and the admissions to Reformatories were 169 in the year 1913, and 146 in 1914.

PRISONS.

The following statement gives by age-periods and sexes the number of convicted prisoners (other than those committed for naval and military offences) committed to the local prisons, bridewells, and convict prisons during the year 1914 (see Table 37):—

Among the 7,139 convicted females committed to prison in the year 1914. The number of convicted females committed to prison in the year 1914 shows a decrease of 18 when compared with that for the year 1913. There were 2 boys between 12 and 16 years of age convicted and committed to prison. The total number of convicted males committed to prison was 12,214, or 5,075 more than the number of convicted females. A decrease of 2,313 is shown in the number of convicted males during 1914, as compared with the number in 1913. Of the males, 14.5 per cent., and of the females, 11.6 per cent., were over 50 years of age. In Table 32 the number of prisoners received into each prison will be found, and in Tables 33a and 33b particulars as to the disposal of prisoners are given. Particulars as to the nature of sentences are given in Table 34, and details regarding the length of these sentences in Table 35.

VI.—
Criminals and others in confinement and known Criminals at large.

Of those admitted to prison many were persons previously convicted, or who were habitual criminals. Of 19,353 convicted prisoners admitted to the local prisons, bridewells, and convict prisons during the year 1914, there were 15,883, or over 80 per cent., who had been previously convicted. Of these, 1,493 had been once previously convicted, 1,188 twice, 1,006 thrice, 890 four times, 833 five times, 499 six to ten times, 2,758 from eleven to twenty times, and 5,216 above twenty times. The figures for the last two periods show that there were 7,974 committals of persons, or more than 41 per cent. of the total number of convicted prisoners admitted to prison during the year, who had previously been convicted upwards of ten times, as compared with 8,691, or 40 per cent., in the year 1913.

Information regarding the birthplaces of those committed to prison is furnished in Table 38.

Birthplaces of prisoners. Table 38.

The state of education of the prisoners convicted in 1914 and the state of education of persons of 12 years and upwards of the general population, as ascertained from the Irish Census returns for 1911, are compared in the following table:—

General Total,	12,214	7,139	19,353	100.0	100.0	100.0	100.0	100.0	100.0

From the above statement it appears that, while 20.8 per cent. of the convicted prisoners committed to prison in 1914 were absolutely illiterate, only 9.7 per cent of the general population in 1911, aged 12 years and upwards, were in a similar condition as regards education. It must, however, be borne in mind that the Census figures here quoted are for the population of all ranks, and are not limited to the classes which furnish the great bulk of the prisoners.

Although previous occupations of convicted prisoners are given in Table 40, it is impossible to institute comparisons between the occupations of prisoners and those of the general population in a manner similar to that adopted above regarding education, as the classification of occupations is different in several respects from that employed by the Census Commissioners in their Report. It may, however, be gathered that, of the 19,353 prisoners convicted, 213 belonged to the domestic servant class; 10,151 to labourers, charwomen, and needlewomen; 241 to the class of factory workers; 1,593 to the class of mechanics and skilled workers; 38 were foremen or overlookers of labour; 103 belonged to the class of shopmen, shopwomen, and clerks; 1,904 to the class of shopkeepers and dealers; 5 to professional employment; 311 to the class of sailors, marines, and soldiers; and 2,811 (or more than 39 per cent. of the 7,139 female prisoners) are classified as prostitutes. It should be observed that some of the prisoners were committed to prison more than once during the year, and that the above figures denote the number of committals of convicted prisoners, and not the number of individuals committed.

HABITUAL DRUNKARDS.

State Inebriate Reformatories.
Table 43.

Table 43 gives information regarding the receptions and discharges from Inebriate Reformatories in the year 1914. It appears from Section A of the Table that there was a total of 33, of males 8 and of females 25, admitted during the year of the total, 15 were on indictment and 18 were summarily committed. In Section B it may be seen that the discharges numbered 55—namely, 41 discharged on expiry of sentence, 12 released on licence, and 2 were discharged by order of the Lord Lieutenant.

PREVENTION OF CRIME (CLONMEL BORSTAL INSTITUTION).

Clonmel Borstal Institution.
Table 44.

Table 44, in three divisions, furnished by the Prisons Board, shows the number of persons received in 1914 into the Clonmel Borstal Institution—namely, 49. The second division gives the offences and the periods of detention ordered, and the third the number of inmates licensed, discharged, or otherwise disposed of during the year.

PREVENTIVE DETENTION (HABITUAL CRIMINALS).

Table 45.

Table 45, which has been prepared by the Prisons Board, embodies the particulars regarding Male Prisoners serving sentences of preventive detention in 1914. From this it appears that 10 prisoners were serving sentences of preventive detention at the beginning of the year, that 7 began to serve sentences during the year, and that 6 prisoners were released; the second division of the table shows the offences and periods of preventive detention; the third gives the previous convictions; and in the fourth the ages of the prisoners are given.

REFORMATORY SCHOOLS.

Reformatory Schools—
Number in confinement, &c.
Tables 46-48.

The principal details regarding Reformatory and Industrial Schools of Ireland are given in Tables 46-51.

The number of children admitted upon conviction to Reformatories during the year 1914 was 144, showing a decrease of 25 as compared with the committals for the preceding year, the boys committed numbering 125, or 34 less than in the year 1913; and the girls 19, or 9 more than the number for 1913.

The following tables deal with juvenile criminals, male and female, under Reformatory control in the year 1914, the particulars for which have been extracted from Tables 46-48.

The ages of the children admitted upon conviction to Reformatory Schools during the year 1914 are given as follows:—

Ages of children when admitted.	Boys and Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Percentage of total.
				Boys.	Girls.
Total,	144	125	19	100.	100.
12 and under 14 years, . . .	56	52	4	41·6	21·1
14 and under 16 years, . . .	88	73	15	58·4	78·9

It will be seen that of the 125 boys admitted to Reformatory Schools during the year 1914, there were 73 boys (or 58 per cent.) between 14 and 16 years of age, and of the 19 girls, 15 (or 79 per cent.) were stated to be 14 and under 16 years of age on admission.

In the subjoined statement the state of instruction (on admission) of children committed to Reformatory Schools is shown:—

	Boys.	Girls.	Proportion per cent.

Degree of education
Table 47.

It appears that 20 of the children admitted upon conviction to Reformatory Schools in 1914 could read and write with moderate proficiency, and 2 could read and write well.

Table 47 shows that of the total of the youthful offenders committed, 59 of the boys and all the girls (19) had not been previously convicted.

The number of children in Reformatory Schools discharged or otherwise disposed of is given in Table 48. From this it appears that of the total (160) discharged 129 were discharged on expiry of sentence, and 3 were discharged by the Chief Secretary absolutely. There were 63 licences issued. Under the heading "apprenticed, enlisted, emigrated before expiry of sentence," 26 children were returned.

Table 48.

The number of young persons finally discharged from Reformatories in Ireland during 1914 is shown in the following table:—

Number finally discharged.

Otherwise,	28	28	—

It will be observed that the 160 discharges comprise 141 of boys and 19 of girls.

Particulars regarding the number of licences granted or revoked are shown in the following table:—

Education.
Table 50.

The following statement gives the state of education (on admission) of the boys and girls admitted to Industrial Schools in Ireland during the year 1914:—

	Year 1914.		Proportion per cent.
	Boys.	Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
Neither read nor write,	376	337	61·2	57·5
Read and write imperfectly,	182	179	29·7	30·5
Moderate proficiency in reading and writing,	38	63	6·2	10·8
Read and write well,	18	7	2·9	1·2
Superior education,	—	—	—	—
Total,	614	586	100·	100·
	1,200

It will be seen from the above that the number of children admitted to Industrial Schools in Ireland during the year 1914 was 1,200, of whom 614 were males and 586 were females. With reference to the observations regarding the education of children who were sent to Reformatories, it may be noted that only 2·9 per cent. of the boys and 1·2 per cent. of the girls sent to Industrial Schools could read and write well.

Ages on Schools.

Table 50.

The ages of the children placed in Industrial Schools in the year 1914 are shown in the following tabular statement:—

AGES OF CHILDREN.	Boys and Girls.	Boys.	Girls.	Percentage of Total.
				Boys.	Girls.
Total,	1,200	614	586	100·	100·
Under 6 years,	280	99	181	16·1	30·9
6 and under 8 years,	206	104	102	16·9	17·4
8 and under 10 years,	256	124	132	20·2	22·5
10 and under 12 years,	279	176	103	28·7	17·6
12 and under 14 years,	179	111	68	18·1	11·6

The total number of children admitted to Industrial Schools in Ireland fell from 1,343 in 1913 to 1,200 in 1914. The number of girls admitted decreased from 646 in 1913 to 586 in 1914, and the number of boys from 697 in the year 1913 to 614 in the year under notice.

It will be seen that of the boys admitted during last year, 53·2 per cent., and of the girls 70·8 per cent. were brought under training in these schools before they had reached the age of ten years.

Discharges
and Licences.
Table 51.

The numbers of discharges and licences are returned in Table 51. The particulars regarding licences granted or revoked in the year 1914 are shown in the following statement:—

Licences granted or revoked in the year 1914.	Boys and Girls.	Boys.	Girls.
Number released on licence for first time,	403	318	85
Number released on licence after revocation of previous licence,	16	8	8
Number of licences revoked,	43	29	14
Number of children under 8 received during the year who were boarded out,	—	—	—

It appears from the above that 403 children (318 boys and 85 girls) were released on licence for the first time; that 16 children (8 boys and 8 girls) were released on licence after revocation of previous licence, and that in 43 cases (29 boys and 14 girls) the licences previously granted were revoked.

The classification of admissions to Industrial Schools is given in Table 49.

CRIMINAL AND DANGEROUS LUNATICS.

The following summary gives information extracted from Tables 52-56 regarding the judgments or orders of committal under which criminal and dangerous lunatics were committed to asylums in Ireland in 1914:—

JUDGMENT OR ORDER OF COMMITTAL.	Number.	Proportion per cent.	Criminal and Dangerous Lunatics. Tables 52-56.
Total committed during year,	2,421	100.0
Committed to asylums by Justices as dangerous,	2,329	96.2
Transmitted from prisons by Lord Lieutenant's warrant :—
Certified insane after conviction,	38	1.6
Found insane on arraignment,	20	0.8
Became insane after committal and before trial,	10	0.4
Special verdict of guilty, but insane,	2	0.1
Admitted under Army Act, 1881, sec. 91,	19	0.8
Admitted under Naval Enlistment Act, 1884, sec. 3,	3	0.1

It would appear that the total number of criminal and dangerous lunatics who were committed to asylums during the year 1914 was 2,421; of these, 96.2 per cent., were committed to asylums by Justices as being dangerous. Only 2.9 per cent. were transmitted from prisons by the Lord Lieutenant's warrant; 19, or 0.8 per cent., were committed under the Army Act, 1881, sec. 91; and 3 under the Naval Enlistment Act, 1884, sec. 3.

Tables 52, 53, and 54 give statistics as to criminal lunatics, and statistics relating to dangerous lunatics will be found in Tables 55 and 56.

VII.—POLICE ESTABLISHMENTS.

In the following counties the proportion of Police to the population in 1914 is the lowest:—

Exclusive of officers of the Royal Irish Constabulary and of the Dublin Metropolitan Police, the proportion of Police (effective strength) in Ireland was 26 to every 10,000 of the estimated population in 1914:

Detectives.

In the Royal Irish Constabulary, members of the different branches in the Force are selected for special duty when necessary; but in the Dublin Metropolitan Police, an entire division, consisting of one Superintendent, 4 Inspectors, and 39 men (16 Sergeants, 10 Constables, and 13 detective officers), are employed as detectives.

Notes to Tables 1, 3, and 5.

(a.) The titles of offences (Column 1) are much condensed. The fuller titles, and the offences comprised under each head, are given on page 36 of the Criminal Statistics for 1895 except in some few cases where subsequent enactments have made further changes necessary.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is prosecuted at the same Assizes or Sessions for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation; and the rule followed is to select that for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage—to trial if there were several indictments, to conviction and sentence if prisoner was tried on several charges. If there are several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence (as measured by the maximum penalty allowed by law) appears in the Tables.

(c.) Where, in addition to the offence thus selected for detailed tabulation, the same person is prosecuted for other offences of a distinct character, and charged in separate indictments, the number of these additional charges is given in columns 24 to 26 of the Tables, column 24 giving the total number of such charges, column 25 the number resulting in convictions, and column 26 the number for which separate sentences (not concurrent with those in columns 11 to 19) are passed. Only distinct offences charged in separate indictments are included in these columns; additional indictments merely varying the form of the charge, and additional charges appearing as counts in the same indictment, are excluded.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted for another (e.g. committed for murder and convicted of manslaughter), the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) Columns 2, 3, and 4 ("Numbers for Trial") include only such cases as actually come before the Assizes or Quarters Sessions. Persons who die, escape from prison, abscond while on bail, or are removed to an asylum before trial, are not included.

(f.) Column 13 ("Imprisonment") does not include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, or in default of finding sureties.

(g.) Columns 19 and 23 ("Recognizances") include cases where recognizances are required, whether with or without sureties and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(h.) Columns 20 to 23 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence.

of the Metropolitan Police District (416,104), we obtain the figure in above table for Dublin outside the Metropolitan Police District

Notes to Tables 14, 15 16.

(a.) These Tables include only offences tried summarily. All indictable offences where the Court does not actually assume the power to determine the case summarily are excluded. Further, these Tables include only cases where the proceedings are criminal—that is, lead if successful to a conviction. There are a large number of cases which are quasi-criminal in character, but where the procedure is by complaint, leading, not to a conviction, but to the making of an order. These are provided for in a separate Table—No. 17.

(b.) The Tables show the number of persons prosecuted, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is prosecuted at the same time for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in Tables 1, 3 and 5 (see notes to those Tables).

(c.) The offences included under each of the titles of offences in Column 1 are stated on page 46 of the Criminal Statistics for the year 1895, except in some few cases where subsequent Enactments have made further changes necessary.

Notes to Table 14.

(d.) Table 14 corresponds to Tables 1, 3, and 5, and (as regards length of sentences) to Tables 2 and 4.

(e.) Column 7, “Committed to Industrial Schools,” includes only those committals to Industrial Schools where an offence is charged. Other committals to Industrial Schools where the proceedings are not criminal appear in Table 17, and also in Tables 49 to 51.

(f.) Columns 10 to 16, “Imprisonment,” do not include terms of imprisonment in default of paying fine or of finding sureties.

(g.) Column 18, “Reformatory School,” contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received in reformatories are given in Table 46.

(h.) Columns 20 and 24, “Fine,” include all cases where a fine is imposed, whether the fine is paid or not. The number of persons committed to prison in default of paying fines is given in Tables 34 and 35.

(i.) Columns 21 and 25, “Recognizances,” include all cases where the defendant is ordered to find sureties, whether the sureties are found or not. It must be remembered, however, that the Table applies only to convictions, and that it does not include cases where a person is required to find sureties upon complaint. These cases are included in Table 17.

Note to Table 15.

(k.) This Table corresponds to Table 6.

Note to 16.

(l.) Section (A) of this Table gives the ages of all persons convicted summarily of indictable offences; section (B), however, contains only persons apprehended and convicted; persons convicted on summons have to be excluded on account of the difficulty of ascertaining their ages.

POLICE RETURNS.

Notes to Table 19.

(a.) Column 1, "Offences."—The titles of the offences are the same as in Tables 1 to 5.

(b.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes known to the Police."—This column includes all crimes reported to the police within the year whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension takes place within the year or not.

(c.) If there is a committal or conviction within the year, the Table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Failing this, the charge which is named in the summons or warrant on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.

(d.) In columns 3 to 18 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in Tables 1 to 5—the charge resulting in conviction or committal for trial has preference to the others; and subject to this the more serious offence is selected. If there are two or more convictions at the same time, that for which the heavier sentence is inflicted is regarded as the more serious. These columns include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's tables.

(e.) Columns 4 and 12, "Discharged," contain cases where the Magistrate does not assume power to try the case summarily, but discharges the accused under Section 15 of the Petty Sessions (Ireland) Act, 1851, or Section 25 of the Indictable Offences (Ireland) Act, 1849.

(f.) Columns 5 and 13, "Tried Summarily and Acquitted," contain cases where, after the Magistrate has decided to deal summarily with the case, the charge is dismissed or withdrawn.

(g.) Columns 6 and 14, "Charge proved and order made without conviction," contain cases dealt with under Sections 1 and 2 of the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907, and cases of children charged with indictable offences committed to industrial schools or to the custody of relatives, &c.

(h.) Columns 8 and 16, "Committed for Trial and Detained," include all persons committed to prison or place of detention to await trial, whether they are subsequently released on bail or not.

Notes to Table 20.

(i.) The titles of the offences are the same as in Table 14 (b), and, as in that Table, only criminal proceedings are included.

(j.) Notes (c) and (d) above apply to this Table.

RETURNS FROM THE SEVERAL COUNTIES.

TABLE 25.—Numbers of Habitual Criminals at Large, and TABLE 26.—Numbers of Houses of Bad Character.

The enumeration for the purposes of these Tables was made on the first Tuesday in April, 1914.
 Columns 2 to 5, "Number of Habitual Criminals at Large," include persons who are known to engage habitually in crime as their means, or part of their means, of livelihood. Persons previously convicted, but not habitual criminals, are not included. Crime is understood in the sense given to it by the definition in Section 20 of the Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871, viz.: any felony, and the following misdemeanours:—Uttering or possessing counterfeit coin, false pretences, conspiracy to defraud, and possession of house-breaking implements, or any offence under Section 58 of the Larceny Act, 1861.
 Column 7, "Houses of Receivers of Stolen Goods," includes houses reasonably suspected of being used for the receipt of stolen goods, whether there is an actual conviction against the occupier or not.
 Columns 8, 9, and 10 include all houses where thieves and other habitual criminals regularly resort and meet each other, whether or not the occupiers of the houses are suspected of wilfully harbouring them or of complicity in their crimes.

Notes to Table 32.

(a.) This Table gives the numbers of each class of prisoners received in each prison during the year. In the case of prisoners committed for trial, it is necessary to distinguish between those who were and those who were not previously in prison on remand; otherwise in making up the total the same person would, in many cases, count twice—as a remand prisoner and as a prisoner committed for trial. Similarly, convicted prisoners have to be divided into those who were and those who were not in detention before trial. The headings of the cases which thus appear a second or a third time are printed in italics, columns 3, 5, and 7. The total of criminal prisoners in column 10, is obtained by adding the figures in the other columns, 2, 4, 6, 8, and 9.

The Table gives only the first receptions of prisoners on remand, committed for trial, &c. When prisoners are transferred from one prison to another, they appear only in the return from the prison in which they are first received, not in that from the prison to which they are removed. Since convicts, as a rule, undergo some detention in local prisons before transfer to a convict prison, they appear as receptions only in the local prison returns.

(b.) Column 12, "Debtors," comprises all persons who are treated as debtors in prison including bankrupts imprisoned to prevent absconding, &c.

Note to Table 33.

SECTION (a).

(c.) This Table gives, in columns 2 to 9, the number of prisoners on remand who are disposed of within the year. It, therefore, includes those in prison on remand on 1st January, but not those on remand and still undisposed of on 31st December. Those who after remand are discharged appear in column 3, those convicted summarily in column 4, those committed for trial in column 5.

(d.) Similar remarks apply to columns 10 to 15. Prisoners waiting trial on 1st January are included; those waiting trial and not disposed of on 31st December are excluded.

SECTION (b).

(e.) This Table shows only the final disposal of each convicted prisoner released or removed during the year. Each case appears only under the prison from which the prisoner is finally discharged or removed. If a prisoner has been removed from one prison to another, his case is included in the figures for the last prison only.

Notes to Table 34.

(f.) This Table includes all cases received under sentence during the year from 1st January to 31st December, whether in prison before conviction or not.

(g.) All prisoners appear in the return from the prison in which they are first received after sentence, and not in the return for any prison to which they may be subsequently removed.

(h.) Column 5 contains only cases where a licence is forfeited on conviction by a Court of Summary Jurisdiction for an offence under section 5 of the Prevention of Crimes Act, 1871, as amended by Section 4 of the Penal Servitude Act, 1891. Other cases of forfeiture and all cases of revocation of licence are included in column 21.

Note to Table 35.

(i.) In this Table two sentences passed at the same time and ordered to run consecutively are treated as one sentence equal in length to the two added together. If the sentences differ in character, e.g. a sentence of imprisonment with hard labour, and a sentence of imprisonment without hard labour, the entry is made in the column for the severer form of punishment, i.e., in this case, imprisonment with hard labour. In the case of concurrent sentences, the longer only is given.

Note to Table 37.

(j.) Where the actual date of birth is known, the age is given for the birthday immediately preceding the date of reception in prison. In other cases the age is given as nearly as possible.

NOTE to TABLE 46.

This Table does not include re-admissions on expiration or revocation of licence, or on re-capture after escape; nor are admissions on transfer from other Reformatory Schools in Ireland included.

NOTE to TABLE 48

Column 3 does not include children whose sentences expire while they are at large after escape, nor those who, having been recalled to school—under Section 68 of the Children Act, 1908—after the expiration of their sentences, are again discharged.

NOTE to TABLE 49.

The following are the different classes of committals distinguished in columns 4 to 17:—

Column 4.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, found begging or receiving alms (whether or not there is any pretence of singing, playing, performing, offering anything for sale, or otherwise), or being in any street, premises or place for the purpose of so begging or receiving alms (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 5.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, found wandering and not having any home or settled place of abode, or visible means of subsistence, or found wandering and having no parent or guardian, or a parent or guardian who does not exercise proper guardianship (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 6.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, found destitute, either being orphans, or having both parents, or the surviving parent, or in the case of an illegitimate child the mother, undergoing penal servitude or imprisonment (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, secs. 133 (17) and 58 (1)).

Column 7.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, who are under the care of parents or guardians who, by reason of criminal or drunken habits, are unfit to have them under their care (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 8.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, who are the daughters, whether legitimate or illegitimate, of a father who has been convicted of an offence under section four or section five of the Criminal Law Amendment Act, 1885, in respect of any of his daughters, whether legitimate or illegitimate (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 9.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, frequenting the company of any reputed thief, or of any common or reputed prostitute (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 10.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, lodging or residing in a house or the part of a house used by any prostitute for the purpose of prostitution, or otherwise living in circumstances calculated to cause, encourage, or favour their seduction or prostitution (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (1)).

Column 11.—Children, apparently under the age of 12 years, charged before a court of assize or quarter sessions or a petty sessional court with an offence punishable in the case of an adult by penal servitude or a less punishment (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (2)).

Column 12.—Children, apparently of the age of 12 or 13 years, not previously convicted, charged before a petty sessional court with an offence punishable in the case of an adult by penal servitude or a less punishment, and who have satisfied the court that, having regard to the special circumstances of the case, they should not be sent to a certified reformatory school, and that their character and antecedents are such that they will not exercise an evil influence over the other children in the industrial school (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (3)).

Column 13.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, whose parents or guardians have proved to a petty sessional court that they are unable to control them, and desire them to be sent to an industrial school, understanding the results which will follow (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (4)).

Column 14.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, inmates of a workhouse or district poor law school, in respect of whom the guardians of the poor law union represent that they are refractory, or that they are children of parents either of whom has been convicted of an offence punishable with penal servitude or imprisonment, and that it is desirable that the children should be sent to a certified industrial school (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 58 (5)).

Column 15.—Children, apparently under the age of 14 years, sent to an Industrial school on complaint of a School Attendance Committee for the purpose of enforcing an attendance order made under the 4th Section of the Irish Education Act, 1892 (8 Edw. VII., ch. 67, sec. 133 (20)).

Column 16.—Children ordered to be sent to Day Industrial Schools who wilfully neglect to attend thereat, or wilfully neglect or refuse to conform to the rules of the School (Order in Council of 15th April, 1910, Arts. 8 and 9).

Column 17.—Children ordered to be sent to Industrial Schools for contraventions of bye-laws for the regulation of street trading made under the Employment of Children Act, 1903

JUDICIAL STATISTICS OF IRELAND

FOR THE YEAR 1914.

REPORT

HIS EXCELLENCY IVOR CHURCHILL, BARON WIMBORNE,

LORD LIEUTENANT-GENERAL AND GENERAL GOVERNOR OF IRELAND.

I have the honour of submitting to your Excellency the Report on the Judicial Statistics (Volume II. Civil), of Ireland for the year 1914.

I have dealt with the Courts and Offices under two headings or primary Divisions, treating separately these relating to the Central and these relating to the Local Administration of Justice—the latter being grouped by larger and smaller Districts according to the nature and extent of the Special Jurisdiction exercised. Arrangement of Tables.

The details of the business of the Courts forming the subject of this Report are contained in the Tables commencing at page 28 of this Volume.

I. CENTRAL ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE.

Under the heading of Central Administration of Justice are comprised Original and Appellate Jurisdictions. Central Administration of Justice.

The Chancery and King's Bench Divisions forming the High Court of Justice in Ireland are now the Central Courts of first instance, the Courts of Exchequer and Common Pleas, the Probate Court, the Court of Admiralty, and the Court of Bankruptcy having under the various Irish Judicature Acts become merged with the Queen's or King's Bench Division.

With the High Court of Justice His Majesty's Court of Appeal forms the Supreme Court of Judicature, and exercises appellate jurisdiction over the former, its decisions being in some cases liable to revision by the House of Lords. Other Central Appellate Jurisdictions are those exercised by the Privy Council and the Court for Crown Cases reserved.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE—CHANCERY DIVISION.

Chancery Division.

The Court business in the Chancery Division during the years 1913 and 1914 with the increase or decrease under each heading in the year 1914 is given in the following comparative statement.

From the foregoing comparison it appears that there was a decrease of 8 in the number of summonses to proceed on Originating Petitions to take minors into wardship, a decrease of 10 in summonses for the administration of estates, a decrease of 17 in originating summonses for other purposes, and a decrease of 61 in other summonses than to originate proceedings. At the termination of the year under review 970 Minors were under the Wardship of the Lord Chancellor. In the preceding year the number was 973, and in the year 1912 it was 946. From a return made by the Clerk of Judgments, Records and Writs it appears that there were 348 actions by writ of summons, being 36 under the number in 1913 and 71 under that for 1912. The proportion of lower scale to higher scale was as 8 to 92 per cent. The originating summonses (550) were 16 under the number of summonses filed in 1913. In the Notice Department there were 7,647 original documents or 469 under the number in 1913 and 470 less than the number for 1912; there were 22,794 copies, being 1,657 under the number in 1913, and 1,784 less than the number for 1912.

The Lord Chancellor made 31 Orders on Petitions as to Commissioners for administering oaths for the High Court of Justice, as compared with 16 made in the year 1913. There were 5 Orders on Petitions as to Notaries, and there were 13 Orders as to other Petitions, including minor Petitions. Warrants for Commissions of the Peace numbered 447, as compared with 260 in 1913 and 288 in 1912. As in the years 1912 and 1913, there were no warrants as to Coroners.

The Secretary of The Master of the Rolls reports that the Petitions set down for hearing before the Master of the Rolls (included in Table 5) numbered 15, of which 13 were on the higher scale and 2 were on the lower scale.

From a return of the proceedings made by the Clerk of the Crown and Hanaper Office it appears that those for the year 1914 numbered 3,390; this number shows an increase of 89 as compared with that for the year 1913, the number in the year under review including 526 writs issued for the election of Representative Peers.

LAND JUDGE.

A return of Judicial Proceedings before the Land Judge for the year ended 1st November, 1914, is given in table 8. This return shows that the gross annual value of Estates sold under the Land Judge was £6,612, and the amount of purchase-money of such Estates was £52,344 cash and £53,380 land stock. In the year 1913 the gross annual value of the Estates sold was £7,172, and the amount of purchase-money for such Estates was £94,274 cash, and £35,627 land stock. These sums are the proceeds of the sale of Estates of various classes, that is to say:—Estates which the owner in the matter held in fee-simple or in which he had only a life estate, or other terminable interest, the purchase-moneys in such latter cases only representing the value of the owner's interest. A large proportion of the Estates were sold to the occupying tenants, and in all these cases the purchase-moneys include not only the value of the owner's interest in the Estate, but the value of the superior interest which, under the Land Purchase Acts, it is necessary to redeem so as to vest the fee-simple in the tenants.

Matters in reference to which proceedings were originated before the Land Judge during the year by Petition or statements of facts numbered 19, being one under the number that originated in the year ending 1st November, 1913.

In a return furnished by the Clerks of Records and Writs it appears that in the year ended 31st October, 1914, there were 18 petitions filed, being equal to the number filed in 1913, but 7 under the number in 1912. Of the total, 2 were by owners. The number of affidavits filed was 464, or 107 under that for 1913, and 217 below the number for 1912.

In a return of Proceedings made by the Keeper of Deeds it is stated that in the year ended 1st November, 1914, there were 3 abstracts of title lodged, or 11 less than the number lodged in the preceding year. The number of deeds or other documents lodged was 615; in 1913 the corresponding number was 599.

KING'S BENCH DIVISION.

The information relating to the Proceedings of the Plea side in the year 1914 has been furnished by three officials—namely, the Master of the Court, the Registrar, and the Clerk of Judgments, Records and Writs. In the course of the year now under review the number of writs of summons issued was 12,772, showing a decrease of 522 as compared with the year 1913, and a decrease of 1,668 in comparison with 1912. The number of cases which actually came to trial by jury in Dublin in 1914 was 207, being 3 more than the number in 1913, which was 29 less than the number in 1912. The amount of money recovered at these trials, which was £13,882 in the year 1912, rose to £14,095 in the year 1913, but declined to £10,467 in the year under notice.

There were 37 appeals from interlocutory orders from divisions of the High Court of Justice heard, and judgment delivered, including ex parte appeals, viz.:—7 from the Chancery and 30 from the King's Bench Division. The appeals from other Judges or Courts heard were 36; of these 5 were Registry of Voters' Appeals, 14 were Workmen's Compensation Act Appeals; 10 were appeals from the Irish Land Commission, 2 were appeals under the County Court Appeal (Ireland) Act, 1889, 2 were under the Local Government (Ireland) Act, 1898, Section 5, and 3 under the Town Tenant's (Ireland) Act, 1906. There were 4 original motions heard. The judgments delivered were 119, as compared with 181 in the year 1913. In 55 of these the judgment below was affirmed; in 49 it was reversed; it was varied in 9; and 6 cases were remanded for further enquiry (see Table). The number of days on which the Court of Appeal sat was 116.

Table 41.

There were 3 petitions to the Privy Council lodged against by-laws under the Fisheries (Ireland) Acts, and one remained from the previous year; and 2 applications under the Tramways (Ireland) Acts remained from the previous year. There was one objection to By-law under the Advertisements Regulation Act 1907, which besides an objection remaining from previous year was disposed of by by-law being disallowed or varied. A petition with regard to the proposed Auxiliary Asylum for the Counties of Cavan and Monaghan at Cootehill was rejected.

* Including £6,352 adopted as the value of £28,250, and 7,000 rupees in foreign currency, but exclusive of terminable annuities amounting to £1,710.

The Clerk of the Parliaments supplied a Table from which it appears that there were 7 applications from Ireland presented to the House of Lords in the year 1914, and that 2 appeals were pending from 1913. Three judgments were delivered during the year, in two of which the decision below was affirmed, and one cause was reversed. Two causes were dismissed for want of prosecution and one was withdrawn. At the close of the year 3 causes remained for hearing.

The Clerk of the Crown furnished a Return showing that there were no cases of the nature of those reserved for the Judges of the King's Bench Division, as to cases not within the 11 & 12 Vic., cap. 78, before the Judges in 1914.

The District Registries for the purposes of Local Probate business in Ireland are eleven in number.

The total number of Probates and Administrations at both Central and District Registries in the aggregate in 1914 was 11,855, being 172 under the number granted in 1913, which number was 661 over the number granted in 1912.

Proving of Wills through Officers of Inland Revenue.

Local facilities are afforded for obtaining grants of probate or letters of administration under the 33rd Section of "The Customs and Inland Revenue Act, 1881," where the gross value of the personal estate of the deceased does not exceed £300, and by section 16 of "The Finance Act, 1894," the limit has been extended to £500. In 1914 there were in Ireland 206 stations where officers of Customs and Excise were authorized to deal with applications under the provisions referred to.

The proceedings in the Local Bankruptcy Courts of Belfast and Cork are set forth on page 17.

County Court
Ejectment Suits
(Table 51)
and Executions
compared.

County Court ejectments of all classes for Ireland numbered 602, as compared with 645 in 1913, and 773 in 1912. The number for each of the years 1904 to 1911 is:—for the year 1904, 1,332; 1905, 1,047; 1906, 1,110; 1907, 1,023; 1908, 1,135; 1909, 1,017; 1910, 1,037; and for the year 1911, 796.

A return of the proceedings in the County Courts with regard to the nature and amount of claim and the amount of compensation granted for Malicious Injuries under Section 5 of the Local Government (Ireland) Act 1898, is given in Table 54. From this it appears that for the year 1914 there were 902 claims for Malicious Injuries, viz., 3 for Malicious Injury to the Person and 899 to Property (including 56 cases pending at the beginning of the year). In the year 1913 there were 1,080 claims, and in the year 1912 the claims numbered 966.

Of the three claims for Malicious Injury to the Person for hearing, 2 were in the Province of Ulster and one was in Connaught.

Provincially the claims for Malicious Injuries to Property were distributed as follows:—260 in Leinster, 273 in Munster, 221 in Ulster, and 145 in Connaught.

The number of Decrees, and the number of Dismisses, in the cases which were heard during the year 1914, are shown in the following tabular statement:—

	Decrees.			Dismisses.
	Person.	Property.	Total.	Person.	Property.	Total.

Connaught, .	—	86	86	1	37	38
Total, . .	—	564	564	3	202	205

It appears from this statement that 564 Decrees were obtained during the year 1914, and that 205 claims were dismissed. In the year 1913 the Decrees obtained numbered 775, and the claims dismissed, 177.

It may also be seen in Table 54 that 68 Claims were disposed of otherwise than by Decree or Dismiss, in the year 1914, and that 65 were pending at the close of the year. The corresponding numbers in the year 1913 were 70 cases so disposed of and 56 pending.

The total amount claimed in cases in which Decrees were made and the amount of compensation granted by the County Court is given in the following summary:—

	Injuries to Person.		Injuries to Property.
	Claimed.	Granted.	Claimed.	Granted.
	£	£	£	£
Leinster,	—	—	12,978	7,491

COURT OF THE IRISH LAND COMMISSION.

Full information regarding the proceedings and administration under the Irish Land Acts for the year 1914 will be found in the Report presented to Parliament by the Irish Land Commission and the Estates Commissioners.

PROCEEDINGS OF SHERIFFS.

The proceedings of Sheriffs during their year of office, 1914-15, is given in Tables 55 and 57, including those having relation to Jurors summoned and those already referred to on pages 22 and 24.

JURORS.

The lists of Jurors as supplied by Clerks of Unions contained in the year 1914 the names of 174,629 Jurors for the whole of Ireland. Of these 67,822, or almost 39 per cent., were struck off; and 4 persons added by the Revision Court, all being in the City of Dublin.

In addition to those Jurors who were struck off by the Revision Court there were 260 Jurors exempted by Clerks of the Peace and 97 were struck off Books by Judges. This gives the total number of Jurors on the corrected General Jurors' Books for 1915 (when handed to the Sheriffs) in all Ireland as 106,454, of whom 61,278 were on rated qualification, 41,047 were £10 freeholders (in the preceding year the number was 37,045), there were 3,584 Leaseholders of £20; Directors or Managers of Public Companies 520, and 25 were Harbour Commissioners.

From the Special Jurors' Lists prepared in 1914 it appears that of 14,375 on list 4,384 were struck off by Revision Court, 100 were exempted by the Clerks of the Peace, one Juror was struck off Book by Judges, and 148 persons were added by Revision Court, so that there was a net reduction of 4,337, or about 30 per cent. When handed to the Sheriffs the books showed 10,038 Special Jurors.

Information regarding the proceedings of Sheriffs in summoning Jurors is contained in Table 57, from which it appears that the total number of Jurors summoned in the year numbered 42,695, as compared with 42,812 in 1913. Of the number for 1914, 4,686 were Grand Jurors* for Assizes, Commissions, and Superior Courts; 8,451 were Grand Jurors for Quarter Sessions; 568* were Special Jurors for Assizes, Commissions, and Superior Courts; 12,982 were Petit and Common Jurors for Assizes, Commissions, and Superior Courts; 15,026 were Petit Jurors for Quarter Sessions; 827 were Jurors in Civil Bill cases before County Court Judges or Recorders; and there were 155 Jurors for other purposes summoned.

The following summary shows the number of Appeals from Magistrates at Quarter Sessions for the year 1914, compared with the number for 1913:—

* This deficiency consists of Cash and New Consols appropriated out of the Funds in Court, under the authority of various Acts of Parliament and of a loss (of £7,905 16s. 11d.) arising from a deficiency in the accounts of a former Master of the Court of Chancery in Ireland, provided for by Act 23 & 24 Geo. III., c. 22 (1783), and 30 Geo. III., c. 41 (1790). The Consolidated Fund is liable for the amount of the deficiency, in the event of the funds in Court being at any time insufficient to meet payments to suitors.

† This deficiency, which is uncovered by any formal liability of the Consolidated Fund, is the result of a double payment of £7 2s. 3d., inadvertently made in 1867 by a former Master of the King's Bench Division, and an overpayment of one shilling in 1877, and one penny suspense, Chancery Division.

TO THE RIGHT HONOURABLE T. M'KINNON WOOD, M.P.,

HIS MAJESTY'S SECRETARY FOR SCOTLAND.

DEPARTMENT OF PRISONS AND JUDICIAL STATISTICS,
11 RUTLAND SQUARE,
EDINBURGH, 12th November 1914.

SIR,

We have the honour to submit the Report on the Judicial Statistics of Scotland for the year 1913, the arrangement of which is similar to that of previous years.

We regret again to have to report an increase in the total number of persons dealt with for Crimes and Offences. This increase amounts to 10,533, or 6·4 per cent. on the number for the year 1912.

The increase, however, is almost entirely in Miscellaneous Offences, which include all the offences connected with Drunkenness. A new offence, "Drunk and attempting to enter any Public-house," under the Temperance (Scotland) Act, 1913, accounts for no less than 2323 cases in the four months during which the Act was in force.

Serious Crime, taken as a whole, shews a decrease on the figures for 1912 of about 3·6 per cent. in the number of persons proceeded against. Theft shews a decrease of 10 per cent., but on the other hand there are again increases reported in Assaults by husbands on wives and in Sexual Crime.

The number of persons sentenced to pay fines was 94,145, as compared with 89,013 in 1912. Of these, 59 per cent. paid their fines before imprisonment, as compared with 56 per cent. in the previous year. This is a slightly larger proportion, and may be due to time being more frequently given for payment, a procedure which has often been advocated by the Commissioners, and it is hoped that when the Criminal Justice Administration Act comes into operation there may be a marked improvement in this and other directions.

It is worth noting that out of the large total of 125,616 persons convicted only 8024 received sentences of Imprisonment or of Penal Servitude, as compared with 8967 out of 119,891 in 1912. The total number received into prison was 46,982 in 1913, as compared with 48,294 in the previous year.

Borstal Institutions.—The numbers received were 63 males and 12 females, as compared with 101 males, 7 females in 1912.

The number sentenced to Preventive Detention was only 8—all males.

Four thousand one hundred and thirty-nine persons were placed on Probation under the Act of 1907, as compared with 3730 in the previous year. This again shews an improvement, but the Commissioners adhere to their opinion expressed last year that it is very desirable there should be an inquiry into the working of the Act in Scotland, not only as regards the cases in which it is used, but also as regards the efficiency of the means employed.

Reformatory and Industrial Schools.—There is a considerable increase in the numbers committed to the former, and a decrease in those committed to the latter. The matter, however, is receiving the attention of a special Departmental Committee.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your very obedient Servants,

INTRODUCTION TO THE CRIMINAL STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1913.

The total number of persons dealt with in Criminal Courts for Crimes and Offences in the year 1913 was 173,419,* an increase of 10,533, or 6·4 per cent. on the total number for the previous year, which was 162,886.

The increase is almost entirely in the Miscellaneous Offences of which Class VII. is composed, and, in this class, is more particularly found in the number of persons proceeded against for offences committed under the influence of drink, viz. Breaches of the Peace and Offences against the Intoxicating Liquor Laws.

The following Table shews the increases under these heads, and the figures back to the year 1897 have been added for purposes of comparison.

These figures contain this year a new head "Drunk and entering Public House," introduced owing to the passing of the Temperance (Scotland) Act 1913. In the four months, September to December, 2323 persons were dealt with for this offence. It may be added that Police Act Offences, a heading of wide scope, shews an increase of 1134 in the number of persons proceeded against compared with the number for 1912, equal to say 6 per cent.

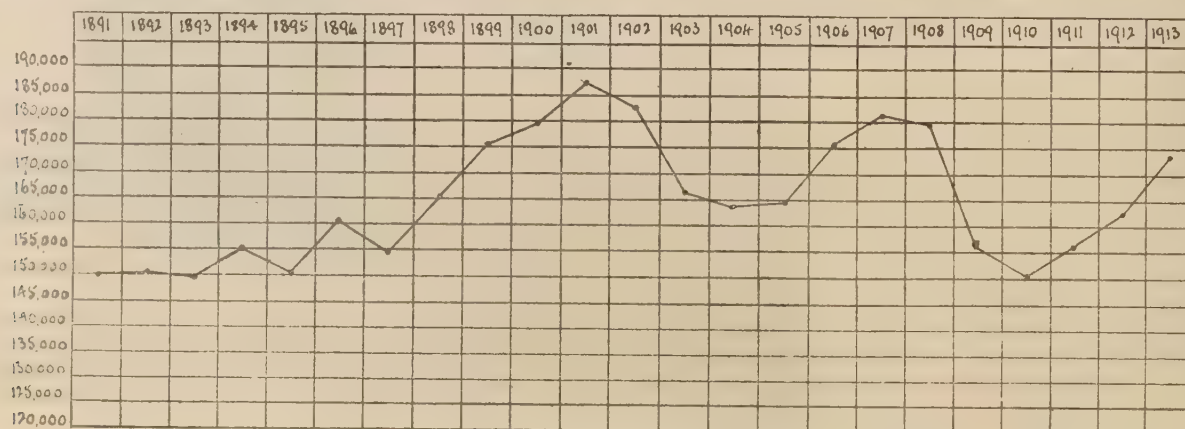

Serious Crime is, however, shewn mainly in Classes I. to VI. and here, taken as a whole, the year's figures shew a decrease as compared with the previous year, viz. 1913 = 25,976 ; 1912 = 26,949. Considered in detail the following subheads shew an increase in the number of persons proceeded against as compared with 1912 : Assaults by husbands on wives, Sexual Crime, and Indecent Exposure. It is gratifying to be able to state that there is a substantial decrease in the number of persons proceeded against for Crimes against Property without violence, mainly owing to there having been 1321 fewer persons dealt with for Theft, a reduction of say 10 per cent.

It may be mentioned that in the less serious offences the number of persons proceeded against for Prostitution has decreased from 2487 in 1912 to 1884 in 1913, equal to 24 per cent., and for Begging from 1646 in 1912 to 1126 in 1913, equal to 31 per cent.

The following eight diagrams illustrate the fluctuations in the number of persons dealt with for the various classes of Crimes and Offences during the 17 years ended 1913.

PERSONS CONVICTED.

Of the 173,419 persons proceeded against in 1913, 125,616 were convicted and dealt with as shewn in the following Table. Figures for the preceding nine years are also given for purposes of comparison.

Sentence of Death was passed on one male and he was executed.

There were 85 persons sentenced to Penal Servitude, of whom 3 were females; 8 males were sentenced to Preventive Detention in addition to their sentences of Penal Servitude, the minimum sentence of 5 years Preventive Detention being passed in 7 cases and 6 years Preventive Detention in the remaining case.

The number sentenced to Penal Servitude in 1913, viz. 85, was very low, even when compared with the number for 1912, viz. 98, which in itself was much below the average for the previous 5 years, viz. 130. It may be remarked that the number sentenced to 3 years Penal Servitude in 1913 is greater by 11 than the number so sentenced in 1912, whilst the numbers sentenced to 4 and 5 years in 1913 is less in each case than those so sentenced in 1912 by 10, which points to a tendency on the part of Courts to pass shorter sentences. The Crimes for which sentences of Penal Servitude were passed were—Theft, 26; House-breaking, 23; Sexual Crimes, 19; Assault and Robbery, 6; Serious Assaults and Culpable Homicide, 5; Fraud, 4, Reset, 1; Contravention Base Coin Act, 1.

The number of persons dealt with under the Probation of Offenders Act 1907 was 4139, as compared with 3730 in the previous year, an increase of about 10 per cent. Probation Orders were made in terms of Section 2 in 2531 cases as compared with 2063 in the year 1912, and the number of these who appeared for sentence during the year after release on Probation Order was 324, of whom 197 were discharged or otherwise disposed of, 92 were imprisoned, 28 were dealt with for fresh offences, and 7 were sent to Reformatory or Industrial Schools. The number of persons dealt with in 1912 was 3730, and the average number so dealt with in the 3 years preceding that was 3048.

Two hundred and twenty-eight persons were received into prisons and there registered as of foreign nationality. Of these only 21 were recommended by the Courts for Expulsion under the Aliens Act 1905 during the year. The sentences imposed for the offences which brought these persons within the Act may be summarised thus: 10 years Penal Servitude, 1; 12 months imprisonment, 2; 4 months, 1; 3 months, 5; 60 days and under, 12. Out of the whole, 11 were convicted of assault and breach of peace, 2 for assaults with indecency, and 4 for theft. In addition to the above, 2 males and 1 female were found in the United Kingdom after having been expelled, and were again deported.

The number of persons proceeded against after full committal in the year 1913 was 1358. In 1912 it was 1533, shewing a diminution in numbers of 175 persons in 1913. The decrease is most marked in Theft, Theft by Housebreaking, Assaults and Fraud. The influence of the Summary Jurisdiction (Scotland) Act 1908, which enables the Sheriff sitting in a Court of Summary Jurisdiction to pass sentences not exceeding 6 months in certain cases, on the number of persons dealt with as fully committed is clearly shown in the average numbers for the 5 years during which the Act has been in force, compared with the preceding 5 years.

Average 5 years ended 1908—2622.

The decrease amounts to 40 per cent.

The variations in the number of fully committed Cases may now, more than ever, be regarded as the true index to the rise and fall in the serious crime of the country.

The variations in miscellaneous offences in Class VII. are practically controlled by the number of persons proceeded against for drunkenness and disorder; in fact the rise and fall in the total number proceeded against for the year depends mainly on this factor, as has been already shewn.

The total number of persons received into Prison during the year was 46,982 as compared with 48,294 in 1912, a decrease of 1312. The number of persons received under sentence of Imprisonment was 8176 and the number received in default of payment of fine was 36,613; these figures stand in the ratio of 2 to 9 approximately.

In Table IV., which deals with persons convicted in Courts of Summary Jurisdiction, it is noticeable that the number sentenced to Imprisonment in 1913 is only 7250, out of a total convicted of 124,560. In 1912 there were 8078 persons sentenced to be imprisoned out of a total convicted of 118,702, shewing a striking decrease in the number of persons sentenced to imprisonment in 1913. Of the persons dealt with in Summary Courts we find that in 1913 94,045 were sentenced to pay fines as compared with 88,924 in 1912. In 1913, 55,519 paid before imprisonment, being 59 per cent. of the whole, as compared with 56 per cent. who paid in 1912. Allowing 2 per cent. for a small number otherwise accounted for, this means that in 1913, 39 per cent. of the number of persons sentenced to pay fines went to prison in default. It may be added that 11 per cent. paid part fines during imprisonment and were liberated, leaving 28 per cent. who served the full sentence in default. Notwithstanding the increase in the number fined as compared with the previous year, the proportion of instances in which persons went to prison in default of payment shews a decrease of 2 per cent. This may in part be due to the Court having allowed time for payment of the whole fine, thereby enabling the offender to carry out the original intention of the sentence, which was fine, not imprisonment. A great number of the fines were inflicted for drunkenness and disorder, and it is evident that a man who has probably wasted all his available means in a debauch will require an interval before he is in a position to pay a fine. It is very much to the interest of all concerned that time should be allowed, as by this means the Authorities may avoid the expense of the man's maintenance, and help him to save himself from the stigma of having been in prison. The sums received for fines paid and pledges forfeited in Summary Courts amounted to £54,739 in 1913, as against £47,987 in the year 1912.

Table XXIX. deals with admissions into and discharges from Borstal Institutions provided under Part I. of the Prevention of Crime Act 1908. The total receptions during the year numbered 63 males into Polmont, and 12 females into Jessiefield Institutions. Of these 1 male was transferred from Prison under Sec. 3 of the Act; the others were all convicted on Indictment and committed under Sec. 1. In the previous year the total receptions numbered 101 males, 7 females, of whom 2 males were transferred from Prisons.

The number of persons dealt with in Juvenile Courts was 10,942 as compared with 11,349 in 1912. The principal offences with which they were charged were Theft 3474, Theft by Housebreaking 571, Malicious Mischief 2069, Police Act Offences 1747, Breach of Peace 699, Obstructions and Nuisances under the Road Acts 936, and Offences against the Tramways Act 439.

The number of juveniles received into Places of Detention provided by the Police Authorities under Sec. 108 of the Children Act 1908 was 583, viz. in Counties 77, and in Burghs 506. In the year 1912 the figures were 53 and 569 respectively.

The total number of youthful offenders committed to Reformatory Schools in the year 1913 was 210, viz. 182 boys and 28 girls, compared with 166 boys and 21 girls in 1912. The principal offences for which they were committed were Theft and Theft by Housebreaking as in former years.

The decrease noticed last year in the number of persons committed to Industrial Schools in Scotland continues, but the number is still very much higher in proportion to population than in England and Wales. The numbers received were 607 boys, 235 girls, total 842. Of these 424 were found wandering, etc., 91 had parents or guardians of drunken or criminal habits, and 209 were charged with punishable offences.

The number admitted to Day Industrial Schools was 391 boys, 273 girls, total 664. The total number for the previous year was 703.

There were received into Certified Inebriate Reformatories 24 persons, viz. 2 males and 22 females. The numbers for 1912 were 7 males and 27 females.

The State Inebriate Reformatory received from Courts 2 males and 9 females, as compared with 7 males and 15 females in 1912. In addition 3 females were received on transfer from other Reformatories.

There were received into other Certified Inebriate Reformatories 13 females, viz. Greenock House of Refuge 9, Seabank Home, Aberdeen, 4.

At the end of the year there remained in confinement 70 persons as follows. In Greenock House of Refuge 29 females, in Seabank Home, Aberdeen, 5 females, and in the State Inebriate Reformatory at Perth 8 males, 28 females.

The number of persons received into the Criminal Lunatic Department at Perth during the year was 28, viz. 23 males and 5 females. Of these 7 persons were placed at H.M. disposal and 2 were re-admitted during the year, they having broken the conditions under which they had been at large; 16 males and 3 females were received from prisons, they having been certified insane. The total number of criminal lunatics detained in the Criminal Lunatic Department at the 31st December 1913 was 62, viz. 56 males and 6 females.

The Prerogative of Mercy was exercised in 46 cases, 37 of which were males and 9 females. In addition 25 males and 15 females were removed from Prisons under Sheriffs' Warrants granted in terms of Sec. 72 of the Prisons (Scotland) Act 1860, and treated in Public Hospitals. Three males and 1 female from Borstal Institutions and 1 female from the State Inebriate Reformatory at Perth were similarly removed.

The following lists show the relative number per 10,000 of the population of persons proceeded against for Drunkenness and Disorder in the various Counties and Burghs of Scotland in the year 1913, for purposes of comparison.

Notes to General Returns of Crimes and Offences, &c. (Tables I. to III.)

Table I., &c.

(a) Where similar particulars are shown under the classifications of Crimes and Offences and Counties and Burghs, the Tables giving the figures under the classification of Crimes and Offences are printed first, Counties and Burghs afterwards.

(b.) Column 1.—The titles of crimes and offences are condensed. The fuller titles, and the crimes and offences comprised under each sub-head, will be found on pages 21 to 30. This note also applies to the respective columns in Tables III., IV., V., VI., IX., X., XI., and XII.

(c.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes and Offences made known to Police in 1913"—This column includes all crimes and offences made known to the police during the year, whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension took place within the year or not. Offences reported to the police, and subsequently discovered not to have occurred (such as the loss of personal property afterwards found to have been mislaid), are not included.

(d.) If there is a committal or conviction within the year, the table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Failing this, the charge which is named in the petition or warrant on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.

(e.) In columns 4 to 27 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes and offences. Where, therefore, any person is charged at the same time with several offences, one of these has to be selected for tabulation. The rule followed is to select that offence for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage. If there were several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence appears in the tables.

(f.) All the tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only persons finally disposed of within the year. Where a case is pending at the end of the year (e.g. tried but sentence postponed) it is reserved for inclusion in the following year's tables.

(g.) Column 5 includes all cases disposed of without committal "till liberated in due course of law." Cases reported for the instructions of Crown Counsel are therefore strictly excluded from this column. They appear in column 17 which, on the other hand, is limited to cases where a committal "till liberated in due course of law" has taken place.

(h.) In column 8 are included cases in which, although the prisoner may not have been tried, a simple liberation did not follow, such as naval and military prisoners remitted to their ships or regiments for trial, and juveniles who, having absconded from reformatory or industrial schools and been arrested by the police, were sent back to school without further punishment.

(i.) Columns 16 and 23 include sentences to detention in a reformatory school, sentences to find caution, cases where only an admonition followed on conviction, and column 23 cases dealt with on indictment under the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907.

(j.) Column 21 contains all cases where, after full committal, the accused was not brought up for trial.

(k.) Column 27 includes all cases called for trial where the accused was found insane, either on trial or at the time of committing the offence.

Notes to Tables of Summary Proceedings (Tables IV. to XII.).

Table IV.

(a.) Where similar particulars are shown under the classifications of Crimes and Offences and Counties and Burghs, the Tables giving the figures under the classification of Crimes and Offences are printed first, Counties and Burghs afterwards.

(b.) Tables IV., VI., and VII. include cases disposed of without being brought before a Court, such as liberations by the police on account of insufficient evidence, &c.

(c.) The list of crimes and offences is similar to that in Table I. (see note (b) on page 30). This applies also to Tables V., VI., IX., X., XI., and XII.

(d.) The Table shows the number of persons proceeded against, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is prosecuted at the same time for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in the foregoing tables (see note (e) page 30).

(e.) As in Table I., the titles of the offences are condensed. For the offences under each head see pages 21 to 30.

(f.) The Tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only persons finally disposed of within the year. Cases not entirely disposed of at the end of the year are held over for the following year's tables.

(g.) From Tables IV. to X. are excluded cases where the accused has been fully committed till liberated in due course of law although afterwards ordered by Crown Counsel to be disposed of by the Sheriff summarily. Such cases are included in Part III. of these statistics.

(h.) Column 2.—The numbers here agree with those of column 5 of Table I.

(i.) Columns 11, 12 and 13 include persons dealt with under the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907.

(j.) Column 13 includes persons placed under a bond with conditions as to supervision.

(k.) Column 14 includes only those committals to industrial schools where an offence is charged—i.e. committals under section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908. Committals to industrial schools, where the proceedings are not criminal, appear in Table XXXIV.

(l.) Column 17 does not include terms of imprisonment in default of paying fines or of finding sureties.

(m.) Column 19 includes all cases where a fine is imposed, whether it is paid or not. The number of persons committed to prison in default of paying fines is given in Table XXI.

(n.) Column 20 contains cases of persons ordered to be detained in Inebriate Reformatories under the Inebriates' Act, 1879 to 1898, and Licensing (Scotland) Act, 1903.

(o.) Column 21 contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a Reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received into Reformatories are given in Table XXX.

(p.) Column 23 includes all cases where the accused is ordered to find caution, whether with or without sureties.

(q.) Columns 26 to 31 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a person convicted of assault is sentenced to be imprisoned and is recommended for expulsion under the Aliens Act, 1905, the imprisonment appears in column 17, the recommendation for expulsion in column 31.

(r.) Column 32 contains those cases in column 16 in which the accused was convicted in absence.

Table V.

(s.) Table V. gives the particulars of the sentences of imprisonment and fines imposed—shown in Table IV., cols. 17 and 19.

(t.) Column 22 includes all fines paid within the year, whether imposed within the year or in the previous year.

(u.) Column 23 contains the amount of all pledges forfeited during the year, whether received within the year or not.

Table VI.

Table VII.

Table VIII.

(y.) Table VIII. gives the particulars of sentences of imprisonment, and of fines imposed on persons—shown in Table VII., cols. 18 and 20.

Table IX.

(z.) Children who have not completed their twelfth year are regarded as under 12, and are entered in column 3. Column 4 includes all persons who have completed 12 years, but not 14 years, and similarly with the other columns.

Table XI.

PART III.

PROCEEDINGS AFTER FULL COMMITTAL.

PERSONS COMMITTED TILL LIBERATED IN DUE COURSE OF LAW.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICIARY

AND

SHERIFF COURTS (AFTER FULL COMMITTAL).

Table XIII.

(a.) From the list of crimes and offences in column 1, the detailed offences in Class VII. in Parts I. and II. are excluded, as these are chiefly disposed of before Summary Courts. Persons reported for any such offences are included under Sub-head 56.

(b.) In this Table the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in the preceding Tables—the charge resulting in conviction has preference to the others; subject to this, the most serious charge is selected. If there are two or more convictions, that for which the heaviest sentence is inflicted is regarded as the most serious. This also applies to Tables XIV. to XIX.

(c.) As in the preceding Tables, Tables XIII. to XIX. include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's Tables.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted of another (e.g. committed for murder and convicted of culpable homicide) the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) In Tables XIII. to XIX. are included cases where the accused has been fully committed till liberated in due course of law, although afterwards ordered by Crown Counsel to be disposed of by the Sheriff summarily. Such cases are therefore excluded from Part II. of these statistics.

(f.) Column 2.—The numbers here correspond with those in column 17 of Table I.

(g.) Column 10 does not include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, or in default of finding sureties.

(h.) Column 13 includes all cases where payment of a fine is imposed as the sentence or part of the sentence, whether the fine is actually paid or not.

(i.) Column 14 includes cases ordered to be detained in a State Inebriate Reformatory under the Inebriates Acts, 1879-1898.

(j.) Column 17 includes cases where caution is required, whether with or without sureties, and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(k.) Columns 18 and 19 include persons released under Probation of Offenders Act 1907: column 18 on bond promising good behaviour, and column 19 on bond with conditions as to supervision.

(l.) Columns 26 to 30 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a person convicted of theft is sentenced to be imprisoned and ordered to find caution, the imprisonment appears in column 10, the caution in column 29.

Table XIV.

Table XV.

(n.) The period is calculated in all cases from the date on which the accused is committed till liberated in due course of law. In the case of persons who plead guilty at a pleading diet, the period ends on that day; where a plea of guilty is not tendered at a pleading diet, the period ends on the day of trial. Portions of a week are ignored.

Table XVI.

(o.) The counties in this Table, as regards areas and boundaries, are the geographical counties, including Burghs and Police Burghs, as well as the landward areas administered by the County Councils, except in the cases of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, which, being counties of cities, are shown separately. The numbers relative to these four cities are excluded from the counties in which they are geographically situated.

Table XVII.

(p.) Although a case may have been disposed of beyond the county in which the offence was committed, the entry is retained against that county.

(q.) The headings of columns 2 to 25, inclusive, are similar to the headings of columns 2 to 25 of Table XIII.

(r.) Where a prisoner has pleaded guilty in a Sheriff Court, and is remitted (under section 31 of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act, 1887) to the High Court of Justiciary for sentence, the case does not appear in the Sheriff Court figures, but in the statistics of the High Court.

Table XVIII.

(s.) Children who have not completed their twelfth year are regarded as under 12, and are entered in column 3. Column 4 includes all persons who have completed 12 years, but have not completed 14 years, and similarly with the other columns.

See notes (a) to (l) page 70.

Notes to Prison Tables (Tables XX. to XXVIII.).

Table XX.

(a.) This Table deals with the total number of prisoners received into and released or removed from prisons in 1913. They appear according to the prisons of last detention, i.e. the prisons from which they were released or removed, or in which they were confined at 31st December 1913.

(b.) Columns 6 and 29, "Civil Prisoners," include prisoners,—

1. For debts and taxes due to the Crown, not being fines or penalties inflicted on conviction of offences, and for rates and assessments lawfully imposed or to be imposed ;
2. On meditatione fugæ warrants ;
3. Ad factum præstandum ;
4. Under the Employers and Workmen Act, 1875 ; and
5. Until they find caution under Writs of Lawburrows.

Tables XXI. to XXVII.

(c.) In these Tables the total number of convicted prisoners received during the year is dealt with. The total entry of each of these Tables therefore agrees with the total of columns 2 and 3 of Table XX.

Table XXII.

(d.) In dealing with consecutive and concurrent sentences in this Table, the number of persons entered is determined by the number of separate and distinct warrants received with the prisoner. Two sentences passed at the same time and ordered to run consecutively appearing on the same warrant are treated as one sentence equal in length to the two added together ; in the case of concurrent sentences, the longer only is given.

(e.) Cases in which Preventive Detention is imposed in addition to the sentences of penal servitude shown in column 3 are given in column 14.

(f.) Cases of revocation or forfeiture of licence in which a remanet is to be served in addition to new sentences of penal servitude or imprisonment, are shown in column 15 according to length of remanet. The penal servitude or imprisonment sentence is shown separately either in column 3 or 5.

NOTES TO TABLE.

Col. 1.—REMISSION of Detention in a Reformatory applies only to cases where the whole sentence to a Reformatory has been remitted. Ordinary discharges from Reformatory Schools are given in Table XXXI.

"REMANET."—When a convict is released on licence he is liable, if again convicted, or if his licence is revoked, to undergo a term of penal servitude equal to the portion of his original sentence unexpired at the time of his release. This is known as a "Remanet."

Col. 3.—Includes pardons or remissions on account of fresh evidence establishing prisoner's innocence, or showing reasonable doubt as to guilt, or altering the view taken as to the nature or gravity of the offence.

Col. 5.—In addition to the above cases discharged on "medical grounds," e.g., persons whose lives were endangered by imprisonment, women near their confinement who, if longer detained, would not have been fit for discharge at the expiration of their sentence, persons discharged for removal to hospitals for infectious diseases, &c., 25 males and 15 females were similarly removed from prisons, 3 males and 1 female from Borstal Institutions and 1 female from the State Inebriate Reformatory, Perth, under Sheriff's Warrant granted in terms of sec. 72 of the Prisons (Scotland) Act, 1860, on the ground that they were afflicted with a contagious or infectious disease which rendered their removal necessary for the health of the other inmates of the prison, or that they were afflicted with a disease which threatened immediate danger to life and could not be treated in prison, or that from their condition continued confinement would cause death. Where the medical condition of the prisoner formed only a part of the ground for the exercise of the prerogative, the cases are tabulated under other heads.

Col. 7.—Comprises all cases where the mitigation granted does not imply any alteration of the view taken by the Court as to the prisoner's guilt or the nature and gravity of his offence; but where weight is given, with or without a recommendation from the judge or magistrate, to such extenuating circumstances as youth, provocation, mental disturbance, &c.; also cases where remission is granted for reasons not before the Court, or where a short remission enables a prisoner to avail himself of some special opportunity of making a new start in life.

INTRODUCTION

TO THE

CIVIL COURT STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1913.

INTRODUCTION TO THE CIVIL COURT STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1913.

THIS Introduction is a Summary of the principal figures for the year 1913, and is followed by a comparative view of business before the Civil Courts for the past twenty years.

A general decrease in the volume of business in the Civil Courts throughout Scotland is the noticeable feature in this part of the Report.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

TABLE I.

The House of Lords is the ultimate Court of Appeal in all civil causes. Appeals are competent from decisions of the Inner House of the Court of Session and from the Court of Teinds, but they are not competent from interlocutory judgments except with the leave of the Court pronouncing the judgment, or if there has been a difference of opinion among the Judges.

The number of Appeals from decisions of the Court of Session presented during the year was 17, which, with the 11 Appeals undisposed of and brought forward from the previous year, made the total of Appeals before the House of Lords 28. Of these 14 were disposed of by judgment during the year, including 2 Cross Appeals arising out of one original Action, 6 Appeals were withdrawn and 8 were left pending at the end of the year. Of the Actions disposed of by judgment 1 was from the Valuation Appeal Court in which the judgment was reversed, the remainder were from the Court of Session, of which 5 judgments were affirmed and 7 reversed.

The total number of Appeals before the House of Lords in the previous year was 29.

THE COURT OF SESSION.

TABLES II. to XV.

The Court of Session is the Supreme Civil Court of Scotland. It consists of thirteen Judges; viz., the Lord President, who is also Lord Justice-General of Scotland, the Lord Justice-Clerk, and eleven other Judges. It is divided into an Outer and an Inner House.

The Outer House consists of five Judges of first instance, called Lords Ordinary, who sit separately, and whose decisions may in such cases be brought under the review of the Inner House by a Reclaiming Note. The Lords Ordinary try matters of fact either by proof, i.e. evidence taken before themselves without a jury, or by presiding over a trial by jury. To the Junior Lord Ordinary many special matters of an administrative character (detailed in Table IV.) are assigned.

The Inner House sits in two Divisions, the first consisting of the Lord President and three other Judges, the second of the Lord Justice-Clerk and three other Judges. These Divisions have equal powers. They sit as Courts of Appeal from the decisions of the Judges of the Outer House. They also review the decisions of all Inferior Civil Courts, unless where such review is expressly excluded by statute. They exercise original jurisdiction in certain cases. There are sittings for trial by jury in the Inner House, when the presiding Judge is either the Lord President, Lord Justice-Clerk, or one of the Judges of either Division. An Appeal lies to the House of Lords from the final judgment of either Division. No Appeal lies from interlocutory judgments, unless leave is given, or unless there has been a division of opinion at pronouncing the judgment.

By the Criminal Procedure Act of 1887, sect. 44, all the Judges of the Court of Session are Lords Commissioners of Justiciary.

OUTER HOUSE.

TABLES II. to VII.

The total number of Actions before the Court was 2197. The average number for the five years ended 1912 was 2375. Of these 1397 were disposed of by Final Judgment, 202 were otherwise taken out of Court and 598 were left pending at the end of the year.

Table III. shews the nature of the 1397 actions disposed of by final judgment. The following subheads account for the bulk of the Actions: Actions relating to Marriage, Divorce and Separation 270, Actions of Damages 220, Actions relating to personal debt 211. Petitions of a Miscellaneous and Administrative Character numbered 454 and are analysed in Table IV. They are mostly Petitions in regard to Factors, Curators, etc., which numbered 288, and Petitions under Trusts Acts, which totalled to 74.

It will be seen from Table V. that of the 1397 Actions disposed of by Final Judgment there were 1014 in which no evidence was led in Court, 352 in which proof was taken, and 31 in which there was trial by Jury.

Table VI. deals with Actions for Divorce and Separation and Aliment. The total number of judgments given was 257, viz. for Divorce 251, and 6 for Separation and Aliment. There were 105 Actions at the instance of the husband, and 152 at the instance of the wife. In only 4 cases was Divorce refused. In 65 per cent. of the cases there were issue of the Marriages. The parties to the 257 Actions had in 230 cases been married for periods of five years and upwards.

Table VII. shews the occupations of the Pursuers in the above Actions.

INNER HOUSE.

TABLES VIII. TO XV.

FIRST AND SECOND DIVISIONS.

There were no judges appointed by Act of Sederunt to sit as an Extra Division of the Court of Session in the year 1913.

The total number of Actions before the Inner House was 895. The average number for the five years ended 1912 was 945. Of the total 441 were disposed of by Final Judgment, and of these 210 were by the First Division and 231 by the Second Division.

There were otherwise taken out of Court 193 and 261 were left pending at the end of the year. Of the 441 Actions disposed of by final judgment 54 were brought into the Inner House by Reclaiming Note from the Outer House; 80 were brought on appeal from the Sheriff Courts; 16 by notice for trial by jury from the Outer House and from Sheriff Courts; 6 were special cases stated by the Land Court for the opinion of the Court of Session, whilst the remaining 285 were initiated in the Inner House. These Actions are classified and their disposal shewn in Tables IX. and XI.

Business of a Miscellaneous and Administrative Character accounted for more than half of the business disposed of by final judgment; details thereof are given in Table X. Of the remainder the Actions for Damages are more numerous than those under any other head and number 85.

Tables XII. and XIII. deal with the 54 Appeals brought on Reclaiming Note from the Outer House. Table XII. shews that the decision of the Lord Ordinary was adhered to in 37 cases, reversed in 16 and altered in 1. Table XIII. shews the subject matter of the Appeals given in Table XII.

Tables XIV. and XV. deal in a similar manner with the 80 Appeals brought from Sheriff Courts. In 37 cases the decision of the Sheriff was adhered to, and in 43 it was reversed.

The bulk of the Actions related to Damages and Personal Debt.

COURT FOR THE TRIAL OF ELECTION PETITIONS.

TABLE XVI.

Petitions complaining of undue return or undue election of a Member of Parliament are presented to either Division of the Court of Session, and the trial takes place before two Judges, called Election Judges, placed annually on the rota for that purpose. These Judges report their finding to the Speaker of the House of Commons.

There were no Petitions in the year 1913.

REGISTRATION APPEAL COURT.

TABLE XVII.

By the Representation of the People Act 1868, a Court was constituted for hearing Appeals from the judgments of the Sheriffs in the Registration Courts for Counties and Burghs in regard to the making up of the list of persons qualified to vote for Members of Parliament. The Court consists of three Judges of the Court of Session—one from each Division of the Court, and one of the Lords Ordinary. The decision of this Court is declared final and not subject to review.

There were no Appeals in the year 1913.

LANDS VALUATION APPEAL COURT.

TABLE XVIII.

A separate Court, consisting of three Judges of the Court of Session, named from time to time by Act of Sederunt, sits for the purpose of hearing Appeals in regard to the valuation of lands and heritages. Valuation Rolls for the lands and heritages of the whole of Scotland (except railways and canals) are made up by Assessors of Counties and Burghs respectively, and from the Assessor an Appeal lies, in the first instance, in Burghs to the Magistrates, and in Counties to a Statutory Valuation Committee appointed by the County Council. From the decision of either of these bodies an Appeal, in the form of a Stated Case, lies to the Lands Valuation Appeal Court, whose judgment is not subject to review.

The valuation of railways, canals, and certain other public undertakings, is conducted by a special Assessor, and an Appeal from him lies to the Sheriff of the County where the subjects lie in one County, and to the Bill Chamber of the Court of Session where they lie in more than one.

There were 10 cases in which there were Appeals as against 26, the average for the 5 years ended 1912. Of 7 Appeals taken by Parties other than the Assessor, 4 of the Valuation Committee's decisions were sustained, 2 were varied, and 1 was withdrawn. Of the 3 Appeals taken by the Assessor the decision of the Valuation Committee was sustained in 1 and varied in 2.

BILL CHAMBER OF THE COURT OF SESSION.

TABLE XIX.

The Bill Chamber is a branch of the Court of Session which deals specially with matters requiring great dispatch, and sits without vacation during the whole year. In time of session the Junior Lord Ordinary officiates as Lord Ordinary on the Bills, i.e. summary applications; and during vacation he and other Judges officiate in turn, so that there is always a Judge available to dispose of such matters. An Appeal lies to either Division of the Inner House by Reclaiming Note from the Lord Ordinary on the Bills, whether in vacation or session, but such Appeals are heard only in session.

The number of applications before the Court during the year was 147, the lowest number yet recorded. In the 5 years ended 1912 the average was 220. Of the total number 131 were disposed of by the Lord Ordinary, 109 being granted and 22 refused. No further action was anticipated in 10 cases, 3 were otherwise taken out of Court and 3 were left pending at the end of the year.

The number of Writs presented to and disposed of by the Clerk of the Bills within the year was 318.

COURT OF TEINDS.

TABLES XX. AND XXI.

The Teind (or Tithe) Court consists of Judges of the Inner House of the Court of Session, together with the Lord Ordinary on Teinds, who is the second Junior Lord ordinary, any five (including the Lord Ordinary) being a quorum. The Court deals with augmentations of stipend where there are free teinds in a parish. It also deals with the feuing of glebes, the erection of new parishes, and various other kindred matters. An Appeal lies from the Court of Teinds to the House of Lords.

The number of Actions in which there were proceedings in the Teind Court during the year was 31, made up as follows: For Augmentation of Stipend 12, for Erection of Parishes Quoad Sacra 13, Petitions to feu Glebes 5, and one other. Twenty-three of these Actions were disposed of, all the applications being granted.

Proceedings were taken in 29 Actions before the Lord Ordinary on Teinds, viz. Localities of Stipend 27, Feuing of Glebes 1, and Valuation of Teinds 1. Fifteen of these Actions were disposed of, all the applications being granted.

SHERIFFS' ORDINARY COURTS.

TABLES XXII. TO XXVIII.

The Sheriffs' Ordinary Court is the chief local Civil Court of each County. The presiding Judge is either the Sheriff or Sheriff-Substitute. There are fifteen Sheriffs, one Sheriff having frequently jurisdiction over two or more Counties, which then constitute a single Sheriffdom. There are fifty Sheriffs-Substitute, and Courts are held in 57 towns, each with a rural district attached. In the Sheriffs' Ordinary Court there is an Appeal from the Sheriff-Substitute to the Sheriff; an Appeal also lies (in cases of higher value than £50 and certain others certified by the Sheriff) from the Sheriff-Substitute or from the Sheriff to the Court of Session.

The Sheriffs' Ordinary Court is competent to the trial of all Actions regarding money, moveables, or heritage to any amount, and of Suspension of Charges for debt not exceeding £50. The Sheriff has no jurisdiction in Actions relating to Divorce, but he can entertain Actions of Aliment, Separation and Aliment, Adherence and Aliment, and for the Custody of Children. Jury Trials for claims under the Employers' Liability Act 1880 are competent only in the Sheriff Court.

The Sheriff is Statutory Arbitrator under the Workmen's Compensation Acts. He also transacts a large amount of Miscellaneous and Administrative business.

A decided decrease is shewn in the business brought before these Courts in the year 1913. This decrease is general in Courts all over Scotland, and applies to every class of business.

A comparison is made below between the figures for 1913, those for the 5 years 1908-12, i.e. after the abolition of the Debts Recovery Court, and those for the period 1903-7, i.e. immediately preceding the passing of the Sheriff Courts (Scotland) Act, 1907.

	Year 1913.	Average 1908-12.	Average 1903-7.
Total Actions	8,280	10,399	8,438
Disposed of by Final Judgment	5,490	6,826	5,487
Carried to Court of Session	43	44	104
Otherwise taken out of Court	1,502	1,856	1,368
Pending at end of year	1,245	1,673	1,479

Of the 5490 Final Judgments 2618 were disposed of by Decree in Absence, and 2872 by Decree in foro. Twenty-four were decided by Sheriff alone, and 5466 by Sheriff-Substitute. Notices of Appeal from decisions of the Sheriff-Substitute to the Sheriff numbered 527. Notices of Appeal to the Court of Session from the Sheriff numbered 53, and from the Sheriff-Substitute 33. The Total Expenses awarded in 3224 cases was £29,053, 16s. 6d., giving an average of £9, 0s. 3d. for each case, as compared with £8, 13s. 9d., the average for the previous year.

Table XXIII. shews the nature of the various Actions disposed of by Final Judgment and allocates them to their respective districts.

The time occupied by the Sheriff and Sheriff-Substitute in giving judgment in actions other than appeals decided in foro is given in Table XXIV. In 2471 cases out of a total of 2872 judgment was delivered within one week of the date of possession of the completed process.

APPEALS FROM SHERIFF-SUBSTITUTE TO SHERIFF.

TABLES XXV. AND XXVI.

The total Appeals to the Sheriff in 488 actions numbered 527. In 395 Appeals the judgment of the Sheriff-Substitute was affirmed, in 79 reversed, and in 53 altered, etc. The time taken by the Sheriff in disposing of these Appeals is given in Table XXV. In 488 cases this period did not exceed 3 weeks. Three fifths of the Appeals related to Personal Debt and Damages, a normal proportion.

CLUBS REGISTERED UNDER THE LICENSING (SCOTLAND) ACT, 1903.

TABLE XXVII.

The number of Clubs Licensed during 1913 was 613, viz. in Counties 158 and in Burghs 455. The average number of Clubs registered in the 5 years ended 1912 was 642.

MISCELLANEOUS AND ADMINISTRATIVE BUSINESS.

The enormous increase in business noticed in the year 1912 due to applications under the Dogs' Acts and developments under the Workmen's Compensation Acts 1897 and 1906 has not been maintained. The total number of applications for 1913 was 85,025 as against 86,930 in 1912. Whilst there is a decrease of 3600 applications under the Dogs' Acts this year, there is an increase of 1040 under the Workmen's Compensation Acts. There are other variations of a minor character comparing the year 1913 with 1912. The increases are in Landholders Holdings, Lunacy, Poor's Roll and Registration of Births, Marriages, etc., and the decreases are in Sequestrations, Poor Law, and Cruelty to Children.

SHERIFF'S COUNTY AND BURGH REGISTRATION COURTS.

TABLE XXIX.

It is a duty of the Sheriff to hold annually a Registration Court. Thereat he hears and disposes of all claims and objections relating to the Lists of Voters prepared by local Assessors.

For some years there has been a steady increase in the number of Burgh lodger claims sustained, and this year is no exception, as will be seen from the figures given below. It will be further noticed that there is a rise of 50 per cent. in the number of Ordinary Claims sustained in Burghs.

COUNTY ROLL.					BURGH ROLL.
Year.		Ordinary Claims.	Lodger Claims.		Ordinary Claims.	Lodger Claims.
1913	. .	4,160	27,755		2,427	55,695
1912	. .	3,986	24,291		1,619	52,718
Average 1907-11	. .	4,161	23,379		1,114	30,339

The rise in numbers would appear to be due to increased activity on the part of political agents, principally in Lanarkshire, and more especially in Glasgow.

SHERIFF COURT OF CHANCERY.

TABLE XXX.

The Sheriff of Chancery has jurisdiction to serve heirs co-ordinate with that of the Sheriffs of Counties, except where the deceased died furth of Scotland, or where the lands are situated in more Counties than one, in which cases the jurisdiction of the Sheriff of Chancery is exclusive.

The total Petitions before this Court numbered 287, made up as follows: For General Service of Heirs 89; For Special Service 198; 236 were disposed of by final judgment, the whole being granted. The average total number before the Court for the 5 years ended 1912 was 235.

SCOTTISH LAND COURT.

TABLE XXXI.

The Scottish Land Court was constituted under section 3 of the Small Landholders (Scotland) Act 1911. By this Act the Crofters Acts of 1886 and 1887 were extended throughout Scotland and the Crofters Commission superseded by the Land Court, whose duties include the fixing of Fair Rents and Equitable Rents on the application of either landlord or tenant, the granting of resumption of land on applications by proprietors, the fixing of compensation to landholders on renunciation of tenancy or on removal, the issue of grazings regulations, the settlement of march disputes, etc., together with the granting of compulsory orders for the constitution of new small holdings and for the enlargement of existing small holdings on applications at the instance of the Board of Agriculture for Scotland. The decision of the Land Court upon all questions of fact is final, but the Court may state a Special Case on a question of law to either division of the Court of Session.

This Court which was constituted under the Small Landholders (Scotland) Act 1911, is the successor of the Crofters Commission. A new Table, No. XXXI, is given on page 139, shewing the nature and number of cases disposed of.

SHERIFF'S SMALL DEBT COURTS.

TABLES XXXII. AND XXXIII.

The Sheriff's Small Debt Court was established by 7 Wm. IV. and 1 Vict. cap. 41, an Act subsequently amended by 16 & 17 Vict. cap. 80 52 & 53 Vict. cap. 26, and 7 Edw. VII. cap. 51, for the determination, in a summary form, of civil causes, including prosecution for statutory penalties and maritime civil causes, when the debt, demand, or penalty does not exceed £20. The Court is also competent to order delivery of corporeal moveables not exceeding £20 in value. The presiding Judge is either the Sheriff or Sheriff-Substitute, and no Appeal lies from the Sheriff-Substitute to the Sheriff, but an Appeal lies to the High Court of Justiciary on certain limited grounds. Any party may appear by or with a Law Agent, whose fees are allowed only if the Sheriff thinks such appearance was necessary, and the expenses are restricted to a small amount. The sittings of the Court are held at the seats of the Sheriff Court, and also on Circuit at over fifty other towns throughout the country.

The decrease in the number of cases before this Court referred to in former years continues. The total number for the current year is the lowest recorded since the year 1900. The total number of actions before the Court for the current year was 66,332. The decline over the last 5 years is shewn in the following figures:—

87,806	86,048	82,361	76,682	71,876

The cases for 1913 were disposed of as follows: by Decree 50,351; otherwise than by Decree, 12,980; removed from the roll 1432; leaving undisposed of at the end of the year, 1569. There were 291 Reponings on Decrees in absence. In 154 cases judgment was repeated and in 137 altered. The number of remits from the Small Debt Court to the Ordinary Court was 10. Ejections following on Small Debt Court Decrees under 52 & 53 Vict. cap. 26, Section 6, numbered 145 as against 391 in 1912; and Decrees for Summary Ejections 4694 as against 6928.

The total sums claimed in actions disposed of by Decree amounted to £206,120, 11s. 2d. as compared with £227,063 0s. 9d. in 1912. This sum is made up of, sums decerned for £177,167 8s. 9d., and sums disallowed £28,953, 2s. 5d. The average sum decerned for in each case was £3, 13s. 6d. as against £3, 14s. 7d. in 1912. The total expenses awarded during the year amounted to £21,965, 15s. 8d.

JUSTICE OF PEACE SMALL DEBT COURTS.

TABLES XXXIV. AND XXXV.

By 39 & 40 Geo. III. cap. 46, a summary civil jurisdiction in small debt causes was conferred on Justices of the Peace. This statute was superseded by 6 Geo. IV. cap. 48, which has been amended by 12 & 13 Vict. cap. 34. Any two or more Justices are authorised to hear and determine all causes and complaints brought before them concerning the recovery of debts or the making any demand effectual, provided the debt or demand does not exceed £5. The jurisdiction does not extend to any debt where the title to heritage is in question, nor to any debt or matter arising upon or concerning the validity of wills and contracts of marriage, though the amount at issue is less than £5, nor to gaming debts, nor debts for spirituous liquors. There is no appeal, but "Reduction" (i.e. setting aside) of a Decree is competent in the Court of Session within a year on the ground of malice and oppression on the part of the Justices.

As in the Sheriff Courts the number of actions before this Court shows a decrease on the number for the previous year, but compared with the average number for the 5 years ended 1912, it is about normal; year 1913, 26,431; average 1908-12, 26,414. Decree was granted in 24,539 cases; 1410 were otherwise disposed of, 404 were removed from the Roll, leaving 78 undisposed of at the end of the year. The total amount claimed in the actions disposed of by Decree was £35,163 12s. 5d., made up of sums decerned for £34,093, 15s. 6d. and sums disallowed £1069, 16s. 11d. The average sum decerned for in each case was £1, 8s. 2d. as compared with £1, 7s. in 1912. The total expenses awarded during the year was £4036, 2s. 9d., and the total fees received £2480, 17s. 5d.

HIGH COURT OF JUSTICIARY: SHERIFF'S SMALL DEBT COURT APPEALS.

TABLES XXXVI. AND XXXVII.

One appeal was received from the Sheriff Court at Duns, and the decision of the Sheriff was adhered to.

DEAN OF GUILD COURTS.

TABLE XXXVIII.

These Courts are constituted either by special Act of Parliament, or under the powers conferred by the Burgh Police Act of 1892.

By Burgh Police (Scotland) Act 1903, which came into force on 15th May 1904, it was enacted that in any burgh where there is no Dean of Guild Court, the functions of the Dean of Guild Court under the Burgh Police Acts shall be performed by the Town Council, to whom all applications required to be made to the Dean of Guild Court shall be made.

The Court has jurisdiction over questions in regard to the erection, alteration, and demolition of buildings within burghs. No such operations can be legally carried on without warrant of the Court; and in the event of unauthorised operations being carried out, the Procurator-Fiscal of the Dean of Guild Court may interfere and sue for penalties. An Appeal from the Decree of a Dean of Guild Court lies to the Court of Session.

There were 4265 applications before this Court, viz. 1668 for New Buildings, 2284 for alterations, and 313 other applications. These figures are slightly higher than those for 1912. The Court disposed of 4258 applications: viz., by Decree 4168, withdrawn or not proceeded with, 90. Notices of appeal to the Court of Session numbered 2.

LICENSING COURTS.

TABLES XXXIX. to XLI.

The granting and renewing of certificates to enable retailers of excisable liquors to obtain the necessary Excise licenses from the Board of Inland Revenue is committed to Courts constituted under the provisions of the Licensing (Scotland) Act 1903, which came into force on 1st January 1904. These Courts are constituted as follows:—

(1) For each burgh being a county of a city, and for each Royal, Parliamentary, or Police Burgh containing 7000 inhabitants or upwards and for each burgh containing 4000 but under 7000 which had power to grant licenses under previous Acts, the Licensing Court consists of the Magistrates of the burgh.

(2) Counties, or where these have been divided, county districts, have separate Courts, constituted one half of Justices of the Peace for the county, and one half of County Councillors, each elected from their own number. The numbers constituting such Courts vary according to population from 8 to 18, each burgh under 4000 inhabitants being deemed to form part of the county or district.

(3) A new Appeal Court is constituted, consisting one-half of Justices of the Peace, and one half of Burgh Magistrates or County Councillors respectively elected under detailed conditions set forth in the Act.

Half-yearly meetings of the Licensing Courts are held in April and October, the licenses granted in April being in force for a year from Whitsunday; those granted in October for six months from Martinmas. The Appeal Court can review the decision of the Licensing Courts on all questions of renewal, but there is no appeal from a decision refusing a new licence. All grants of new licence must, however, be confirmed by the Appeal Court, and are of no force till this is done.

The transfer of certificates to new tenants or occupants may be granted by the Licensing Court held in October, but in the case of death or bankruptcy of the license-holder, two members of the Licensing Court may grant a transfer to continue till the next general half-yearly Licensing Court.

Excisable liquors include Spirits, Wine, Porter, Ale, Beer, Cider, Perry, Mead, Metheglin, and Sweets. Mead and Metheglin are fermented preparations of honey and water flavoured with hops, and Sweets are fermented preparations of fruit and sugar, either alone or mixed with any other material.

The number of certificates applied for was 10,452. The total certificates granted, and where necessary confirmed for the sale of excisable liquors were: For Inns and Hotels 1584, for Public Houses 5175, for Grocers, 3516, and 4 licenses were granted for the sale of table beer only. The average annual rental of Hotels amounted to £131, of Public Houses £72, and of Grocers Premises £44. These are practically identical with the average rentals for 1912.

The number of Special Permissions granted during the year was 6432 as compared with 6649 in the previous year.

ACCOUNTANT OF COURT; BANKRUPTCY RETURNS; SEQUESTRATIONS AND CESSIOS FOR THE YEAR 1912.

TABLE XLII.

I. Sequestrations.

The number of Sequestrations in Bankruptcy awarded during the year 1912 was 214, the average number for the five years ended 1911 was 273. With 3993 pending at the commencement of the year the total number amounted to 4207. The number wound up and disposed of during the year was 241, viz. Recalled, 3; by Final Division and Discharge of Trustee, 186; by Composition and Deed of Arrangement, 11; otherwise wound up 41, leaving undisposed of at the end of the year 3966.

The Estimated value of the gross Estate in 186 Sequestrations concluded by Final Division and Discharge of Trustee was £377,766, the sum actually recovered by the Trustees was £286,589, a deficit of £91,177 on the Estimated value. Expenses of all kinds amounted to £79,146, and Dividends paid to Creditors, both secured and unsecured, to £207,464, shewing an over payment of £21.

In Table C. the 214 Sequestrations awarded during the year are shewn according to Counties.

Table H. gives a comparative view of the Sequestrations wound up by division of funds in the years 1906-12.

II. Cessios.

Part II. of the Bankruptcy Tables deals with Cessios where the Trustee nominated extracted decree of his appointment.

The total number of Cessios reported to the Accountant in Bankruptcy during the year was 125, of which 97 were wound up thus:

By Trustees discharge after dividend, 60; by Trustees discharge without dividend, 31; otherwise closed, 6. The gross receipts in the 60 cases wound up by discharge of Trustee after dividend amounted to £7478. Of that sum Creditors received £4353, and the balance of £3125 was paid in expenses and charges.

JUDICIAL FACTORIES FOR THE YEAR 1912.

TABLE XLIII.

The information given relates to all the estates under the Audit and Supervision of the Accountant of Court during the year 1912.

There were 1924 Factories current at the commencement of the year and 315 new appointments were made during the year, making a total of 2239; of these 315 Factories were wound up or recalled, leaving 1924 in force at the end of the year.

The total revenue dealt with amounted to £508,390, and the total expenditure to £397,242.

COMMISSARY OFFICES.

TABLE XLIV.

The Sheriff and Sheriffs-Substitute in each County are now the judges whose province it is to deal with the transfer of moveable property from the dead to the executors. These executors are either nominate (when named by the deceased in his will) or dative (when appointed by the Commissary). The Commissary Court is now absorbed in the Sheriff Court, and the Sheriff-Clerk performs the duties of the former Commissary Clerks, except in the case of Edinburgh, where a separate Commissary Clerk still exists. The records of Commissary proceedings in the Sheriff Court are still kept distinct from those of the Ordinary Sheriff Court, and consist of the appointment of Executors-dative, recording Inventories of Personal Estate, with relative testamentary writings, and granting Confirmations (corresponding generally to Probate and Letters of Administration in England). The Commissariat of Edinburgh deals with a greater amount of Estate than the others, as Confirmation of the Personal Estates of all persons dying domiciled out of Scotland can only be obtained there; and it is only there that Probates and Letters of Administration granted in England or Ireland or the Colonies can be sealed.

The number of Inventories recorded during the year 1913, and the amount of Estate therein, were:—

Recorded elsewhere in Scotland	8241	23,363,179	6	6

The number of Confirmations and the amounts confirmed stood thus:—

	No.	Ordinary Estates.	No.	Under Small Estates Acts.
Commissariat of Edinburgh	1276	£6,899,996 18 2	331	£54,349 10 1
Other Commissary Offices	3858	21,289,017 7 8	4115	772,298 16 10

Petitions for Decrees-dative numbered 1219, and other Petitions 230.

TABLE XLV.

The General Register of Sasines contains entries of all conveyances of, securities over, and other writs affecting lands and houses and heritable property generally throughout Scotland, except within most of the Royal Burghs. In most of these there is a separate Register containing entries as to heritable property within the burgh. The purpose of registration is to make public the writ recorded; and, generally speaking, registration is necessary to give a writ affecting lands or houses full effect.

The entries in the Presentment Book of the General Register of Sasines numbered 34,064. The average for the 5 years ended 1912 was 37,493.

The entries in the Burgh Register of Sasines numbered 4296, as against 4711, the average number for the preceding 5 years.

REGISTERS OF ENGLISH AND IRISH JUDGMENTS.

TABLES XLVI. AND XLVII.

This record was established by 31 & 32 Vict. cap. 54, and furnishes an expeditious mode of making judgments of the Supreme Courts of England and Ireland effectual in Scotland. By the Inferior Courts Judgments Extension Act 1882, judgments of Inferior Courts in England and Ireland may similarly be made effectual in Scotland.

There were 27 Certificates entered in the Register during the year, of which 26 were from England and 1 from Ireland.

Under the Inferior Courts Judgments Extension Act 1882, 11 certificates were entered, all of which were from England.

GENERAL AND COUNTY REGISTERS OF DEEDS.

TABLES XLVIII. AND XLIX.

In these records Deeds may be recorded either for preservation or for execution. In both cases the Deeds remain in the record, and "extracts" (certified office copies) are returned to the parties, which have the same effect as the originals, unless forgery be alleged. Registration for preservation merely secures the safe custody of the Deed. On the other hand, an Extract of a Deed registered for execution is equivalent to a Decree of Court, and contains warrant of execution, in the same way as if a Decree of Court had been pronounced enforcing the Deed.

In the General Register of Deeds kept at Edinburgh 7593 Deeds were extracted, viz. 7231 Original Writs and 362 Extracts of Writs previously recorded, compared with 7057 and 357, the averages for the preceding 5 years respectively. The County Registers shew a total of 1125 against 1081, the average for the 5 years ended 1912.

REGISTERS OF PROTESTS ON BILLS AND PROMISSORY NOTES.

TABLES L. AND LI.

In Scotland summary diligence may follow on a Bill or Promissory Note being protested before a Notary Public, and the protest registered in the Books of Council and Session or in the books of a Sheriff Court. An extract from these Registers is equivalent to a Decree of Court, and execution may pass without any further judicial proceedings.

In the General Register kept at Edinburgh 64 protests for non-payment of Bills and Promissory Notes were recorded, and the total sums protested for amounted to £6943, 0s. 6d. The total number of persons protested against was 98. The entries in the County Registers were:—Total number of Protests 594; total number of persons protested against 707. The total sums protested for amounted to £24,238, 10s. 9d.

OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF THE COURT OF SESSION.

TABLE LII.

The Auditor of the Court of Session is an officer appointed under I. & II. George IV. cap. 38, to whom either of the Divisions or any Lord Ordinary may remit for taxation the costs of a suit in which expenses are found due. His office corresponds generally, it is understood, with that of a Taxing Master of the High Court of Justice in England.

The number of Judicial Accounts lodged during the year was 975. The number for 1912 was 1173. The Accounts as lodged amounted to £97,321, 9s. 6d. This sum was reduced by taxation to £85,398, 9s. 4d.

OFFICE OF THE PRINCIPAL EXTRACTOR OF THE COURT OF SESSION.

TABLE LIII.

The principal Extractor of the Court of Session is the officer by whom the Extracts of Decrees and Acts of the Court are prepared and authenticated, except in regard to Decrees and Acts of the Bill Chamber and Teind Court, which are extracted by the clerks of these Courts. By the Extract is meant the warrant granted to the successful party, on which execution of the Decree of the Court may pass.

The Extracts made were of Decrees in Absence 720, and of Decrees in foro 216, making a total of 936.

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR OF CHANCERY.

TABLE LIV.

In this Office are recorded all Decrees of service completing titles, Writs passing the Great and Quarter Seals of Scotland, and various other Writs chiefly of a public nature.

The number of Writs passing through or issuing from this Office during the year was 1095, of which 858 were for Decrees of Service and for completing Title. Deeds minuted for Public Departments numbered 169.

REGISTER OF HORNING.

TABLE LV.

In this registry are recorded "letters of horning," by which debtors were ordained to pay their debts under the penalty of being held as rebels and "put to the horn." The old forms have practically been superseded by simpler modes of execution introduced by statute, but as the old forms are still competent, the registry is still in legal existence, and is indeed occasionally used.

There were 2 entries in the Presentment Book during the year.

TABLE LVI.

An Inhibition is a Writ passing the Signet, whereby the debtor is prevented from alienating or charging with debt his lands or other heritable property to the prejudice of the person using the Inhibition. To be effectual, it must be recorded in this Register. A Sequestration in Bankruptcy having this effect, an entry of such is made in the Register of Inhibitions.

The entries during the year numbered 448, of which 279 were for Mercantile Sequestrations, and 120 for the Recovery of Specified Debts.

REGISTER OF ADJUDICATIONS.

TABLE LVII.

In this record are recorded all Decrees attaching heritage in satisfaction of debt. Sequestrations in Bankruptcy have the effect of adjudication, and are also consequently recorded in this Register.

There were 250 entries in the Presentment Book during the year, of which 241 related to Mercantile Sequestrations. The average numbers for the 5 years ending 1912 were respectively 333 and 326.

FEES, ETC., COLLECTED IN THE EXCHEQUER OFFICE.

TABLES LVIII. AND LIX.

In Tables LVIII. and LIX. are given particulars of the Fees collected in most of the Courts of Civil Jurisdiction in Scotland as well as in Departments of the General Register House in Edinburgh.

HIS MAJESTY'S SECRETARY FOR SCOTLAND.

DEPARTMENT OF PRISONS AND JUDICIAL STATISTICS, .

11 RUTLAND SQUARE,

EDINBURGH, 4th November 1915.

SIR,

We have the honour to submit the Report of the Judicial Statistics of Scotland for the year 1914, the arrangement of which will be found similar to that of the Report for the previous year.

We have the honour to be,

SIR,

Your very obedient Servants,

W. G. SCOTT, Chairman.

JAS. DEVON.

CHRISTOPHER N. JOHNSTON.

W. S. HALDANE.

L. A. VAN DEN BERGH,

Superintendent.

INTRODUCTION TO THE CRIMINAL STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1914.

The total number of persons dealt with in Criminal Courts for Crimes and Offences in the year 1914 was 167,080,* a decrease of 6339, or 3.65 per cent. on the total number for the previous year, which was 173,419.

There is a decrease in the total number of persons proceeded against for Serious Crime (represented by Classes I. to VI.) of 806, and in the total number of persons proceeded against for minor offences (represented by Class VII.) of 5533 persons.

In Serious Crime the most noticeable decreases occur in Cruel and Unnatural Treatment of Children, viz. 617 persons in 1914 against 784 in 1913; Sexual Crimes, 458 persons against 648, and Indecent Exposure, 1096 against 1338.

In Minor Offences the principal decreases occur in the following subheads: Breach of the Peace, 47,533 persons in 1914 against 51,874 in 1913; Police Act offences, 17,186 against 19,187, and Betting, Gaming, &c., 1028 against 2296. There is a slight increase in the number of persons proceeded against for offences against the Intoxicating Liquor Laws, viz., 51,789 persons in 1914 against 50,917 persons in 1913, but this is directly owing to the operation of the Temperance (Scotland) Act 1913, Sec. 13, which came into force in the middle of August 1913. The number proceeded against under this Act in the 5 months to 31st December of that year was 2323, whilst the number proceeded against in the entire year 1914 was 4479. The offence under the Act in question is that of a person in a state of intoxication attempting to enter a public house. Most of the other subheads under the Intoxicating Liquor Laws shew a decrease. The number of Army deserters in 1914 was 1522, as against 429 in 1913, but this is not remarkable considering the enormous number of men who were undergoing military training over the country.

The numbers proceeded against for Housebreaking and Crimes against Property with violence, and Theft and other Crimes against property without violence, shew very little variation, and are in fact almost identical with the total numbers against these crimes for the previous year.

The following eight diagrams illustrate the fluctuations in the number of persons dealt with for the various classes of Crime during the 18 years ended 1914.

PERSONS CONVICTED.

Of the 167,080 persons proceeded against in the year 1914, 120,177 were convicted and were dealt with as shewn in the following Table. Figures for the preceding nine years are also given for purposes of comparison.

No one was sentenced to suffer the extreme penalty of the law during 1914.

There were 83 persons sentenced to Penal Servitude, 1 of whom was a female; 4 males were sentenced to Preventive Detention in addition to their sentences of Penal Servitude: the minimum sentence of Preventive Detention, i.e., 5 years, was passed in 2 cases and 7 years in the other two.

Of the 83 persons sentenced to Penal Servitude, 33 were sentenced to 3 years, 8 to 4 years, 24 to 5 years, 6 to 6 years, 5 to 7 years, and 7 to periods ranging from 10 to 20 years. Compared with previous years the number sentenced to Penal Servitude is low, as will be seen from the following: Average, 5 years, 1907-11 = 130; year 1912 = 98; year 1913 = 85; year 1914 = 83. The Crimes for which Penal Servitude was imposed were—House-breaking, &c., Class II., 31; Theft, &c., Class III., 24; Forgery, &c., 2; Sexual Crimes, 17; Culpable Homicide, 4; Serious Assaults, 4; Attempting to Trade with the Enemy, 1.

Probation of Offenders Act 1907.—The number of persons dealt with in 1914 was 3824, as against 3661, the average for the three years ending 1913. This number is very small. As was pointed out in a previous report, probation properly administered might be a very valuable alternative to the imposition of a fine, especially in cases where the fine cannot be paid and results in imprisonment for the first time. The number of persons sentenced to fine in Summary Courts was 88,388 in the year 1914. It would appear that the provisions of this Act were largely overlooked in sentencing for minor offences, notably in the cases of first offenders. Probation Orders were made in terms of Section 2 in 2281 cases as compared with 2531 in 1913, a decrease of 10 per cent., and the number of these who appeared for sentence during the year after release on Probation Order was 353, of whom 228 were discharged or otherwise disposed of, 99 were imprisoned, 18 were dealt with for fresh offences, and 8 were sent to Reformatory or Industrial Schools.

Two hundred and nineteen persons of those received into prisons were registered as of foreign nationality. Of these 5 only were recommended by Courts for Expulsion under the Aliens Act 1905 during the year.

The number of persons proceeded against after full committal in the year 1914 was 1292. The average number for the 5 years ended 1913 was 1551. Compared with this figure the number for the year 1914 shews a decrease of over 16 per cent. The decrease is general but is most marked in Sexual Crime, for which 146 were proceeded against in 1914 against 197 in the previous year. It should be mentioned, however, that the number of persons dealt with for Malicious Mischief in 1914 was 17 against 2 in the previous year, and for Forgery, &c., 13 as against 6.

The number of persons proceeded against for miscellaneous offences in Class VII. in 1914 was 141,910 against 147,443 in the previous year, a decrease of 5533. The bulk of the Miscellaneous Offences consists of Drunkenness and Breach of the Peace, and the following Table gives the number proceeded against for these offences with the figures for the previous 17 years for comparison.

The Tables relating to Prisons shew that the number of persons received during the year was 43,430, a decrease of 3552 on the number for the previous year. The number of persons received under sentence of Imprisonment was 7419, and the number received in default of payment of fines was 33,735.

In Table IV., we find that 88,388 persons were sentenced to pay fines as compared with 94,045 in 1913. In the year of report 53,268 paid before imprisonment, being just over 60 per cent. of the whole, 8909 paid part fines during imprisonment, say 10 per cent. of the whole. Of the remainder, about 27 per cent. served the full sentence in default. In the coming year, 1915, time will be allowed in terms of the Criminal Justice Administration Act 1914, in which a man may be able to collect the amount of his fine, and it will be of great interest to observe the effect of this provision in enabling persons fined to avoid going to prison, which under former conditions was in many instances inevitable. The sums received for fines paid and pledges forfeited in Summary Courts amounted to £50,947, as against £54,739 in the year 1913.

The total receptions into Borstal Institutions during the year numbered 100, i.e., 93 males and 7 females. Of the 129 males discharged 94 joined the Army at their own request.

The number of persons dealt with in Juvenile Courts was 11,087 as compared with 10,942 in 1913. The principal offences with which they were charged were Theft 3784, Theft by Housebreaking 639, Malicious Mischief 2086, Police Act Offences 1495, Breach of Peace 700, Obstructions and Nuisances under the Road Acts 1054, and others.

The number of juveniles received into Places of Detention provided by the Police Authorities under Sec. 108 of the Children Act 1908 was 562, viz. in Counties 67, and in Burghs 495. In the year 1913 the figures were 77 and 506 respectively.

The total number of youthful offenders committed to Reformatory Schools in the year 1914 was 216, viz. 197 boys and 19 girls, compared with 182 boys and 28 girls in 1913. Of these over two-thirds were committed for Theft and about one-fifth for Housebreaking.

The numbers of children committed to Industrial Schools during the year are as under :—

	Boys.	Girls.
To Industrial Schools,	591	243
To Short Term Industrial School,	251	—
To Day Industrial Schools,	356	257

These numbers may be regarded as normal, compared with the average numbers for the five years preceding. Persons were received into the following Inebriate Reformatories :—

	Male.	Females.
Greenock House of Refuge,	—	11
Seabank Home, Aberdeen,	—	3
State Inebriate Reformatory, Perth,	1	6
Total,	1	20

Of these, 1 male and 7 females were committed on indictment, and the remainder summarily.

At the end of the year there were in confinement in all 7 males and 57 females.

The number of persons received into the Criminal Lunatic Department at Perth during the year was 15, viz. 11 males and 4 females. Of these, 6 males and 2 females were placed at H.M. disposal as unfit for trial; 2 males and 1 female were re-admitted during the year, they having been at large on conditional liberation; 3 males and 1 female were received from prisons, having been certified insane. The total number of criminal lunatics detained in the Criminal Lunatic Department at the 31st December 1914 was 66, viz. 58 males and 8 females.

The Prerogative of Mercy was exercised in 49 cases, of which 35 were males and 14 females. In addition 40 males and 16 females were removed from Prisons under Sheriffs' Warrants granted in terms of Sec. 72 of the Prisons (Scotland) Act 1860, and treated in Public Hospitals. Five males were similarly removed from Polmont Institution and 1 female from the State Inebriate Reformatory at Perth.

The following lists show the relative number per 10,000 of the population of persons proceeded against for Drunkenness and Disorder in the various Counties and Burghs of Scotland in the year 1914, for purposes of comparison.

It should be understood that the same person may recur several times as "a case" if reconvicted within the year.

Further, the number standing against a small Burgh is very much increased in certain cases by persons engaged temporarily in industrial, agricultural or other pursuits from the surrounding districts visiting the Burgh, and incurring convictions for drunkenness at the Police Court. Inverkeithing is an outstanding instance of this: the enormous ratio of one conviction for drunkenness to three persons of the population is here undoubtedly due to the large influx of temporary workers employed at the Naval Base at Rosyth.

Notes to General Returns of Crimes and Offences, &c. (Tables I. to III.)

Table I., &c.

(a) Where similar particulars are shown under the classifications of Crimes and Offences and Counties and Burghs, the Tables giving the figures under the classification of Crimes and Offences are printed first, Counties and Burghs afterwards.

(b.) Column 1.—The titles of crimes and offences are condensed. The fuller titles, and the crimes and offences comprised under each sub-head, will be found on pages 21 to 30. This note also applies to the respective columns in Tables III., IV., V., VI., IX., X., XI., and XII.

(c.) Column 2, "Number of Crimes and Offences made known to Police in 1914"—This column includes all crimes and offences made known to the police during the year, whether committed by the same or different persons, and whether any apprehension took place within the year or not. Offences reported to the police, and subsequently discovered not to have occurred (such as the loss of personal property afterwards found to have been mislaid), are not included.

(d.) If there is a committal or conviction within the year, the table shows the nature of the crime as judicially determined. Failing this, the charge which is named in the petition or warrant on which the prisoner is arrested is taken as determining the crime. If there are no proceedings and no apprehension, the character of the crime is judged by the facts so far as known to the police.

(e.) In columns 4 to 28 the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes and offences. Where, therefore, any person is charged at the same time with several offences, one of these has to be selected for tabulation. The rule followed is to select that offence for which the proceedings were carried to the furthest stage. If there were several convictions, the offence selected is that for which the heaviest punishment was awarded. If the final result of proceedings on two or more charges is the same, the more serious offence appears in the tables.

(f.) All the tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only persons finally disposed of within the year. Where a case is pending at the end of the year (e.g. tried but sentence postponed) it is reserved for inclusion in the following year's tables.

(g.) Column 5 includes all cases disposed of without committal "till liberated in due course of law." Cases reported for the instructions of Crown Counsel are therefore strictly excluded from this column. They appear in column 17 which, on the other hand, is limited to cases where a committal "till liberated in due course of law" has taken place.

(h.) In column 8 are included cases in which, although the prisoner may not have been tried, a simple liberation did not follow, such as naval and military prisoners remitted to their ships or regiments for trial, and juveniles who, having absconded from reformatory or industrial schools and been arrested by the police, were sent back to school without further punishment.

(i.) Columns 16 and 23 include sentences to detention in a reformatory school, sentences to find caution, cases where only an admonition followed on conviction, and column 23 cases dealt with on indictment under the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907.

(j.) Column 21 contains all cases where, after full committal, the accused was not brought up for trial.

(k.) Column 28 includes all cases called for trial where the accused was found insane, either on trial or at the time of committing the offence.

Table II.

(l.) The burghs contained in this Table are those in which Police Courts are held either under the Burgh Police Act, 1892, or under local Police Acts. This note also applies to Tables VI., VII., and VIII.

(m.) Notes (c) to (k) above apply to this Table. Where particular columns are referred to, it will be noticed that the numbering is somewhat different in this Table.

Table III.

(n.) Note (e) above applies to this Table. The figures here are the total apprehensions and citations in each month of the year, without reference to the number disposed of in each month.

Notes to Tables of Summary Proceedings (Tables IV. to XII.).

Table IV.

(a.) Where similar particulars are shown under the classifications of Crimes and Offences and Counties and Burghs, the Tables giving the figures under the classification of Crimes and Offences are printed first, Counties and Burghs afterwards.

(b.) Tables IV., VI., and VII. include cases disposed of without being brought before a Court, such as liberations by the police on account of insufficient evidence, &c.

(c.) The list of crimes and offences is similar to that in Table I. (see note (b) on page 30). This applies also to Tables V., VI., IX., X., XI., and XII.

(d.) The Table shows the number of persons proceeded against, not the number of offences. Where, therefore, any person is prosecuted at the same time for several offences, one offence has to be selected for tabulation, and the rules followed are the same as in the foregoing tables (see note (e) page 30).

(e.) As in Table I., the titles of the offences are condensed. For the offences under each head see pages 21 to 30.

(f.) The Tables are for the calendar year ending 31st December, and include only persons finally disposed of within the year. Cases not entirely disposed of at the end of the year are held over for the following year's tables.

(g.) From Tables IV. to X. are excluded cases where the accused has been fully committed till liberated in due course of law although afterwards ordered by Crown Counsel to be disposed of by the Sheriff summarily. Such cases are included in Part III. of these statistics.

(h.) Column 2.—The numbers here agree with those of column 5 of Table I.

(i.) Columns 11, 12 and 13 include persons dealt with under the Probation of Offenders Act, 1907.

(j.) Column 13 includes persons placed under a bond with conditions as to supervision.

(k.) Column 14 includes only those committals to industrial schools where an offence is charged—i.e. committals under section 58 (2) and (3) of the Children Act, 1908. Committals to industrial schools, where the proceedings are not criminal, appear in Table XXXIV.

(l.) Column 17 does not include terms of imprisonment in default of paying fines or of finding sureties.

(m.) Column 19 includes all cases where a fine is imposed, whether it is paid or not. The number of persons committed to prison in default of paying fines is given in Table XXI.

(n.) Column 20 contains cases of persons ordered to be detained in Inebriate Reformatories under the Inebriates' Acts, 1879 to 1898, and Licensing (Scotland) Act, 1903.

(o.) Column 21 contains all cases of persons sentenced to Reformatory School detention, whether they are actually admitted to a Reformatory or not. Details as to cases actually received into Reformatories are given in Table XXX.

(p.) Column 23 includes all cases where the accused is ordered to find caution, whether with or without sureties.

(q.) Columns 26 to 31 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a person convicted of assault is sentenced to be imprisoned and is recommended for expulsion under the Aliens Act, 1905, the imprisonment appears in column 17, the recommendation for expulsion in column 31.

(r.) Column 32 contains those cases in column 16 in which the accused was convicted in absence.

Table V.

(s.) Table V. gives the particulars of the sentences of imprisonment and fines imposed—shown in Table IV., cols. 17 and 19.

(t.) Column 22 includes all fines paid within the year, whether imposed within the year or in the previous year.

(u.) Column 23 contains the amount of all pledges forfeited during the year, whether received within the year or not.

Table VI.

Table VII.

Table VIII.

(y.) Table VIII. gives the particulars of sentences of imprisonment, and of fines imposed on persons—shown in Table VII., cols. 18 and 20.

Table IX.

(z.) Children who have not completed their twelfth year are regarded as under 12, and are entered in column 3. Column 4 includes all persons who have completed 12 years, but not 14 years, and similarly with the other columns.

Table XI.

PART III.

PROCEEDINGS AFTER FULL COMMITTAL.

AND

SHERIFF COURTS (AFTER FULL COMMITTAL).

Table XIII.

(a.) From the list of crimes and offences in column 1, the detailed offences in Class VII. in Parts I. and II. are excluded, as these are chiefly disposed of before Summary Courts. Persons reported for any such offences are included under Sub-head 56.

(b.) In this Table the number of persons proceeded against is given, not the number of crimes or charges. A person charged at the same time with several offences appears as one person only. In selecting the offence for tabulation the same principle is followed as in the preceding Tables—the charge resulting in conviction has preference to the others; subject to this, the most serious charge is selected. If there are two or more convictions, that for which the heaviest sentence is inflicted is regarded as the most serious. This also applies to Tables XIV. to XIX.

(c.) As in the preceding Tables, Tables XIII. to XIX. include only cases disposed of within the year. Cases pending at the end of the year are reserved for inclusion in the following year's Tables.

(d.) Where a person is prosecuted for one offence and convicted of another (e.g. committed for murder and convicted of culpable homicide) the case appears only under the offence of which he was convicted.

(e.) In Tables XIII. to XIX. are included cases where the accused has been fully committed till liberated in due course of law, although afterwards ordered by Crown Counsel to be disposed of by the Sheriff summarily. Such cases are therefore excluded from Part II. of these statistics.

(f.) Column 2.—The numbers here correspond with those in column 17 of Table I.

(g.) Column 10 does not include sentences of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, or in default of finding sureties.

(h.) Column 13 includes all cases where payment of a fine is imposed as the sentence or part of the sentence, whether the fine is actually paid or not.

(i.) Column 14 includes cases ordered to be detained in a State Inebriate Reformatory under the Inebriates Acts, 1879-1898.

(j.) Column 17 includes cases where caution is required, whether with or without sureties, and, if sureties are required, whether they are found or not.

(k.) Columns 18 and 19 include persons released under Probation of Offenders Act 1907: column 18 on bond promising good behaviour, and column 19 on bond with conditions as to supervision.

(l.) Columns 27 to 31 are for those cases where more than one punishment is imposed for the same offence. Thus, if a person convicted of theft is sentenced to be imprisoned and ordered to find caution, the imprisonment appears in column 10, the caution in column 30.

Table XIV.

Table XV.

(n.) The period is calculated in all cases from the date on which the accused is committed till liberated in due course of law. In the case of persons who plead guilty at a pleading diet, the period ends on that day; where a plea of guilty is not tendered at a pleading diet, the period ends on the day of trial. Portions of a week are ignored.

Table XVI.

(o.) The counties in this Table, as regards areas and boundaries, are the geographical counties, including Burghs and Police Burghs, as well as the landward areas administered by the County Councils, except in the cases of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Dundee, and Aberdeen, which, being counties of cities, are shown separately. The numbers relative to these four cities are excluded from the counties in which they are geographically situated.

Table XVII.

(p.) Although a case may have been disposed of beyond the county in which the offence was committed, the entry is retained against that county.

(q.) The headings of columns 2 to 26, inclusive, are similar to the headings of columns 2 to 26 of Table XIII.

(r.) Where a prisoner has pleaded guilty in a Sheriff Court, and is remitted (under section 31 of the Criminal Procedure (Scotland) Act, 1887) to the High Court of Justiciary for sentence, the case does not appear in the Sheriff Court figures, but in the statistics of the High Court.

Table XVIII.

(s.) Children who have not completed their twelfth year are regarded as under 12, and are entered in column 3. Column 4 includes all persons who have completed 12 years, but have not completed 14 years, and similarly with the other columns.

TABLE XIII.—HIGH COURT OF JUSTICIARY and SHERIFF COURTS (after full Committal).—Number of Persons proceeded against, Nature of Crimes, &c., and Results of Proceedings.

See notes (a) to (l) page 70.

[illegible]

* The two cases marked were not placed at H.M. disposal but were disposed of under the Lunacy (Scotland) Act, 1862, section 15.

† One female was sent to the Church of Scotland Home, Haddington.

Notes to Prison Tables (Tables XX. to XXVIII).

Table XX.

(a.) This Table deals with the total number of prisoners received into and released or removed from prisons in 1914. They appear according to the prisons of last detention, i.e. the prisons from which they were released or removed, or in which they were confined at 31st December 1914.

(b.) Columns 6 and 30, "Civil Prisoners," include prisoners,—

1. For debts and taxes due to the Crown, not being fines or penalties inflicted on conviction of offences, and for rates and assessments lawfully imposed or to be imposed ;
2. On meditatione fugæ warrants ;
3. Ad factum præstandum ;
4. Under the Employers and Workmen Act, 1875 ; and
5. Until they find caution under Writs of Lawburrows.

Tables XXI. to XXVII.

(c.) In these Tables the total number of convicted prisoners received during the year is dealt with. The total entry of each of these Tables therefore agrees with the total of columns 2 and 3 of Table XX.

Table XXII.

(d.) Consecutive sentences appearing on one warrant, and concurrent sentences appearing on one or more warrants, received with a prisoner, are respectively entered as representing one person. Consecutive sentences on one warrant are entered as one sentence equal to their united lengths. Concurrent sentences are entered as one sentence when equal, and when unequal, the longest only is entered. Consecutive sentences appearing on two or more warrants are entered as representing separate and distinct persons according to the number of warrants received with the prisoner.

(e.) Cases in which Preventive Detention is imposed in addition to the sentences of penal servitude shown in column 3 are given in column 14.

(f.) Cases of revocation or forfeiture of licence in which a remanet is to be served in addition to new sentences of penal servitude or imprisonment, are shown in column 15 according to length of remanet. The penal servitude or imprisonment sentence is shown separately either in column 3 or 5.

NOTES TO TABLE.

Col. 1.—REMISSION of Detention in a Reformatory applies only to cases where the whole sentence to a Reformatory has been remitted. Ordinary discharges from Reformatory Schools are given in Table XXXI.

“REMANET.”—When a convict is released on licence he is liable, if again convicted, or if his licence is revoked, to undergo a term of penal servitude equal to the portion of his original sentence unexpired at the time of his release. This is known as a “Remanet.”

Col. 3.—Includes pardons or remissions on account of fresh evidence establishing prisoner's innocence, or showing reasonable doubt as to guilt, or altering the view taken as to the nature or gravity of the offence.

Col. 5.—In addition to the above cases discharged on “medical grounds,” e.g., persons whose lives were endangered by imprisonment, women near their confinement who, if longer detained, would not have been fit for discharge at the expiration of their sentence, persons discharged for removal to hospitals for infectious diseases, &c., 40 males and 16 females were similarly removed from prisons, 5 males from Borstal Institutions and 1 female from the State Inebriate Reformatory, Perth, under Sheriff's Warrant granted in terms of sec. 72 of the Prisons (Scotland) Act, 1860, on the ground that they were afflicted with a contagious or infectious disease which rendered their removal necessary for the health of the other inmates of the prison, or that they were afflicted with a disease which threatened immediate danger to life and could not be treated in prison, or that from their condition continued confinement would cause death. Where the medical condition of the prisoner formed only a part of the ground for the exercise of the prerogative, the cases are tabulated under other heads.

Col. 7.—Comprises all cases where the mitigation granted does not imply any alteration of the view taken by the Court as to the prisoner's guilt or the nature and gravity of his offence; but where weight is given, with or without a recommendation from the judge or magistrate, to such extenuating circumstances as youth, provocation, mental disturbance, &c.; also cases where remission is granted for reasons not before the Court, or where a short remission enables a prisoner to avail himself of some special opportunity of making a new start in life.

INTRODUCTION

TO THE

CIVIL COURT STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1914.

INTRODUCTION TO THE CIVIL COURT STATISTICS FOR THE YEAR 1914.

THERE is very little calling for special mention in this Introduction. The general decrease in the volume of civil business referred to in the Report for 1913 continues, with the notable exception of the Miscellaneous and Administrative Business before the Sheriff Court, which consists of Statutory Orders and Warrants issued by Sheriffs in proceedings which do not follow the usual routine of the Sheriff Courts. This business has been steadily increasing during the past seven years, and in 1914 the number of applications, etc. was more than four times that for the year 1907.

Business disposed of by the Extra Division appointed by the Lords of Council and Session by Acts of Sederunt is included in the Tables relating to the Inner House of the Court of Session, and this year cases have been sent from the Second Division of the Inner House for the first time.

A Table giving a comparative view of business in the Civil Courts for the last twenty years is given on page 105 following this Introduction. Averages are given therein for each period of five years to facilitate comparison.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

TABLE I.

The Appeals from decisions of the Court of Session before the House of Lords in the year 1914 were 25, of which 8 were pending at the commencement of the year and 17 were presented during the year. The number disposed of was 17, viz. 15 by Judgment and 2 were withdrawn or dismissed, leaving 8 pending at the end of the year. Of the 15 Appeals disposed of by Judgment, 2 were Cross Appeals arising out of one original action of Damages and one was from the Valuation Appeal Court. On Appeal to the House of Lords, the decision of the Court of Session was affirmed in 7 cases and reversed in 6. The decision of the Valuation Appeal Court was reversed.

THE COURT OF SESSION.

OUTER HOUSE.

TABLES II. to VII.

The total number of Actions before the Court was 2181. The average number for the preceding five years was 2319, whilst the number for the year 1913 was 2197. There were disposed of by Final Judgment 1366, otherwise taken out of Court 152, while 663 were left pending at the end of the year.

Table III. gives details of the Actions disposed of by Final Judgment according to subject matter.

The following are the most prominent, and the average for the preceding five years is given for comparison :—

	Year 1914.	Average 5 years ended 1913.
Actions relating to Personal Debt	194	230
Marriage, Divorce and Separation	379	260
Damages	200	208

The most noticeable difference is the increase in Marriage, Divorce and Separation. Of the total 379, Actions for Divorce numbered 362, as shewn in Table VI.

Table IV. provides an analysis of the Miscellaneous and Administrative Business disposed of by the Judges of the Outer House, viz. 398 Petitions. It is chiefly composed of Petitions in regard to Factors, Curators, etc., which numbered 246, and Petitions under Trusts Acts, which numbered 71.

Table V. shews that of the 1366 Actions disposed of by Final Judgment there were 895 in which no evidence was led in Court, 439 in which proof was taken, and 32 in which there was trial by Jury.

INNER HOUSE.

TABLES VIII. to XV.

The total number of Actions before the Inner House was 961, viz. :—

Before the First Division	472.
„ „ Second Division	424
„ „ Extra Division (including First and Second Division Cases)	65

There was an increase of 66 on the total number for the year 1913, but only 39 on the average number for the 5 years ending 1913. Of the whole, 500 were disposed of by Final Judgment, 203 were otherwise taken out of Court, whilst 258 were left pending at the end of the year.

Of the Actions disposed of by Final Judgment 83 were brought from the Outer House, viz. 8 by notice for Trial by Jury and 75 by Reclaiming Note, 80 from Sheriff Courts, 4 were Special Cases stated by the Land Court, whilst 333 were initiated in the Inner House. These Actions are analysed in Table IX. as regards result of proceedings and in Table XI. as regards disposal.

Table X. gives a detailed account of the Miscellaneous and Administrative Business disposed of by the Inner House. There were 291 Petitions, 141 of which were for benefit of admission to the Poor's Roll.

Of the 75 Appeals brought into the Inner House by Reclaiming Note from the Outer House, the Judgment of the Lord Ordinary was adhered to in 46 cases, reversed in 28 and altered in 1.

The total number of Appeals from the Sheriff Court was 78. The decision of the Sheriff was adhered to in 40 Appeals, reversed in 35 and altered in 3.

EXTRA DIVISION.

For the first time Actions have been sent to the Extra Division from the Second Division, in addition to those sent from the First Division.

The Extra Division disposed of 65 Actions, viz. by Final Judgment 52, the remaining 13 actions being taken out of Court otherwise than by Final Judgment. Of the whole, 50 were from the First Division and 15 from the Second Division. Hitherto the greatest number of actions before the Extra Division in any one year was 30.

BILL CHAMBER OF THE COURT OF SESSION.

TABLE XIX.

In the Report for 1913 the number of applications before the Court was 147, stated to be the lowest number yet recorded. In the year 1914 this number was increased to 155.

The number of Writs presented to and disposed of by the Clerk of the Bills within the year was 309.

SHERIFFS' ORDINARY COURTS.

TABLES XXII. to XXVIII.

The steady decrease which is observable in the number of Actions before these Courts dating from 1908 still continues. The decrease is general in Courts all over Scotland, and applies to every class of business.

The following figures illustrate the decreases of the current year compared with the figures for 1913:—

	1914.	1913.
Total Actions	7693	8280
Disposed of by Final Judgment	5120	5490
Carried to Court of Session	51	43
Otherwise taken out of Court	1266	1502
Pending at end of year	1256	1245

Of the 5120 Actions decided by Final Judgment, 2404 were disposed of by Decree in Absence, and 2716 by Decree in foro. The Sheriffs alone disposed of 29 Actions, and the Sheriffs-Substitute 5091. Notices of Appeal from decisions of the Sheriff-Substitute to the Sheriff numbered 503, notices to the Court of Session from the Sheriff 43, and from the Sheriff-Substitute 33.

The Total Expenses awarded and decerned for in 3072 cases was £29,492, 15s. 9d., giving an average of £9, 12s. per case. The average for 1913 was £9, 0s. 3d.

Of the 2716 Judgments in foro, 2673 were delivered within four weeks of the possession of the completed process.

APPEALS FROM SHERIFF-SUBSTITUTE TO SHERIFF.

The total Appeals to the Sheriff numbered 506 in 467 Actions. Judgment of the Sheriff-Substitute was affirmed in 385 Appeals, reversed in 63, and altered or otherwise disposed of in 58. The nature of these Actions is given in Table XXVI. They relate largely to Personal Debt and Damages.

CLUBS REGISTERED UNDER THE LICENSING (SCOTLAND) ACTS, 1903 to 1913.

TABLE XXVII.

The number of Clubs registered during 1914 was 602 as against 613 in 1913. In Counties there were 161 and in Burghs 441. Amongst the Burghs, Edinburgh stands highest with 101, then follow Glasgow with 65, Aberdeen with 21, and Dundee with 15.

MISCELLANEOUS AND ADMINISTRATIVE BUSINESS.

The number of applications dealt with in 1914 amounted to the huge total of 90,864, the highest on record. The increase has been steady over the past 7 years, the number for 1907 being 21,262. This enormous increase is owing to applications under the Dogs Acts, the Workmen's Compensation Act 1906, and latterly under the Courts Emergency Powers Act 1914; the applications under the last-named numbered 7021 in the current year.

SHERIFFS' COUNTY AND BURGH REGISTRATION COURTS.

TABLE XXIX.

The increase in the number of claims sustained continues, as will be seen from the figures given below.

Year.	COUNTY ROLL.		BURGH ROLL.
	Ordinary Claims.	Lodger Claims.	Ordinary Claims.	Lodger Claims.
1914	3994	30,526	4321	59,534

SHERIFFS' SMALL DEBT COURTS.

TABLES XXXII. AND XXXIII.

The decrease in the number of cases before these Courts referred to in former years continues, only in a more marked degree. The total number for 1914 was 56,903 against 66,332 in 1913—a fall of 9429 Actions in one year.

The Actions disposed of in 1914 were as follows: by Decree 42,322; otherwise than by Decree 11,824; removed from the roll 1254; leaving undisposed of at the end of the year 1503. There were 309 Reponings on Decrees in absence. In 156 cases judgment was repeated and in 153 altered. The number of remits from the Small Debt Court to the Ordinary Court was 20. Ejections following on Small Debt Court Decrees under 52 & 53 Vict. cap. 26, Section 6, numbered 113 as against 145 in 1913; and Decrees for Summary Ejections 4811 as against 4694.

The total sums claimed in Actions disposed of by Decree amounted to £180,577, 8s. as compared with £206,120, 11s. 2d. in 1913. This sum is made up of sums decerned for £153,726 18s. 3d., and sums disallowed £26,850, 9s. 9d. The average sum decerned for in each case was £3, 16s. as against £3, 13s. 6d. in 1913. The total expenses awarded during the year amounted to £18,567, 2s. 5d.

JUSTICE OF PEACE SMALL DEBT COURTS.

TABLES XXXIV. AND XXXV.

The number of Actions before these Courts again shews a decrease as compared with the number for the previous year. The numbers are, 1914, 23,531 and 1913, 26,431—a difference of 2900. Decree was granted in 21,905 cases; 1163 were otherwise disposed of, 394 were removed from the Roll, leaving 69 pending at the end of the year. The total amount claimed in the Actions disposed of by Decree was £31,071, 11s., made up of sums decerned for £30,260, 9s. 8d. and sums disallowed £811, 1s. 4d. The average sum decerned for in each case was £1, 8s. as compared with £1, 8s. 2d. in 1913. The total expenses awarded during the year amounted to £3399, 17s. 10d., and the total fees received to £2260, 1s. 10d.

DEAN OF GUILD COURTS.

TABLE XXXVIII.

There were 3774 applications before these Courts, viz. for New Buildings, 1515, for alterations, 1960, the other applications numbered 299. There has been a steady decline for years in the number of applications before these Courts, as is shewn by the fact that the average for the 5 years ended 1909 was 4982, whilst the average for the 5 years ended 1914 is 4156, a decrease of over 800, three-fourths of which is in applications for New Buildings. The decline in building appears to be general all over Scotland.

LICENSING COURTS.

TABLES XXXIX. TO XLI.

The number of certificates applied for was 10,316. The total certificates granted, and where necessary confirmed, for the sale of exciseable liquors were: For Inns and Hotels 1578, for Public Houses 5130, for Grocers 3467, and 2 licenses were granted for the sale of table beer only. The average annual rental of Hotels amounted to £131, of Public House to £72, and of Grocers' Premises to £45. The last has increased £1, the other two remain unchanged from the year 1913.

The number of Special Permissions granted during the year was 4561, as compared with 6432 in the previous year. The average number for the 3 years ended 1912 was 6646. No doubt this falling off is directly attributable to the influence of the war on the public.

There has been a slight but persistent decrease in the number of licenses granted in Scotland extending over many years, which will be seen from the following comparative figures.

Year.	Hotels.	Public Houses.	Grocers.
1914,	1578	5130	3467
5 years ended
1913,	1614	5259	3633

TABLE XLII.

I. Sequestrations.

The number of Sequestrations in Bankruptcy awarded during the year 1913 was 179; the average number for the five years ended 1912 was 260. The number pending at the commencement of the year was 3966 and 2 were re-opened during the year. There were wound up and disposed of during the year 225, leaving undisposed of at the end of the year 3922.

The estimated value of the gross Estate in 171 Sequestrations concluded by Final Division and Discharge of Trustee was £241,909, the sum actually recovered by the Trustees was £196,555. Expenses of all kinds amounted to £61,508, and Dividends paid to Creditors, both secured and unsecured, to £134,650.

II. Cessios.

The total number of Cessios reported to the Accountant in Bankruptcy during the year was 112. The number wound up amounted to 95 as follows:

By Trustees discharge after dividend, 53; by Trustees discharge without dividend, 40; otherwise closed, 2. The gross receipts in the 53 cases wound up by the discharge of Trustee after dividend amounted to £7202. Of that sum Creditors received £4369, expenses and charges amounted to £2828, leaving a balance of £5, being surplus paid to Bankrupts.
